

OUR GRADUATES.

Three of our most exemplary pupils, Elsie Ford, Franklin Yates and Ethlene Yatea, last week passed the required number of subjects to entitle them to their diplomas. We regret very much to have the time come when they must leave us. They have always been kind, courteous, and studious. We shall watch with much pleasure their future advancement, and shall hope that they may always look back to their course in Morris Union School as one of the pleasant and profitable periods of their life. Ethlene stays with us during the spring term. Elsie teaches the Dimock Hollow school. And Franklin starts, in about a week, for the Boston conservatory of music, where he contemplates taking a musical course. May the bright hopes which he entertains be fully realized.
