TANNER & SON,
 Manufacturers and Dealers in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry,
 Silver Ware & Fancy Goods,
 COOPERSTOWN, N. Y.
 Spectacles in all varieties, including Patent Frames and Diamond Glass.

Three Mile Point House is located on the banks of Otsego Lake, three miles from Cooperstown, and is under the able management of Mr. A. W. Thayer, who, as a "host," has had seven years experience, and consequently must "know how to keep a hotel," as his numerous patrons can testify. Otsego Bass and Trout, and Game Dinners, are served here at all hours of the day. Pleasure parties will find Mr. T. a good man to stop with. See card, page 164.

B. F. Murdock & Bro., proprietors of the Cash and Accommodation Store, at Cooperstown, deal in Dry Goods Groceries, Crockery, Looking Glasses, Carpets, Oil Cloths and everything usually kept in a country store. They are honorable, fair-dealing men, keep a good supply of goods, and are bound not to be undersold. Try them once and you will call again. See card on page 174.

The Schenevus Monitor, J. J. & J. L. Multer, editors and proprietors, is published every Saturday, at Schenevus. It was established in 1864 and is a worthy exponent of Democratic politics. Mr. J. L. Multer is also the publisher of the Schoharie County Democrat, at Richmondville. Both sheets are neatly printed and are worthy of the patronage bestowed upon them. See card on page 148.

James Bowes, Plumber, Steam and Gas Fitter, at Cory's Stone Store, Cooperstown, keeps an excellent assortment of Plumbers', Gas and Steam Fitters' Materials, Wrought Iron, Lead Pipe, and everything usually found in a first-class establishment of this kind. Those of our readers who wish their houses furnished in the best manner, will do well to call on Mr. Bowes, who gives his personal supervision to all work. His card appears on page 184.

INTRODUCTION.

In presenting to the public the "Gazetteer and Business Directory of Otsego County," the publisher desires to return his sincere thanks to all who have so kindly aided in obtaining the information it contains, and without whose aid it would have been impossible to collect it in the brief space of time in which it is essential that all such works should be completed. Especially are our thanks due to the several Editors of the County papers, for the uniform kindness which has been evinced in calling attention to the author's efforts; and to the following persons, viz., Hon. W. W. Campbell, Cherry Valley; Rev. E. H. Saunders, Burlington; Rev. C. Ayer, Morris; Ashley Hotchkin, Schenevus; E. Blakeley and Elisha S. Saunders, Otego; Hon. Samuel S. Edick, County Judge, Cooperstown; and John B. Hooker, Assistant Assessor Internal Revenue, Fly Creek; for essential aid in furnishing material for the work. Many others have kindly volunteered their assistance, to all of whom we return our sincere thanks.

The following works have been consulted in its preparation: French's, Gordon's and Spafford's Gazetteers of the State of New York; Lossing's "Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution;" Campbell's "Annals of Tryon County;" "History of Cooperstown;" Campbell's "Centennial Address," Cherry Valley; and many others.

That errors have occurred in so great a number of names and dates as are here given is probable; and that names have been omitted which should have been inserted is quite certain. We can only say that we have exercised more than ordinary diligence and care in this difficult and complicated feature of book-making. Of such as feel aggrieved in consequence of errors or omissions we beg pardon, and ask the indulgence of the reader in marking such as have been observed in the subsequent reading of the proofs, and which are found in the ERRATA, following the Introduction.

It was designed to give a brief history of all the church organizations in the County, but owing, in some cases, to the negligence of those who alone were able to give the necessary information, and in others, to the inability of any one to do so, we have been obliged to omit many or indefinitely delay the completion of the work.

We would suggest that our patrons observe and become familiar with the explanations at the commencement of the Directory.

The Map of the County was engraved with great care by Messrs. Weed, Parsons & Co., of Albany, and will, it is believed, prove a valuable acquisition to the work.

The ADVERTISERS represent some of the leading business men and firms of this and other counties; and we most cheerfully commend them all to the patronage of those under whose observation these pages may come.

With thanks to our friends generally, we leave our work to secure the favor which earnest endeavor ever wins from a discriminating public.

HAMILTON CHILD.

The Buckeye Mowing and Reaping Machines—When the great U. S. Trial of Mowers and Reapers was held at Syracuse in 1857, this admirable machine, which had just been brought out, surprised everybody by its novelty and many excellencies, and won the highest awards. At that time the valuable patents under which it was built were secured for several States by the enterprising firm which now continues its manufacture, Adriance, Platt & Co. At the second great trial of Mowers and Reapers, made by the N. Y. State Agricultural Society in 1866, the Buckeye again carried off the highest honors, showing that in the years intervening it had not gone backward in the race for superiority. Every new suggestion is thoroughly weighed, improvements only are adopted. The verdict of the people is nearly as unanimous as that of the learned and practical committees who made these awards, for its sales far exceed those of any other machine in the sections supplied by Adriance, Platt & Co. In fact they increase so fast, that the demand is almost always in excess of the supply. The Self-Raking Attachment on the Buckeye Machine has met with a success corresponding to that of the Mower, and has surpassed all others in the perfection of its operation. One great secret of the success of Adriance, Platt & Co., as manufacturers, has been in the conscientious manner in which they have built their machines, and the great durability of the Buckeye machine has been largely due to the excellence of the material used and the mechanical perfection of the workmanship. See advertisement on Map.

Dr. Kingsley, of Rome, justly celebrated for the many cures he has effected of that most distressing disease, Cancer, publishes a notice on page 1. He is prepared to treat all scrofulous diseases, and others of long standing, and assures his patients that they will not be charged a heavy bill and dismissed without receiving any benefit. Persons who cannot conveniently call upon him in person, can address him by letter, and will receive prompt attention. Dr. K. is a graduate, with an experience of over fourteen years in the practice of medicine. Let the afflicted give him a call.

Henry Bayer, Merchant Tailor and dealer in Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, Cooperstown, publishes an appropriately illustrated card on page 190. Those who want a good suit of clothes, made up in fashionable style and in a workmanlike manner, we recommend to call on Mr. Bayer, who will give you fit every time and charge you a reasonable price.

R. Russell & Co., proprietors of the Central Cash Store, at Cooperstown, N. Y., advertise on page 156. Messrs. R. & Co. are too well known to need any commendation from us. They have been established over ten years, command a large trade, and keep a general assortment of Dry Goods, Groceries, and all other goods usually found in a first-class country store, and which they sell at New York prices. Call on them when you go to Cooperstown.

Hinds & Parshall, Butchers and proprietors of Meat Market, Cooperstown, N. Y., keep a good supply of all kinds of Meats, constantly on hand, which they dispose of at such reasonable rates that no one need go hungry. See card on page 164.

Otsego Iron Works, located at Fly Creek, are largely engaged in the manufacture of Steam Engines, Turbine Water Wheels, Circular Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Threshers and Cleaners, Plows, Scrapers, Castings and Machinery in general. The Works cover an area of two acres, and were started in 1812. Mr. Shepherd, the present proprietor, is the successor of Metcalf & Shepherd, and has been connected with the Works since 1869. He gives his personal attention to the business, employs none but good workmen, uses good materials and turns out first-class work. See advertisement on page 143.

Ackerman & Son, Edmeston, keep a good assortment of Lumber, and everything in their line, constantly on hand, and manufacture Doors, Sash, Blinds, and everything necessary to finish a first-class house. They are enterprising, energetic men, and can be depended upon to fulfill whatever they promise. Being Builders themselves, they know just what is wanted for a house, and how to finish it. Give them your patronage if you would have everything in first-class style. See card on page 156.

The Freeman's Journal, published at Cooperstown, by S. M. Shaw, was established in 1808. It is a live family newspaper and enjoys a liberal patronage. Its extensive circulation makes it an excellent advertising medium, a fact which business men should not fail to make note of. See card on page 198.

Geo. W. Borden, Schenectady, dealer in Clocks, Watches and Jewelry, is prepared to furnish his customers with Silver and Plated Ware, Musical Instruments, Fishing Tackle, and a variety of other articles too numerous to mention. If you want a good timekeeper, or the old one repaired, give him a call. See card on page 193.

The Empire Agricultural Works of Minard Harder, located in the village of Cobleskill, Schoharie Co., N. Y., were established in 1859 by Messrs. R. & M. Harder. Like most great enterprises, its beginnings were small and only a small number of machines were sold the first year; but the business has constantly increased until they now give employment to about twenty-five hands and sell about $50,000 worth annually. Mr. Minard Harder, one of the original proprietors, is now the sole owner of these works and is manufacturing some of the best Threshing Machines in the country, as well as other Implements. At the Great National Implement Trial at Auburn, N. Y., in July 1866, a gold medal was awarded to Messrs. Harder for the best Combined Thresher and Cleaner. The Committee, in speaking of the Endless Chain Horse Powers made by Mr. Harder, say, that "It works more equably, more smoothly and with less waste of power than any machine that we have ever met with. * * * The construction of this machine is such as to produce a sufficient speed for threshing, by a very slow and easy movement, of the horses," while the mechanical execution of this power is deserving of the highest commendation. The best of materials and the best workmanship are combined in all machines coming from Mr. Harder's establishment. The Combined Thresher and Cleaner has several new features, rendering it superior to any other in use. Mr. Harder also manufactures Fanning Mills, Wood Saws, Seed Sowers and Planters. Farmers, it will pay you to make a visit to Cobleskill, and visit the Empire Agricultural Works, and inspect his machines. If you cannot make it convenient to do so, write to Mr. Harder for a Catalogue, which he will cheerfully send you by mail, free. But first of all, read his advertisement, which you will find inside the first cover of this work.

