OBITUARY.

Roslyn Stafford died at the home of his wife's people in Herkimer Tuesday, June 20, 1911, aged 28 years. This is a peculiarly sad providence. He was the oldest son of James Stafford of New Lisbon. He was a brilliant young man and had rapidly made his way as an expert in the Pathological Department of the U. S. Government at Washington and was third from the head of his department. He was a graduate of the Morris High School, class of 1901, then of Cornell. He became attached to the government immediately after his graduation from Cornell and was at once given important work to do, and promotion has come to him every year. His health failed him this spring. He sought medical advice, submitted to an operation for stomach trouble. He came from Washington to Herkimer and after a short rest was expecting to come to his old home in the Butternut Valley; but at Herkimer he suffered a total collapse and died suddenly. He is survived by his young wife and an infant child. To them and his bereaved family here we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

Morris 3; Edmeston 0.
New Berlin 10; Morris 9.
Morris 5; Gilbertville 3.
Morris 8; New Berlin 7.

During the season the Morris team made 105 runs, to the total of 64 by their opponents. Of the 14 games, one ran eleven innings, one ten innings and one five innings.

Last Sunday we drove to Gilbertville and called on our friend and brother, Charles Ellis, who has been very seriously ill the past month. We found him feeling a little better than he had been, with his indomitable will of cheerfulness ever uppermost, and came away in hope that he is making a winning fight for returned health. He says his friends are a awful good to him. He has lots of them, all wishing him a speedy return to health.

Mrs. Frank Cook of Oneonta ran over Jacob Miller on the East End road on Monday afternoon, killing him almost instantly. Miller was a farm hand from Oneonta, 59 years old and married. He stood beside a cartage which Mrs. Cook was passing, and just as she got opposite she stepped backward directly in front of her machine, which he had not observed.

London's big show came off last week. A great demonstration, more fitted for the middle ages than for to-day. A dinner was served on $15,000,000 worth of gold plate; diamonds of fabulous worth were on exhibition, "purple and fine linen," "pomp and ceremony," 45,000 soldiers, vast crowds of people and rich Americans filled the city, the streets, the public buildings. One American woman, Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, dined six kings at one sitting. Her husband receives a salary of $17,500 while their yearly bill for fowers is $20,000. The whole affair was a display of pomp and wealth, thought a necessity in the past, but now viewed by many as a farce.

THE BARNUM OF THEM ALL.

R. J. Spickerman presents his superb Moving Pictures in the Parish House hall, Morris, this Wednesday evening. Absolutely flickerless. Positively everything new. Nothing tiresome. The steady light obviates the trouble experienced in the old style machines and the pictures are so clear and brilliant that everyone is delighted. Six hundred feet of the latest and best moving pictures. Our moving pictures of the great wild west are beyond comparison. A 50 cent show for 10 and 20 cents.—Adn.

NOTICE—The picnic for the Eastern Star of Oneonta, Edmeston and Jewett Chapters will be held at Silver Lake June 30th, instead of July 1st.

GRADUATING NIGHT.

The exercises connected with the closing week of our school and known as Commencement, were held at the Parish House last Wednesday evening. They were very creditable, interesting and were attended by a large audience. The hall was prettily trimmed with the class colors, red and white. The musical part of the program was enhanced by an orchestra by the kindness of Aaron Hammond, cornet, and his nephew, Clifford Hammond, of Sharon Springs, violin, a young man of exceptional musical ability. Miss Grafton played the accompaniments and conducted the choruses given by the school choir.

The members of the class are the following:

Madge Daley Polmabee.....South Valley
Vivian Lena Curtis.....Morris
Harriet Grace Moore.....Morris
Catherine Van Rensselaer....." "
Edith Melissa Light....." "
Frank Wing Naylor....." "
Frank Chastman Carpenter....." "
Ralph Gilbert Carick....." "
Agnes Dunbar.....Laurens

With the exception of one number, Miss Carey's essay in the historical contest, the program was made up by the class, and was briefly as follows:

Frank Carpenter, as president of the class, delivered a graceful address thanking the people of Morris for sustaining our excellent school, making possible such occasions as they were enjoying that evening. Miss Harriet Moore read an excellent essay on "Colonial Life in Massachusetts," listened to and heard with great interest by the large audience. Miss Polmabee's oration was finely delivered and the subject matter was good. Her topic was, "Education and Civic Prosperity." Miss Carey's essay was on "The history of Massachusetts," and showed much care and study in its preparation. She is a Junior student of promise to the school. Frank Carpenter's essay was on the "Influence of the Pilgrims in America." It is a great subject, but was interestingly summarized within the confines of a paper well received by his hearers. The Class History was really a literary production, as prepared by Miss Van Rensselaer and the Class Prophecy by Miss Curtis, the prospect of the school, was parallel to it. The originality, freedom from stings in the pleasant hits given classmates, and the generous good-nature of the descriptions given, were all a pleasure indeed to listen to. Miss Light's valedictory was unusually fine and touching.