Jay L. Comstock, Surveyor and Conveyancer, Richfield Springs, publishes his card on page 246. Mr. C. is a gentleman of experience in his profession, and all who require his services may rest assured of the efficient performance of his work.

Newell & Pank, Builders and Jobbers, manufacturers of Sash, Doors and Blinds, opposite the Depot, Cooperstown, publish a card on page 18. They have a large establishment, where Planing, Sawing, Moulding and Turning is done, and all material prepared for building in the best manner. They have had 15 years' experience in the erection of all classes of buildings, Stair Building &c. During 1871 over twenty buildings were erected by this firm, besides furnishing materials for many more. Messrs. Newell & Pank are successors to C. A. Newell & Co., Mr. Pank having lately entered the firm and brought to the business the capital of experience and means acquired during seven years in a similar establishment at Rockville, Conn. Newell & Pank have commenced with enlarged capital, and have begun a further addition to their factory, adding new and improved machinery, and systematizing their business to insure promptitude as well as efficiency in all its departments. It will be to the interest of those contemplating building, to consult them before letting their work or purchasing materials.

Dodge's Model Printing Offices are advertised on page 230. Mr. G. A. Dodge is the proprietor of three separate printing offices, all located on the line of the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad, viz., the Osego Democrat, published at Oneonta; Home and Abroad, at Unadilla; and the Saturday Review, at Bainbridge. These papers are ably conducted, contain forty columns each, and have a combined circulation of 4,000 copies. Business men should not fail to note this. Connected with each office is a well arranged Job Department, where all kinds of Job Printing is neatly executed at reasonable rates.

C. B. Fuller, Richfield Springs, manufacturer of Saddles, Harness and Trunks, prints an appropriately illustrated card on page 246. Anything in the harness dealers' line can be procured of Mr. Fuller at moderate rates. His work is always well executed and consequently gives satisfaction, as his numerous patrons will testify. Mr. F. also does Upholstering in all its branches with neatness and dispatch. Try him.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

N. F. Ruso & Son, Produce Commission Merchants, Albany, N. Y., are extensive dealers in all kinds of Farm Produce. We commend Messrs. R. & Son to the favorable consideration of all interested parties, feeling assured that all who may deal with them will find them honorable business men. "The Buckeye," J. M. Childs & Co., proprietors, office 10 and 12 Fayette Street, Utica. It is hardly worth while to discuss the merits of this celebrated Mowing and Reaping Machine, at this late day. So perfect and complete was the Machine as originally invented, that its principles have never been changed. Improvement in parts, it is true, have been made, as experience showed them to be requisite. When it is understood that notwithstanding the great number of machines thrown upon the market for public favor, more than 130,000 of the "Buckeyes" have been sold, it will be universally conceded that the majority are in favor of this as a labor-saving implement. We will not attempt to detail its merits, but would recommend the reader to call and inspect the machine for himself, or send for a circular to J. M. Childs & Co., Utica. Messrs. C. & Co. also keep on hand a full assortment of Agricultural Implements, such as Threshing Machines, Fanning Mills, Horse Rakes, Cultivators, Plows, Cider Mills, &c., &c. RHODE ISLAND was settled at Providence in 1636, by the English from Massachusetts, under Roger Williams. It was under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until July 8, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until the formation of a Constitution in September, 1842. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 29, 1790. Area 1,306 square miles, or 835,840 acres. Population in 1870, 217,356. It is largely engaged in manufactures. A freehold possession of $13; or, if in reversion, renting for $7, together with a residence of one year in the State and six months in the town; or, if no freehold, then a residence of two years in the State and six months in the town, and payment of $1 tax or military service instead, are the qualifications of voters.

SOUTH CAROLINA was settled at Port Royal, in 1670, by the English, and continued under the charter of Carolina, or North Carolina, until they were separated in 1729. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 23, 1798; it framed a State Constitution March 26, 1776, which was amended March 19, 1778, and June 3, 1790. Area 29,385 square miles, or 18,806,400 acres. Population in 1860, 703,708, of whom 402,406 were slaves, an excess of 101,270 over the whites. Population in 1870, 705,789. It is the principal rice-growing State. Males residing in the State two years and district six months, and having a freehold of fifty acres of land, or have paid a State tax, are entitled to vote. December 17, 1860, a Convention assembled in Columbia, adjourned to Charleston, and on the 24th unanimously adopted an ordinance of secession, which was followed the next day by a Declaration of Causes claimed to be sufficient to justify the act. An election for delegates to a State Convention was held September 4, 1865. The Convention assembled September 13, and adjourned on the 28th. It repealed the ordinance of secession, abolished slavery, equalized the representation of the Senate and taxation throughout the State, giving the election of Governor and Presidential electors to the people, ordered voting in the Legislature by viva voce, endorsed the Administration unanimously, and directed a commission to submit a code to the Legislature for the protection of the colored population. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional Amendment November 13, 1865.

TENNESSEE was settled at Fort Donelson, in 1756, by emigrants from Virginia and North Carolina; was ceded to the United States by North Carolina, December, 1789, conveyed by the Senators of that State February 25, 1790, and accepted by act of Congress April 2 of the same year; it adopted a Constitution Feb. 6, 1796, and was admitted into the Union the 1st of June following. Area 45,600 square miles, or 29,184,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,109,601, of whom 275,179 were slaves. Population in 1870 was 1,225,937. It is a mining and agricultural State, and is largely productive of live stock. Citizens of the United States who have resided six months in the county are entitled to vote. A military league was formed between the Governor, Isham G. Harris, and the rebel States, May 7, 1861, ratified the same day by the Senate by a vote of 14 to 6, and a Declaration of Independence submitted to the people, the election to be held June 8, the result of which was declared by the Governor, June 24, to be 104,913 for, and 47,238 against. This movement not being acceptable to the people of East Tennessee, which had declared against separation by a vote of 32,923 to 14,780, they, in a Convention held at Greenville, June 18-21, repudiated it. Andrew Johnson, Provisional Governor of the State, called a State Convention to be held in Nashville the second Monday in January. Delegates were elected, the Convention met, declared slavery forever abolished, prohibited compensation to owners of slaves, and abrogated the secession ordinances. These amendments of the Constitution were submitted to the people 22d of February, 1865, with the following result: For ratification, 22,197; rejection, 63. The United States Constitutional Amendment was ratified April 5, 1865.

TEXAS was first settled at Bexar, in 1694, by Spaniards; formed a part of Mexico until 1836, when she revolted from that Republic and instituted a separate Government, under which she existed until admitted into the Union by a joint resolution approved March 1st, 1845, imposing certain conditions, which were accepted, and a Constitution formed July 4 of the same year, and another joint resolution adopted by Congress, consummating the annexation, was approved December 29, 1845. Male citizens of 21 years of age, who have resided in the State one year and district six months are entitled to vote. A Convention assembled at Galveston January 28, 1861, and on February 1 passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 166 to 7, to be submitted to the people February 23, and on March 4 they declared the State out of the Union, and Gov. Houston issued a Proclamation to that effect.

VERMONT was settled in 1724, by Englishmen from Connecticut, chiefly under grants from New Hampshire; was formed from a part of the territory of New York, by act of its Legislature March 6, 1769; framed a Constitution December 25, 1777, and was admitted into the Union March 4, 1791, by virtue of an act of Congress passed February 18 of the same year. Area 10,212 square miles, or 6,535,680 acres. Population in 1870, 330,582. It is a grazing region, producing more wool, live stock, maple sugar, butter, cheese and hay, in proportion to its population, than any other State. Any citizen of the United States who has resided in the State one year, and will take the oath of allegiance, is entitled to vote.

VIRGINIA was settled at Jamestown, in 1607, by the English, and was chartered April 10, 1606, May 23, 1609, and March 12, 1612. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution June 25, 1788; it framed a State Constitution July 5, 1776, which was amended January 15, 1830. The State was divided in 1863. Present area 37,352 square miles. Population in 1860, 1,314,532, of whom 481,410 were slaves. Population in 1870 1,211,442. It is a large corn producing, and the chief tobacco growing State. Every male citizen of the age of 21 years, who has been a resident of the State for one year, and of the county, city or town where he offers to vote for six months next preceding an election, and has paid all taxes assessed to him, after the adoption of the Constitution, under the laws of the Commonwealth, after the re-organization of the county, city or town where he offers to vote, is qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly and all officers elective by the people. A Convention sitting in Richmond on the 17th of April, 1861, passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 88 to 55, which was submitted to the people at an election held May 23, the result of which was announced June 25 to be 128,824 for, and 32,134 against.

The State Government was re-organized by a Convention which met at Wheeling, May 11, 1861. Upon the division of the State in 1863, the seat of Government was removed to Alexandria. A State Constitutional Convention, March 10, 1864, adopted a section abolishing slavery.

WEST VIRGINIA.—On the passage of the ordinance of secession by the Virginia Convention, a Convention of the western and other loyal counties of the State was held at Wheeling, which assembled May 11, 1861, and on the 17th unanimously deposed the then State officers and organized a Provisional Government. On the 26th of November, 1861, a Convention representing the western counties assembled in Wheeling and framed a Constitution for West Virginia, which was submitted to the people on the 3d of May, 1862, and adopted by them by a nearly unanimous vote. The division of the State was sanctioned by the Legislature May 13, 1862, and ratified by Congress by an act approved December 31, 1862, conditioned on the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution providing for the gradual abolition of slavery, which was done on the 24th of March, 1863, by a vote of the qualified electors of the proposed State, 28,318 voting in favor of the amendment, and 572 against it. In pursuance of the act of Congress, the President issued a Proclamation, April 20, 1863, admitting the State sixty days from the date thereof, and on the 20th of June the new State Government was formally inaugurated. Area 24,000 square miles. Population in 1860, 350,599, of whom 12,754 were slaves. Population in 1870 was 441,094. It is a large corn producing State, and abounds in coal and other minerals. The Alexandria Legislature adopted the United States Constitutional Amendment February 9, 1865. Male citizens, residents of the State one year and county thirty days, unless disqualified by rebellion, are entitled to vote.

WISCONSIN was settled at Green Bay, in 1699, by the French; was a part of the territory ceded by Virginia, and was set off from Michigan December 24, 1834, and was organized into a Territory April 30, 1836. Iowa was set off from it June 12, 1838, and acts were passed at various times setting its boundaries. March 3, 1847, an act for its admission into the Union was passed, to take effect on the issuing of a Proclamation by the President, and by act of May 29, 1848, it was admitted into the Union. Area 53,924 square miles, or 34,511,360 acres. Population in 1870, 1,055,501. It is an agricultural State, chiefly engaged in grain raising and wool growing. Citizens of the United States, or foreigners who have declared their intention to become citizens, are entitled to vote. Colored citizens were admitted to the franchise, by a decision of the Supreme Court, rendered the 27th day of March, 1866, holding that, whereas an election was held in 1849, under the provisions of chapter 137, of that year, at which election 5,265 votes were cast in favor of the extension of the right of suffrage to colored men, and 4,075 against such extension, therefore, the section of said law conferring such right had been constitutionally adopted and is the law of the land.

THE TERRITORIES,

THEIR BOUNDARIES, AREA, PHYSICAL FEATURES, ETC.

ALASKA, our new territory, recently purchased of Russia, comprehends all the north-west coast on the Pacific, and the adjacent islands north of the parallel of 50 degrees 40 minutes north, and the portion of the mainland west of the meridian (about 140° west) of Mount St. Elias. The area is computed at 481,276 square miles. The climate, although warmer than in the same latitude on the eastern coast, is too rigorous to admit of successful agricultural operations, and the chief value of the country and adjacent seas is derived from their fisheries and hunting grounds. The southern and central portions are mountainous; the northern portion along the Arctic ocean is quite flat, nowhere rising more than fifteen or twenty feet above the sea. The population is estimated at about 80,000, mostly Esquimaux.

ARIZONA was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, in the winter of 1863, out of the western half of New Mexico, the boundary between the two Territories being the 109th meridian (32d west from Washington,) and includes the greater portions of the valleys of Colorado and Gila, which two rivers drain its entire surface, with parts of Utah, New Mexico and Nevada, and yet convey, it is reported, a less volume of water to the sea than the Hudson at Albany. The fertile Mesilla Valley was left with New Mexico. The Territory forms a block nearly square, and contains 126,141 square miles, or 80,730,240 acres. Its white population in 1870 was 9,658. For agricultural purposes it is probably the most worthless on the Continent, owing to the absence of rains, but it is reputed to abound in silver mines.

COLORADO was organized March 2, 1861, from parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Utah, and is situated on each side of the Rocky Mountains, between latitude 37° and 41°, and longitude 25° and 32° west from Washington. Area 104,500 square miles, or 66,880,000 acres. Population in 1870 was 39,706, besides numerous tribes of Indians. By an enabling act passed March 21, 1864, the people of the Territory were authorized to frame a State Constitution and organize a State Government, and a Convention accordingly met in 1865, and on the 12th of August adopted a Constitution, which was submitted to and adopted by the people September 5, and State officers elected November 14. A bill to admit the Territory as a State passed Congress, but was vetoed May 25, 1866. It is said to be a superior grazing and cattle producing region, with a healthy climate and rich soil. An extensive coal bed, and also gold, iron and other minerals abound.

COLUMBIA.—Originally the "District of Columbia" was ceded to the United States by Maryland and Virginia, in 1790, and became the seat of the National Government in 1800. It was originally ten miles square, lying on both sides of the Potomac, thirty-six square miles having been taken from Virginia, and sixty-four square miles from Maryland. By an act of Congress in 1846, that portion taken from Virginia was retroceded to that State. The 41st Congress, 1870-71, erected the District into a Territory. Until this year the District was governed directly by the Congress of the United States, and its inhabitants had no representation and no voice in the Federal elections. The cities of the Territory are Washington and Georgetown. Population in 1870 was 131,706.

DAKOTA was first settled by employees of the Hudson Bay Company, but is now being peopled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was set off from the western portion of Minnesota when that Territory became a State in 1857, and was organized March 2, 1861. Area 148,932 square miles, or 95,316,480 acres. Population in 1870 was 14,181 whites, besides the roving tribes of Indians.

IDAHO was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, at its second session, in the winter of 1863. Its name means 'Bead of the Mountains,' and it embraces the whole breadth of the Rocky Mountain region, and has within its bounds the head waters of nearly all the great rivers that flow down its either slope, but the greater portion lies east of the mountains. Its southern boundary is the 41st, its northern the 46th parallel of latitude. It extends from the 104th meridian on the east to the 110th on the west. Area 326 373 square miles, or 208,870,720 acres. Population in 1870, 14,998 besides the Indians. For agricultural purposes it is comparatively worthless, but abounds in gold and other valuable mines.

MONTANA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. Organized in 1864, with the following boundaries: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the 27th L. W. from Washington with the 45th N. L.; thence due west on said 45th degree to a point formed by its intersection with the 34th degree W. from Washington; thence due south along said 34th degree of longitude to its intersection with the 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L.; thence due west along said 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L. to a point formed by its intersection with the crest of the Rocky Mountains; thence following the crest of the Rocky Mountains northward till its intersection with the Bitter Root Mountains; thence northward along the crest of said Bitter Root Mountains to its intersection with the 39th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence along said 39th degree of longitude northward to the boundary line of the British possessions; thence eastward along said boundary to the 27th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence southward along said 27th degree to the place of beginning. This makes it the northernmost Territory next the States east of the Missouri Valley. It is a good mining and agricultural region. The population in 1870 was 20,594.

NEW MEXICO was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory September 9, 1850.—Area 121,201 square miles, or 77,568,640 acres. Population in 1870 was 91,789, besides large tribes of warlike Indians. The principal resource of the country is its minerals.

UTAH was settled by the Mormons, and was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory, September 9, 1850. Area, 106,382 square miles, or 68,034,480 acres. Population in 1870 was 86,786. Brine, sulphureous and chalybeate springs abound; limestone, granite, sandstone and marble are found in large quantities; iron is abundant, and gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc have been found. Not one-fiftieth part of the soil is fit for tillage, but on that which is, abundant crops of grain and considerable cotton are raised. A Convention was held at Great Salt Lake City, January 22, 1862, and a State Constitution formed, but it has not been acted on by Congress.

WASHINGTON was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was organized into a Territory, March 2, 1853, from the northern portion of Oregon, to which was added another portion from the eastern part when the latter Territory was admitted as a State, February 14, 1859. Area 69,994 square miles, or 48,636,800 acres. Population in 1870 was 23,901 besides numerous tribes of Indians.

WYOMING was organized in July 1868. It lies between the 27th and 34th meridians of longitude west from Washington, and between the 41st and 45th parallels of latitude. The Territory is rich in mineral wealth, having large quantities of iron, coal, gypsum and building stone, besides vast quantities of gold, silver and copper. Salt springs of great value are found within its limits. The western portion of the Territory embraces what is generally known as the "Sweet Water Mines." The climate is healthy, and the Territory is rapidly filling up with an enterprising and hardy population. The act of Congress organizing the Territory, provides that "There shall be no denial of the elective franchise or any other right, on account of color or race, and all persons shall be equal before the law." Population in 1870 was 9,118.

Stamp Duty.

the collection from the United States Government of claims by soldiers, or their legal representatives, for pensions, back pay, bounty, or for property lost in the service, exempt.

NOTE.—The last Congress passed an act, "That on and after the first day of October, 1870, the stamp tax imposed in Schedule B, on promissory notes for a less sum than one hundred dollars, and on receipts for any sum of money, or for the payment of any debt, and the stamp tax imposed in Schedule C, on canned and preserved fish, be, and the same are hereby repealed. And no stamp shall be required upon the transfer or assignment of a mortgage, where it or the instrument it secures has been once duly stamped."

CANCELLATION.

In all cases where an adhesive stamp is used for denoting the stamp duty upon an instrument, the person using or affixing the same must write or imprint thereupon in ink the initials of his name, and the date (the year, month, and day) on which the same is attached or used. Each stamp should be separately cancelled. When stamps are printed upon checks, &c., so that in filling up the instrument, the face of the stamp is and must necessarily be written across, no other cancellation will be required.