The president of the Board of Education congratulated the class and presented the diplomas, calling attention to the fact that eight different schools had contributed a share in the training of the present class; but two of its members had been through the Morris school from primary to graduation.

The rector's Scholarship Prize of $20 given by Rev. M. S. Ashton was presented by Mr. Cotter and the recipient was Carl Smith. This is the second time this high honor has come to him. He is in his second year in the High School.

Principal Van Deusen presented the James R. Morris History Prize money as follows, as awarded by Dr. Blodgett of the Oneonta Normal, who judged the essays: Frank Carpenter, first, $25; Harriet Moore, second, $15; Frances Carey, third, $10. The principal then made a few remarks applicable to the closing of the school, and also hinting at desirable plans for the next school year.

THE ALUMNI REUNION.

The reunion this year was an unusually pleasant affair. It was held at the Parish House Thursday evening. There seemed to be more of the older graduates present than for some years, while the more recent members of the Association entered with keener zest into the pleasures of the evening. At the business meeting two members of the class of 1911 were elected as officers:

President—Frank C. Carpenter.
Sec'y & Treas.—Miss Harriet Moore.

At 9 o'clock a large company filled the dining room. The tables were tastefully arranged in more ways than one. The Parish Guild served the banquet, which consisted of a generous menu of dainty good things.

After the gastronomic part of the program had been carefully cared for, E. Carpenter, as toastmaster, turned the attention of the expectant guests to a still more interesting feast, as the following list will show:

Mrs. Edwin H. Hopkins of Brooklyn, class of 1884, and for a number of years as Miss Alida Bruce a teacher in our school, spoke on "Reminiscences."

Miss Florence Lull of New Lisbon drew for us a number of both real and fanciful "Pictures in the Firelight."

Miss Hinman, principal of the school at West Oneonta and a sometime student of our school and teacher here for three years, gave a pleasing and witty preface, after a splendid address on "Earnestness."

Mr. Cotter, the rector's assistant in this parish, spoke very earnestly on "Dangers of Success."

Miss Katherine Mills, at present taking a course in Cornell, brought to us some interesting thoughts about the wonderful provisions Nature as taught us in the study of biological science. Her topic was "Our Inheritance."

Chester Backus, a classmate of the preceding speaker in the Morris school, but now confining most of his activities to law work in Syracuse, while he declined to discuss any of the topics furnished him by the toastmaster, gave a delightful talk along reminiscent lines.

Several of the speakers spoke feelingly of the recent death of a beloved member of the Alumni Association, Roslyn J. Stafford of Washington, class of 1901, whose funeral was held this day.

The banquet closed at 11 o'clock, after which those inclined enjoyed dancing to their heart's desire to music furnished by Francis's Orchestra of Cooperstown.

One Oneonta physician had 23 cases of measles in one week—and there were others.

BASE BALL LEAGUE.

At a meeting of the managers held in Cooperstown on Tuesday of last week a schedule was completed for the base ball season of the Cooperstown-Richfield-Oneonta-Morris summer league which opens July 4th. Morris expects to have in the field a team that will hold its own with its opponents. This series of games will give Otsego county people the most base ball they ever enjoyed in one season. Below we give the July dates arranged for the Morris team:

July 4—Morris at Oneonta.
" 5—Morris at Richfield.
" 8—Morris at Cooperstown.
" 10—Oneonta at Morris.
" 11—Cooperstown at Morris.
" 13—Morris at Richfield.
" 14—Morris at Cooperstown.
" 15—Morris at Oneonta.
" 17—Richfield at Morris.
" 19—Oneonta at Morris.
" 20—Morris at Richfield.
" 21—Morris at Cooperstown.
" 22—Cooperstown at Morris.
" 24—Oneonta at Morris.
" 26—Cooperstown at Morris.
" 27—Morris at Oneonta.
" 28—Morris at Richfield.
" 29—Morris at Cooperstown.
" 31—Richfield at Morris.

The schedule goes on through August and up to September 2d. As the above dates do not take up all the playing time of the team, other games will be scheduled with Stamford, Sidney and other fast teams. It is expected that the Morris team will report here under Coach and Manager Keady of Dartmouth College, the last of this week.

Lovers of clean and properly played base ball can unreservedly give the team a liberal support this year. The local management is assured by Mr. Keady that the team is made up of college boys and good ball players.

The tenth card reunion was at W. A. Card's in Pittsfield June 21st. The company numbered 60. Although the weather was cloudy every face wore a smile and all came to enjoy the day. Tables were spread on the lawn and the bountiful dinner, partaken of. At a business session the officers were elected:

President—Charles Card of New Lisbon.
Secretary—Roy Gilbert of Morris.
Corresponding Secretary—Carrie Patrick.

A letter was read from Lester Card of Ansonia, Conn. The next reunion will be held at Peter Card's in Garrattsville.

The company enjoyed a ride in Horace Chase's automobile. Some sweet new baby faces were there, while some other faces that used to be with us were sadly missed. Vocal and instrumental music added to the full joy of the afternoon, and time for good-by to be said came all too soon.