All cancellation must be distinct and legible, and except in the case of proprietary stamps from private dies, no method of cancellation which differs from that above described can be recognized as legal and sufficient.

PENALTIES.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who makes, signs, or issues, or who causes to be made, signed, or issued, any paper of any kind or description whatever, or who accepts, negotiates, or pays, or causes to be accepted, negotiated, or paid, any bill of exchange, draft, or order, or promissory note, for the payment of money, without the same being duly stamped, or having thereupon an adhesive stamp for denoting the tax chargeable thereon, cancelled in the manner required by law, with intent to evade the provisions of the revenue act.

A penalty of two hundred dollars is imposed upon every person who pays, negotiates, or offers in payment, or receives or takes in payment, any bill of exchange or order for the payment of any sum of money drawn or purporting to be drawn in a foreign country, but payable in the United States, until the proper stamp has been affixed thereto.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who fraudulently makes use of an adhesive stamp to denote the duty required by the revenue act, without effectually cancelling and obliterating the same in the manner required by law.

Attention is particularly called to the following extract from section 155, of the act of June 30, 1864, as amended by the act of July 13, 1866.

"If any person shall wilfully remove or cause to be removed, alter or cause to be altered, the cancelling or defacing marks on any adhesive stamp, with intent to use the same, or to cause the use of the same, after it shall have been used once, or shall knowingly or wilfully sell or buy such washed or restored stamps, or offer the same for sale, or give or expose the same to any person for use, or knowingly use the same or prepare the same with intent for the further use thereof, or if any person shall knowingly and without lawful excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on the person accused) have in his possession any washed, restored, or altered stamps, which have been removed from any vellum, parchment, paper, instrument or writing; then, and in every such case, every person so offending, and every person knowingly and wilfully aiding, abetting, or assisting in committing any such offence as aforesaid, shall, on conviction thereof, * * * be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment and confinement to hard labor not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court."

It is not lawful to record any instrument, document, or paper required by law to be stamped, or any copy thereof, unless a stamp or stamps of the proper amount have been affixed and cancelled in the manner required by law; and such instrument or copy and the record thereof are utterly null and void, and cannot be used or admitted as evidence in any court until the defect has been cured as provided in section 158.

All willful violations of the law should be reported to the United States District Attorney within and for the district where they are committed.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

The law does not designate which of the parties to an instrument shall furnish the necessary stamp, nor does the Commissioner of Internal Revenue assume to determine that it shall be supplied by one party rather than by another; but if an instrument subject to stamp duty is issued without having the necessary stamps affixed thereto, it cannot be recorded, or admitted, or used in evidence, in any court, until a legal stamp or stamps, denoting the amount of tax, shall have been affixed as prescribed by law, and the person who thus issues it is liable to a penalty, if he omits the stamps with an intent to evade the provisions of the internal revenue act.

The first act imposing a stamp tax upon certain specified instruments took effect, so far as said tax is concerned, October 1, 1862. The impression which seems to prevail to some extent, that no stamps are required upon any instruments issued in the States lately in insurrection, prior to the surrender, or prior to the establishment of collection districts there, is erroneous.

Instruments issued in those States since October 1, 1862, are subject to the same taxes as similar ones issued at the same time in the other States.

No stamp is necessary upon an instrument executed prior to October 1, 1862, to make it admissible in evidence, or to entitle it to record.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "promissory notes."

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by either of them; and "when more than one signature is affixed to the same paper, one or more stamps may be affixed thereto, representing the whole amount of the stamp required for such signatures."

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and, whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers—such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgement of the instrument which is not stamped.

Particular attention is called to the change in section 151, by striking out the words "or used;" the exemption thereunder is thus restricted to documents, &c., issued by the officers therein named. Also to the changes in sections 152 and 158, by inserting the words "and cancelled in the manner required by law."

The acceptor or acceptors of any bill of exchange, or order for the payment of any sum of money, drawn or purporting to be drawn in any foreign country, but payable in the United States, must, before paying or accepting the same, place thereupon a stamp indicating the duty.

It is only upon conveyances of realty sold that conveyance stamps are necessary. A deed of real estate made without valuable consideration need not be stamped as a conveyance; but if it contains covenants, such, for instance, as a covenant to warrant and defend the title, it should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

When a deed purporting to be a conveyance of realty sold, and stamped accordingly, is inoperative, a deed of confirmation, made simply to cure the defect, requires no stamp. In such case, the second deed should contain a recital of the facts, and should show the reasons for its execution.

Partition deeds between tenants in common, need not be stamped as conveyances, inasmuch as there is no sale of realty, but merely a marking out, or a defining, of the boundaries of the part belonging to each; but where money or other valuable consideration is paid by one co-tenant to another for equality of partition, there is a sale to the extent of such consideration, and the conveyance, by the party receiving it, should be stamped accordingly.

A conveyance of lands sold for unpaid taxes, issued since August 1, 1866, by the officers of any county, town, or other municipal corporation in the discharge of their strictly official duties, is exempt from stamp tax.

A conveyance of realty sold, subject to a mortgage, should be stamped according to the consideration, or the value of the property uncumbered. The consideration in such case is to be found by adding the amount paid for the equity of redemption to the mortgage debt. The fact that one part of the consideration is paid to the mortgagor and the other part to the mortgagee does not change the liability of the conveyance.

The stamp tax upon a mortgage is based upon the amount it is given to secure. The fact that the value of the property mortgaged is less than that amount, and that consequently the security is only partial, does not change the liability of the instrument. When, therefore, a second mortgage is given to secure the payment of a sum of money partially secured by a prior mortgage upon other property, or when two mortgages upon separate property are given at the same time to secure the payment of the same sum, each should be stamped as though it were the only one.

A mortgage given to secure a surty from loss, or given for any purpose whatever, other than as security for the payment of a definite and certain sum of money, is taxable only as an agreement or contract.

The stamp duty upon a lease, agreement, memorandum, or contract for the hire, use, or rent of any land, tenement, or portion thereof, is based upon the annual rent or rental value of the property leased, and the duty is the same whether the lease be for one year, for a term of years, or for the fractional part of a year only.

An assignment of a lease within the meaning and intent of Schedule B, is an assignment of the Leithold, or of some portion thereof, by the lessee, or by some person claiming by, from, or under him: such an assignment as subrogates the assignee to the rights, or some portion of the rights, of the lessee, or of the person standing in his place. A transfer by the lessor of his part of a lease, neither giving nor purporting to give a claim to the Leithold, or to any part thereof, but simply a right to the rents, &c., is subject to stamp tax as a contract or agreement only.

The stamp tax upon a fire insurance policy is based upon the premium.

Deposit notes taken by a mutual fire insurance company, not as payment of premium nor as evidence of indebtedness therefor, but to be used simply as a basis upon which to make rateable assessments to meet the losses incurred by the company, should not be reckoned as premium in determining the amount of stamp taxes upon the policies.

When a policy of insurance properly stamped has been issued and lost, no stamp is necessary upon another issued by the same company to the same party, covering the same property, time, &c., and designed simply to supply the loss. The second policy should recite the loss of the first.

An instrument which operates as the renewal of a policy of insurance, is subject to the same stamp tax as the policy.

When a policy of insurance is issued for a certain time, whether it be for one year only or for a term of years, a receipt for premium, or any other instrument which has the legal effect to continue the contract and extend its operation beyond that time, requires the same amount of revenue stamps as the policy itself; but such a receipt as is usually given for the payment of the monthly, quarterly, or annual premium, is not a renewal within the meaning of the statute. The payment simply prevents the policy from expiring, by reason of non-performance of its conditions; a receipt given for such a payment requires no stamp. When, however, the time of payment has passed, and a tender of the premium is not sufficient to bind the company, but a new policy or a new contract in some form, with the mutuality essential to every contract, becomes necessary between the insurer and the insured, the same amount of stamps should be used as that required upon the original policy.

A permit issued by a life insurance company changing the terms of a policy as to travel, residence, occupation, &c., should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

A bill single or a bill obligatory, i. e., an instrument in the form of a promissory note, under seal, is subject to stamp duty as written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at a time designated, at the rate of five cents for each one hundred dollars or fractional part thereof.

A waiver of protest, or of demand and notice, written upon negotiable paper and signed by the indorser, is an agreement, and requires a five-cent stamp.

A stamp duty of twenty-five cents is imposed upon the "protest of every note, bill of exchange, check or draft," and upon every marine protest. If several notes, bills of exchange, drafts, &c., are protested at the same time and all attached to one and the same certificate, stamps should be affixed to the amount of twenty-five cents for each note, bill, draft, &c., thus protested.

When, as is generally the case, the caption to a deposition contains other certificates in addition to the jurat to the affidavit of the deponent, such as a certificate that the parties were or were not notified, that they did or did not appear, that they did or did not object, &c., it is subject to a stamp duty of five cents.

When an attested copy of a writ or other process is used by a sheriff or other person in making personal service, or in attaching property, a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of attestation.

A marriage certificate issued by the officiating clergyman or magistrate, to be returned to any officer of a State, county, city, town, or other municipal corporation, to constitute part of a public record, requires no stamp; but if it is to be retained by the parties, a five-cent stamp should be affixed.

The stamp tax upon a bill of sale, by which any ship or vessel, or any part thereof, is conveyed to or vested in any other person or persons, is at the same rate as that imposed upon conveyances of realty sold; a bill of sale of any other personal property should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

An assignment of real or personal property, or of both, for the benefit of creditors, should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

Written or printed assignments of agreements, bonds, notes not negotiable, and of all other instruments the assignments of which are not particularly specified in the foregoing schedule, should be stamped as agreements.

No stamp is necessary upon the registry of a judgment, even though the registry is such in its legal effect as to create a lien which operates as a mortgage upon the property of the judgment debtor.

When a "power of attorney or proxy for voting at any election for officers of any incorporated company or society, except religious, charitable, or literary societies, or public cemeteries," is signed by several stockholders, owning separate and distinct shares, it is, in its legal effect, the separate instrument of each, and requires stamps to the amount of ten cents for each and every signature; one or more stamps may be used representing the whole amount required.

A notice from landlord to tenant to quit possession of premises requires no stamp.

A stamp tax is imposed upon every "manifest for custom-house entry or clearance of the cargo of any ship, vessel, or steamer for a foreign port." The amount of this tax in each case depends upon the registered tonnage of the vessel.

If a vessel clears in ballast and has no cargo whatever, no stamp is necessary; but if she has any, however small the amount—a stamp should be used.

A bond to convey real estate requires stamps to the amount of twenty-five cents.

The stamp duty upon the probate of a will, or upon letters of administration, is based upon the sworn or declared value of all the estate and effects, real, personal, and mixed, undiminished by the debts of the estate for or in respect of which such probate or letters are applied for.

When the property belonging to the estate of a person deceased, lies under different jurisdictions and it becomes necessary to take out letters in two or more places, the letters should be stamped according to the value of all the property, real, personal, and mixed, for or in respect of which the particular letters in each case are issued.

Letters de bonis non should be stamped according to the amount of property remaining to be administered upon thereunder, regardless of the stamps upon the original letters.

A mere copy of an instrument is not subject to stamp duty unless it is a certified one, in which case a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of the person attesting it; but when the instrument is executed and issued in duplicate, triplicate, &c., as in the case of a lease of two or more parts, each part has the same legal effect as the other, and each should be stamped as an original.

Infallible Rules for Detecting Counterfeit or Spurious Bank Notes.

RULE 1st.—Examine the shading of the letters in title of Bank called LATHWORK, which in genuine notes presents an even, straight, light and silky appearance, generally so fine and smooth as to appear to be all in one solid, pale body. In the counterfeit the lines are coarse and irregular, and in many of the longer lines breaks will be perceived, thus presenting a very inferior finish in comparison to genuine work.

2d.—Observe the dies, circles and ovals in the genuine; they are composed of a network of lines, which, by crossing each other at certain angles, produce an endless variety of figures; SEE THE ONE CENT STAMP ATTACHED. The fine line alone is the unit which enables you to detect spurious work. In the counterfeit, the REPRESENTED white lines are coarse, irregular, and cross each other in a confused, irregular manner, thus producing blurred and imperfect figures.

3d.—Examine the form and features of all human figures on the note. In the genuine, the texture of the skin is represented by fine dots and lines intermixed. In the eyes, the pupil is distinctly visible, and the white clearly seen; the nose, mouth and chin, well formed, natural and expressive; the lips are slightly pointing, and the chin well thrown out; and the delicate shading of the neck perfectly harmonizes with the rest of the figure. Observe the fingers and toes; they should be clearly and accurately defined. The hair of the head should show the fine strands and present a natural appearance. The folds of the drapery of human figures should lay natural and present a fine, finished appearance. In the counterfeit the female figure does not bear the natural prominence in outlines; observe, the eyes and shading surrounding does not present the life-like appearance it should. The fingers and toes are not properly and proportionately defined; the hair does not bear that soft and finished appearance as in the genuine.

4th.—Examine the imprint or engraver's names in the evenness and shape of the fine letters. Counterfeits never bear the imprint perfect. This rule should be strictly observed, as it is infallible in detecting counterfeits.

5th.—In the genuine note the landscapes are well finished; trees and shrubs are neatly drawn; the limbs well proportioned, and the foliage presenting a fine natural appearance; clear sky is formed of fine parallel lines, and when clouds or heavy skies appear, they cross each other, and bear a soft, smooth and natural appearance. The perspective, showing a view of the surrounding country, is always clear and distinct. The small figures in the background are always plainly seen, and their outlines and general character recognized. Ships are well defined and the canvass has a clear texture; railroad cars are very accurately delineated; in examining a train observe carefully the car most distant. In the counterfeit the landscape is usually poorly executed; the leaves of trees poorly and unnaturally defined.—The lines representing still water are scratchy rather than parallel, the sky is represented generally in like manner, and where rolling clouds are to be seen, the unnatural effect is obvious. Domestic animals are generally poorly executed, particularly the head and limbs; the eyes are seldom clearly defined. Ships are poorly drawn, the texture of the canvass coarse and inferior in style of workmanship, thus giving an artificial appearance. Railroad cars are also poorly executed; the car farthest from the eye is usually the most imperfect. The perspective is always imperfect, the figures in the background can seldom be recognized.

6th.—Bills altered from a smaller to a higher denomination, can readily be detected by a close observer, in consequence of the striking difference between the parts which have been extracted and the rest of the note. This difference is readily perceived in the lack of color, body and finish of the dye; we have seen bills where the surrounding shading in altered dies was too dark, but from the back or finish of the white lines you have a sure test. Again observe particularly the words "Five" or "Ten Dollars" as the case may be, denoting the denomination of the note; the parallel outlines and shading (if any) are coarse and imperfect. Alterations are frequently made by pasting a greater denomination over a smaller, but by holding the bill up to the light, the fraud will be perceived. Another method resorted to is to cut out the figures in the dies as well as the words one dollar, or the words two or three as the case may be, and with a sharp eraser, scrape down the ends and also the edges of the pieces to be inserted; when the pieces thus prepared are affixed they are hardly perceptible; but by passing the note through the hand, so as to feel the die both with the finger and thumb at the same time, the fraud will be detected by the stiffness of the outer edges, "occasioned by the gum or method adopted" in affixing the parts. The letter S should always be examined, as in many alterations it is pasted or stamped at the end of the word "dollar;" and even when stamped there, the carrying out of the outlines for its shading will readily show the fraud. Bills of broken banks are frequently altered by extracting the name of bank, state and town; they may readily be detected by observing first the state, second the title or name of the bank, third the town or location.

GENERAL REMARKS IN REFERENCE TO COUNTERFEITS.—The paper on which they are printed is generally of a very inferior quality, with less body, finish and toughness than bank note paper has. The ink generally lacks the rich luster of the genuine; the red letters and figures are generally imperfect, and the ink does not present the vermilion hue as it should. The printing is generally inferior, usually exhibiting specks of white in the most prominent letters. The date and filling up, and the President's and Cashier's names are generally written by the same person, although in many instances they present a different appearance. There are bills in circulation bearing either genuine dies or vignettes; but upon close examination you will be enabled to detect any spurious bill, whether counterfeit or altered, by the instructions here given, if persevered in for a short time. We beg to suggest, if time will admit, the learner should examine minutely every bill he receives. A powerful pocket magnifying glass, which can be purchased for from fifty cents to one dollar at any of the opticians, will greatly enable you to see and comprehend the difference between genuine and spurious work.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS.

"What will my readers give to know how to get rich? Now, I will not vouch that the following rules will enable every person who may read them to acquire wealth; but this I will answer for, that if ever a man does grow rich by honest means, and retains his wealth for any length of time, he must practice upon the principles laid down in the following essay. The remarks are not original with me, but I strongly commend them to the attention of every young man, at least as affording the true secret of success in attaining wealth. A single perusal of such an essay at an impressive moment, has sometimes a very wonderful effect upon the disposition and character.

Fortune, they say, is a fickle dame—full of her freaks and caprices; who blindly distributes her favors without the slightest discrimination. So inconstant, so wavering she is represented, that her most faithful votaries can place no reliance on her promises. Disappointment, they tell us, is the lot of those who make offerings at her shrine. Now, all this is a vile slander upon the dear blind lady.

Although wealth often appears the result of mere accident, or a fortunate concurrence of favorable circumstances without any exertion of skill or foresight, yet any man of sound health and unimpaired mind may become wealthy, if he takes the proper steps.

Foremost in the list of requisites are honesty and strict integrity in every transaction of life. Let a man have the reputation of being fair and upright in his dealings, and he will possess the confidence of all who know him. Without these qualities every other merit will prove unavailing. Ask concerning a man, "Is he active and capable?" Yes. "Industrious, temperate and regular in his habits?"—Oh yes. "Is he honest? Is he trustworthy?" Why, as to that, I am sorry to say that he is not to be trusted; he needs watching; he is a little tricky, and will take an undue advantage, if he can. "Then I will have nothing to do with him," will be the invariable reply. Why, then, is honesty the best policy? Because, without it, you will get a bad name, and everybody will shun you.

A character for knavery will prove an insurmountable obstacle to success in almost every undertaking. It will be found that the straight line is, in business, as in geometry, the shortest. In a word, it is almost impossible for a dishonest man to acquire wealth by a regular process of business, because he is shunned as a depredator upon society.

Needy men are apt to deviate from the rule of integrity, under the plea that necessity knows no law; they might as well add that it knows no shame. The course is suicidal, and by destroying all confidence, ever keeps them immured in poverty, although they may possess every other quality for success in the world.

Punctuality, which is said to be the soul of business, is another important element in the art of money getting. The man known to be scrupulously exact in the fulfillment of his engagements, gains the confidence of all, and may command all the means he can use with advantage; whereas, a man careless and regardless of his promises in money matters will have every purse closed against him. Therefore be prompt in your payments.

Next, let us consider the advantages of a cautious circumspection in our intercourse with the world. Slowness of belief and a proper distrust are essential to success. The credulous and confiding are ever the dupes of knaves and impostors. Ask those who have lost their property how it happened, and you will find in most cases that it has been owing to misplaced confidence. One has lost by endorsing, another by crediting, another by false representations; all of which a little more foresight and a little more distrust would have prevented. In the affairs of this world men are not saved by faith, but by the want of it.

Judge of men by what they do, not by what they say. Believe in looks rather than words. Observe all their movements. Ascertain their motives and their ends. Notice what they say or do in their unguarded moments, when under the influence of excitement. The passions have been compared to tortures which force men to reveal their secrets. Before trusting a man, before putting it in his power to cause you a loss, possess yourself of every available information relative to him. Learn his history, his habits, inclinations and propensities; his reputation for honor, industry, frugality and punctuality; his prospects, resources, supports, advantages and disadvantages; his intentions and motives of action; who are his friends and enemies, and what are his good or bad qualities. You may learn a man's good qualities and advantages from his friends—his bad qualities and disadvantages from his enemies. Make due allowance for exaggeration in both. Finally, examine carefully before engaging in anything, and act with energy afterwards. Have the hundred eyes of Argus beforehand, and the hundred hands of Briarius afterwards.

Order and system in the management of business must not be neglected. Nothing contributes more to dispatch. Have a place for everything and everything in its place; a time for everything, and everything in its time. Do first what presses most, and having determined what is to be done, and how it is to be done, lose no time in doing it. Without this method all is hurry and confusion, little or nothing is accomplished, and business is attended to with neither pleasure nor profit.

A polite, affable deportment is recommended. Agreeable manners contribute powerfully to a man's success. Take two men, possessing equal advantages in every other respect, but let one be gentlemanly, kind, obliging and conciliating in his manners; the other harsh, rude and disobliging; and the one will become rich, while the other will starve.

We are now to consider a very important principle in the business of money-getting, namely—Industry—persevering, indefatigable attention to business. Persevering diligence is the Philosopher's stone, which turns everything to gold. Constant, regular, habitual and systematic application to business, must in time, if properly directed, produce great results. It must lead to wealth, with the same certainty that poverty follows in the train of idleness and inattention. It has been truly remarked that he who follows his amusements instead of his business, will, in a short time, have no business to follow.

The art of money-saving is an important part of the art of money-getting. Without frugality no one can become rich; with it, few would be poor. Those who consume as fast as they produce, are on the road to ruin. As most of the poverty we meet with grows out of idleness and extravagance, so most large fortunes have been the result of habitual industry and frugality. The practice of economy is as necessary in the expenditure of time as of money. They say if "we take care of the pence the pounds will take care of themselves." So, if we take care of the mites, the days will take care of themselves.

The acquisition of wealth demands as much self-denial, and as many sacrifices of present gratification, as the practice of virtue itself. Vice and poverty proceed, in some degree, from the same source, namely—the disposition to sacrifice the future to the present; the inability to forego a small present pleasure for great future advantages. Men fall of fortune in this world, as they fall of happiness in the world to come, simply because they are unwilling to deny themselves momentary enjoyments for the sake of permanent future happiness.

Every large city is filled with persons, who, in order to support the appearance of wealth, constantly live beyond their income, and make up the deficiency by contracting debts which are never paid. Others, there are, the mere drones of soclety, who pass their days in idleness, and subsist by pirating on the hives of the industrious. Many who run a short-lived career of splendid beggary, could they be but persuaded to adopt a system of rigid economy for a few years, might pass the remainder of their days in affluence. But no! They must keep up appearances, they must live like other folks.

Their debts accumulate; their credit fails; they are harassed by duns, and besieged by constables and sheriff. In this extremity, as a last resort, they submit to a shameful dependence, or engage in criminal practices which entail hopeless wretchedness and infamy on themselves and families.

Stick to the business in which you are regularly employed. Let speculators make thousands in a year or a day; mind your own regular trade, never turning from it to the right hand or to the left. If you are a merchant, a professional man, or a mechanic, never buy lots or stocks, unless you have surplus money which you wish to invest. Your own business you understand as well as other men; but other people's business you do not understand. Let your business be some one which is useful to the community. All such occupations possess the elements of profit in themselves.

How to Secure the Public Lands,

OR THE ENTRY OF THE SAME UNDER THE PRE-EMPTION AND HOMESTEAD LAWS.

The following circular gives all necessary information as to the procedure necessary in purchasing and securing the public lands:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
GEN'L LAND OFFICE, July 19, 1865. }

Numerous questions having arisen as to the mode of procedure to purchase public lands, or acquire title to the same by bounty land locations, by pre-emptions or by homestead, this circular is communicated for the information of all concerned.

In order to acquire title to public lands the following steps must be taken:

1. Application must be made to the Register of the district land office in which the land desired may be situated.

A list of all the land offices in the United States is furnished by the Department, with the seats of the different offices, where it is the duty of the Register and Receiver to be in attendance, and give proper facilities and information to persons desirous of obtaining lands.

The minimum price of ordinary public lands is $1.25 per acre. The even or reserved sections falling within railroad grants are increased to double the minimum price, being $2.50 per acre.

Lands once offered at public sale, and not afterwards kept out of market by reservation, or otherwise, so as to prevent free competition, may be entered or located.

2. By the applicant filing with the Register his written application describing the tract, with its area; the Register will then certify to the receiver whether the land is vacant, with its price; and when found to be so, the applicant must pay that price per acre, or may locate the same with land warrant, and thereafter the Receiver will give him a "duplicate receipt," which he is required to surrender previous to the delivery to him of the patent, which may be had either by application for it to the Register or to the General Land Office.

3. If the tract has not been offered at public sale it is not liable to ordinary private entry, but may be secured by a party legally qualified, upon his compliance with the requirements of the pre-emption laws of 4th September, 1841, and 2d March, 1843; and after such party shall have made actual settlement for such a length of time as will show he designs it for his permanent home, and is acting in good faith, building a house and residing therein, he may proceed to the district land office, establish his pre-emption claim according to law, by proving his actual residence and cultivation, and showing that he is otherwise within the purview of these acts.— Then he can enter the land at $1.25, either in cash or with bounty land warrant, unless the premises should be $2.50 acre lands. In that case the whole purchase-money can be paid in cash, or one-half in cash, the residue with a bounty land warrant.

4. But if parties legally qualified desire to obtain title under the Homestead Act of 20th May, 1862, they can do so on complying with the Department Circular, dated 30th October, 1862.

5. The law confines Homestead entries to surveyed lands; and although, in certain States and Territories noted in the sub-joined list, pre-emptors may go on land before survey, yet they can only establish their claim after return of survey, but must file their pre-emption declaration within three months after receipt of official plat, at the local land-office where the settlement was made before survey. Where, however, it was made after survey, the claimant must file within three months after date of settlement; and where actual residence and cultivation have been long enough to show that the claimant has made the land his permanent home, he can establish his claim and pay for the same at any time before the date of the public sale of lands within the range in which his settlement may fall.

6. All unoffered surveyed lands not acquired under pre-emption, homestead, or otherwise, under express legal sanction, must be offered at public sale under the President's Proclamation, and struck off to the highest bidder, as required by act of April 24, 1820.

J. M. EDMUNDS,
Commissioner General Land Office.

LAW MAXIMS.

1. A promise of a debtor to give "satisfactory security" for the payment of a portion of his debt, is a sufficient consideration for a release of the residue by his creditor.

2. Administrators are liable to account for interest on funds in their hands, although no profit shall have been made upon them, unless the exigencies of the estate rendered it prudent that they should hold the funds thus uninvested.

3. Any person who voluntarily becomes an agent for another, and in that capacity obtains information to which as a stranger he could have had no access, is bound in subsequent dealing with his principal, as purchaser of the property that formed the subject of his agency, to communicate such information.

4. When a horse is rendered untenable in consequence of improvements made on the adjoining lot, the owner of such cannot recover damages, because it is presumed that he had knowledge of the approaching danger in time to protect himself from it.

5. When a merchant ship is abandoned by order of the master, for the purpose of saving life, and a part of the crew subsequently meet the vessel so abandoned and bring her safe into port, they will be entitled to salvage.

6. A person who has been led to sell goods by means of false pretences, cannot recover them from one who has purchased them in good faith from the fraudulent vendor.

7. An agreement by the holder of a note to give the principal debtor time for payment, without depriving himself of the right to sue, does not discharge the surety.

8. A seller of goods who accepts, at the time of sale, the note of a third party, not endorsed by the buyer, in payment, cannot in case the note is not paid, hold the buyer responsible for the value of the goods.

14. Agents are solely liable to their principals.

15. A deposit of money in bank by a husband, in the name of his wife, survives to her.

17. A debtor may give preference to one creditor over another, unless fraud or special legislation can be proved.
18. A court cannot give judgment for a larger sum than that specified in the verdict.
19. Imbecility on the part of either husband or wife, invalidates the marriage.
20. An action for malicious prosecution will lie, though nothing further was done than suing out warrants.
21. An agreement not to continue the practice of a profession or business in any specified town, if the party so agreeing has received a consideration for the same, is valid.
22. When A consigns goods to B to sell on commission, and B delivers them to C, in payment of his own antecedent debts, A can recover their value.
23. A finder of property is compelled to make diligent inquiry for the owner thereof, and to restore the same. If, on finding such property, he attempts to conceal such fact, he may be prosecuted for larceny.
24. A private person may obtain an injunction to prevent a public mischief by which he is affected in common with others.
25. Any person interested may obtain an injunction to restrain the State or a municipal corporation from maintaining a nuisance on its lands.
26. A discharge under the insolvent laws of one State will not discharge the insolvent from a contract made with a citizen of another State.
27. To prosecute a party with any other motive than to bring him to justice, is malicious prosecution, and actionable as such.
28. Ministers of the gospel, residing in any incorporated town, are not exempt from jury, military, or fire service.
29. When a person contracts to build a house, and is prevented by sickness from finishing it, he can recover for the part performed, if such part is beneficial to the other party.

34. Contracts for advertisements in Sunday newspapers cannot be enforced.
35. A seller of goods, chattels, or other property, commits no fraud, in law, when he neglects to tell the purchaser of any flaws, defects, or unsoundness in the same.

37. If any person puts a fence on or plows the land of another, he is liable for trespass whether the owner has sustained injury or not.
38. If a person, who is unable from illness to sign his will, has his hand guided in making his mark, the signature is valid.

41. In an action for slander, the party making the complaint must prove the words alleged; other words of like meaning will not suffice.
42. In a suit of damages for seduction, proof of pregnancy, and the birth of a child, is not essential. It is sufficient if the illness of the girl, whereby she was unable to labor, was produced by shame for the seduction; and this is such a loss of service as will sustain the action.
43. Addressing to a wife a letter containing matter defamatory to the character of her husband is a publication, and renders the writer amenable to damages.
44. A parent cannot sustain an action for any wrong done to a child, unless he has incurred some direct pecuniary injury therefrom in consequence of some loss of service or expenses necessarily consequent thereupon.
45. A master is responsible for an injury resulting from the negligence of his servant, whilst driving his cart or carriage, provided the servant is at the time engaged in his master's business, even though the accident happens in a place to which his master's business does not call him; but if the journey of a servant be solely for a purpose of his own, and undertaken without the knowledge and consent of his master, the latter is not responsible.
46. An emigrant depot is not a nuisance in law.
47. A railroad track through the streets is not a nuisance in law.

48. If an agreement upon which a party relies be oral only, it must be proved by evidence. But if the contract be reduced to writing, it proves itself; and now no evidence whatever is receivable for the purpose of varying the contract or affecting its obligations. The reasons are obvious. The law prefers written to oral evidence, from its greater precision and certainty, and because it is less open to fraud. And where parties have closed a negotiation and reduced the result to writing, it is presumed that they have written all they intended to agree to, and therefore, that what is omitted was finally rejected by them.—[PARSONS.

49. Delivery of a husband's goods by a wife to her adulterer, he having knowledge that she has taken them without her husband's authority, is sufficient to sustain an indictment for larceny against the adulterer.

50. The fact that the insurer was not informed of the existence of impending litigation, affecting the premises insured, at the time the insurance was effected, does not vitiate the policy.

51. The liability of an innkeeper is not confined to personal baggage, but extends to all the property of the guest that he consents to receive.

53. When a person has, by legal inquisition been found an habitual drunkard, he cannot, even in his sober intervals, make contracts to bind himself or his property, until the inquisition is removed.

54. Any person dealing with the representative of a deceased person, is presumed, in law, to be fully apprized of the extent of such representative's authority to act in behalf of such estate.

55. In an action against a railroad company, by a passenger, to recover damages for injuries sustained on the road, it is not compulsory upon the plaintiff to prove actual negligence in the defendants; but it is obligatory on the part of the latter to prove that the injury was not owing to any fault or negligence of theirs.

56. A guest is a competent witness, in an action between himself and an inn-keeper, to prove the character and value of lost personal baggage. Money in a trunk, not exceeding the amount reasonably required by the traveler to defray the expenses of the journey which he has undertaken, is a part of his baggage; and in case of its loss, while at any inn, the plaintiff may prove its amount by his own testimony.

57. The deed of a minor is not absolutely void. The court is authorized to judge, from the instrument, whether it is void or not, according to its terms being favorable or unfavorable to the interests of the minor.

58. A married woman can neither sue nor be sued on any contract made by her during her marriage, except in an action relating to her individual property. The action must be commenced either by or against her husband. It is only when an action is brought on a contract made by her before her marriage, that she is to be joined as a co-plaintiff, or defendant, with her husband.

59. Any contract made with a person judicially declared a lunatic is void.

60. Money paid voluntarily in any transaction, with a knowledge of the facts, cannot be recovered.

74. The defendant in a suit must be served with process; but service of such process upon his wife, even in his absence from the State, is not, in the absence of statutory provisions, sufficient.

75. The measure of damages in trespass for cutting timber, is its value as a chattel on the land where it was felled, and not the market price of the lumber manufactured.

76. To support an indictment for malicious mischief in killing an animal, malice towards its owner must be shown, not merely passion excited against the animal itself.

77. No action can be maintained against a sheriff for omitting to account for money obtained upon an execution within a reasonable time. He has till the return day to render such account.

78. An interest in the profits of an enterprise, as profits, renders the party holding it a partner in the enterprise, and makes him presumptively liable to share any loss.

80. All cattle found at large upon any public road, can be driven by any person to the public pound.

81. Any dog chasing, barking, or otherwise threatening a passer-by in any street, lane, road, or other public thoroughfare, may be lawfully killed for the same.

82. A written promise for the payment of such amount as may come into the hands of the promisor, is held to be an instrument in writing for the payment of money.

83. The declaration of an agent is not admissible to establish the fact of agency.— But when other proper evidence is given, tending to establish the fact of agency, it is not error to admit the declarations of the agent, accompanying acts, though tending to show the capacity in which he acted. When evidence is competent in one respect and incompetent in another, it is the duty of the court to admit it, and control its effects by suitable instructions to the jury.

84. The court has a general power to remove or suspend an attorney for such immoral conduct as rendered him unworthy of confidence in his official capacity.

85. Bankruptcy is pleadable in bar to all actions and in all courts, and this bar may be avoided whenever it is interposed, by showing fraud in the procurement of the discharge, or a violation of any of the provisions of the bankrupt act.

86. An instrument in the form of a deed, but limited to take effect at the termination of the grantor's natural life, is held to be a deed, not a will.

87. A sale will not be set aside as fraudulent, simply because the buyer was at the time unable to make the payment agreed upon, and knew his inability, and did not intend to pay.

88. No man is under an obligation to make known his circumstances when he is buying goods.

89. Contracting parties are bound to disclose material facts known to each, but of which either supposes the other to be ignorant, only when they stand in some special relation of trust and confidence in relation to the subject matter of the contract. But neither will be protected if he does anything, however slight, to mislead or deceive the other.

90. A contract negotiated by mail is formed when notice of acceptance of the offer is duly deposited in the post-office, properly addressed. This rule applies, although the party making the offer expressly requires that if it is accepted, speedy notice of acceptance shall be given him.

91. The date of an instrument is so far a material part of it, that an alteration of the date by the holder after execution, makes the instrument void.

92. A corporation may maintain an action for libel, for words published of them and relating to its trade or business, by which it has incurred special damages.

93. It is unprofessional for a lawyer who has abandoned his case without trying it, a term or two before trial, to claim a fee conditional upon the success of his client, although his client was successful.

94. Although a party obtaining damages for injuries received through the default of another, was himself guilty of negligence, yet that will not defeat his recovery, unless his negligence contributed to cause the injury.

95. A person may contract to labor for another during life, in consideration of receiving his support; but his creditors have the right to inquire into the intention with which such arrangement is made, and it will be set aside if entered into to deprive them of his future earnings.

96. A grantor may by express terms exclude the bed of a river, or a highway, mentioned as boundary; but if without language of exclusion a line is described as 'along,' or 'upon,' or as 'running to' the highway or river, or as 'by,' or 'running to the bank of' the river; these expressions carry the grantee to the center of the highway or river.

97. The court will take pains to construe the words used in a deed in such a way as to effect the intention of the parties, however unskillfully the instrument may be drawn. But a court of law cannot exchange an intelligible word plainly employed in a deed for another, however evident it may be that the word used was by mistake for another.

98. One who has lost his memory and understanding is entitled to legal protection, whether such loss is occasioned by his own misconduct or by an act of Providence.

100. Necessaries of dress furnished to a discarded wife must correspond with the pecuniary circumstances of the husband, and be such articles as the wife, if prudent, would expect, and the husband should furnish, if the parties lived harmoniously together.

101. A fugitive from justice from one of the United States to another, may be arrested and detained in order to his surrender by authority of the latter, without a previous demand for his surrender by the executive of the State whence he fled.

102. A watch will not pass under a bequest of "wearing apparel," nor of household furniture and articles for family use."

103. Money paid for the purpose of settling or compounding a prosecution for a supposed felony, cannot be recovered back by a party paying it.

104. An innkeeper is liable for the death of an animal in his possession, but may free himself from liability by showing that the death was not occasioned by negligence on his part.

105. Notice to the agent of a company is notice to the company.

106. An employer is not liable to one of his employes for an injury sustained by the latter in consequence of the neglect of others of his employes engaged in the same general business.

107. Where a purchaser at a Sheriff's sale has bid the full price of property under the erroneous belief that the sale would divest the property of all liens, it is the duty of the court to give relief by setting aside the sale.

108. When notice of protest is properly sent by mail, it may be sent by the mail of the day of the dishonor; if not, it must be mailed for the mail of the next day; except that if there is none, or it closes at an unseasonably early hour, then notice must be mailed in season for the next possible mail.

109. A powder-house located in a populous part of a city, and containing large quantities of gunpowder, is a nuisance.

110. When the seller of goods accepts at the time of the sale, the note of a third person, unindorsed by the purchaser, in payment, the presumption is that the payment was intended to be absolute; and though the note should be dishonored, the purchaser will not be liable for the value of the goods.

111. A man charged with crime before a committing magistrate, but discharged on his own recognizance, is not privileged from arrest on civil process while returning from the magistrate's office.

112. When one has been induced to sell goods by means of false pretences, he cannot recover them from one who has bona fide purchased and obtained possession of them from the fraudulent vendor.

113. If the circumstances attendant upon a sale and delivery of personal property are such as usually and naturally accompany such a transaction, it cannot be declared a legal fraud upon creditors.

114. A stamp impressed upon an instrument by way of seal, is good as a seal, if it creates a durable impression in the texture of the paper.

115. If a party bound to make a payment use due diligence to make a tender, but through the payee's absence from home is unable to find him or any agent authorized to take payment for him, no forfeiture will be incurred through his failure to make a tender.

Government Land Measure.

A township, 36 sections, each a mile square.

A section, 640 acres.

A quarter section, half a mile square, 160 acres.

An eighth section, half a mile long, north and south, and a quarter of a mile wide, 80 acres.

A sixteenth section, a quarter of a mile square, 40 acres.

The sections are numbered from one to thirty-six, commencing at the northeast corner, thus:

|    |    |    |    |    |    |   |   |
|----|----|----|----|----|----|---|---|
| 6  | 5  | 4  | 3  | 2  | n  | w | e |
|    |    |    |    |    | s  | w | e |
| 7  | 8  | 9  | 10 | 11 | 12 |   |   |
| 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 |   |   |
| 19 | 20 | 21 | 22 | 23 | 24 |   |   |
| 30 | 29 | 28 | 27 | 26 | 25 |   |   |
| 31 | 32 | 33 | 34 | 35 | 36 |   |   |

The sections are all divided in quarters, which are named by the cardinal points, as in section one. The quarters are divided in the same way. The description of a 40 acre lot would read: The south half of the west half of the southwest quarter of section 1 in township 24, north of range 7 west, or as the case might be; and sometimes will fall short, and sometimes overrun the number of acres it is supposed to contain.

THE DECIMAL SYSTEM OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

As Authorized by Act of Congress--Approved July 28, 1866.

STANDARDS.

In every system of Weights and Measures it is necessary to have what are called "Standards," as the pound, yard, gallon, &c., to be divided and multiplied into smaller and larger parts and denominations. The definition and construction of these Standards involve philosophical and scientific principles of a somewhat abstruse character, and are made and procured by the legislative department of the government. The nominal Standards in the new system are the METER, the ARE, the LITER, and the GRAM. The only real Standard, the one by which all the other standards are measured, and from which the system derives its name of "Metric," is the METER.

THE METER

Is used for all measures of length, distance, breadth, depth, height, &c., and was intended to be, and is very nearly, one ten-millionth of the distance on the earth's surface from the equator to the pole. It is about 39 $\frac{3}{4}$  inches, or 3 feet, 3 inches and 3 eighths, and is to be substituted for the yard.

THE ARE

Is a surface whose side is ten Meters, and is equal to 100 square Meters or about 4 square rods.

THE LITER

Is the unit for measuring solids and capacity, and is equal to the contents of a cube whose edge is one-tenth of a meter. It is about equal to 1 quart, and is a standard in cubic, dry and liquid measures.

✂ A cubic Meter (or Kiloliter) is called a stere, and is also used as a standard in certain cubic measures.

THE GRAM

Is the Unit of weight, and is the weight of a cube of pure water, each edge of the cube being one one-hundredth of a Meter. It is about equal to 15 $\frac{1}{4}$  grains. It is intended as the Standard in all weights, and with its divisions and multiples, to supersede the use of what are now called Avoirdupois, Apothecaries and Troy Weights.

Each of the foregoing Standards is divided decimally, and larger units are also formed by multiples of 10, 100, &c. The successive subordinate parts are designated by the prefixes Deci, Centi and Milli; the successive multiples by Deka, Hecto, Kilo and Myria; each having its own numerical signification, as will be more clearly seen in the tables hereinafter given.

The terms used may, at first sight, have a formidable appearance, seem difficult to pronounce, and to retain in memory, and to be, therefore, objectionable; but with a little attention and use, the apprehended difficulty will be found more apparent than real, as has been abundantly proved by experience. The importance, also, of conformity in the use of commercial terms, on the part of the United States, with the practice of the many nations in which the system, with its present nomenclature, has already been adopted, must greatly overbalance the comparatively slight objection alluded to.

Acts and Resolutions of Congress.

PUBLIC—No. 153.

AN ACT to authorize the use of the metric system of weights and measures.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful throughout the United States of America to employ the weights and measures of the metric system; and no contract or dealing, or pleading in any court, shall be deemed invalid or liable to objection, because the weights or measures expressed or referred to therein are weights or measures of the metric system.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the tables in the schedule hereto annexed, shall be recognized in the construction of contracts, and in all legal proceedings, as establishing, in terms of the weights and measures now in use in the United States, the equivalents of the weights and measures expressed therein in terms of the metric system; and said tables may be lawfully used for computing, determining and expressing, in customary weights and measures, the weights and measures of the metric system.

Discount and Premium.

When a person buys an article for $1.00—20 per cent off, (or discount,) and sells it again for $1.00, he makes a profit of 25 per cent on his investment. Thus: He pays 80 cents and sells for $1.00—a gain of 20 cents, or 25 per cent of 80 cents. And for any transaction where the sale or purchase of gold, silver, or currency is concerned, the following rules will apply in all cases.

RULE 1st.—To find premium when discount is given: Multiply 100 by rate of discount and divide by 100, less rate of discount.

RULE 2d.—To find discount when premium is given. Multiply the rate of interest by 100, and divide by 100, plus the rate of premium.

Suppose A has $140 in currency, which he wishes to exchange for gold, when gold is 27 per cent premium, how much gold should he receive? In this case the premium is given, consequently we must find the discount on A's currency and subtract it from the $140, as per rule 2d, showing the discount to be a trifle more than 21 per cent, and that he should receive $110.60 in gold.

Facts on Advertising.

The advertisements in an ordinary number of the London Times exceed 2,500. The annual advertising bills of one London firm are said to amount to $200,000; and three others are mentioned who each annually expend for the purpose $50,000. The expense for advertising the eight editions of the "Encyclopædia Britannica" is said to have been $15,000.

In large cities nothing is more common than to see large business establishments, which seem to have an immense advantage over all competitors, by the wealth, experience, and prestige they have acquired, drop gradually out of public view, and be succeeded by firms of a smaller capital, more energy, and more determined to have the fact that they sell such and such commodities known from one end of the land to the other. In other words, the establishments advertise; the old die of dignity.—The former are ravenous to pass out of obscurity into publicity; the latter believe that their publicity is so obvious that it cannot be obscured. The first understand that they must thrust themselves upon public attention, or be disregarded; the second, having once obtained public attention, suppose they have arrested it permanently; while, in fact, nothing is more characteristic of the world than the ease with which it forgets.

Stephen Girard, than whom no shrewder business man ever lived, used to say: I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule too, to advertise in the dullest times as well as the busiest; long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out; as by keeping my business continually before the public it has secured me many sales that I would otherwise have lost.

Brilliant Whitewash.

Many have heard of the brilliant stucco whitewash on the east end of the President's house at Washington. The following is a recipe for it; it is gleaned from the National Intelligencer, with some additional improvements learned by experiments: Take half a bushel of nice unslacked lime, slack it with boiling water, cover it during the process to keep in the steam. Strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer, and add to it a peck of salt, previously well dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice, boiled to a thin paste, and stirred in boiling hot; half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting, and a pound of clean glue, which has been previously dissolved by soaking it well, and then hanging it over a slow fire, in a small kettle within a large one filled with water. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture, stir it well, and let it stand a few days covered from the dirt.

It should be put on right hot; for this purpose it can be kept in a kettle on a portable furnace. It is said that about a pint of this mixture will cover a square yard upon the outside of a house if properly applied. Brushes more or less small may be used according to the neatness of the job required. It answers as well as oil paint for wood, brick or stone, and is cheaper. It retains its brilliancy for many years. There is nothing of the kind that will compare with it, either for inside or outside walls.

Coloring matter may be put in and made of any shade you like. Spanish brown stirred in will make red pink, more or less deep according to the quantity. A delicate tinge of this is very pretty, for inside walls. Finely pulverized common clay, well mixed with Spanish brown, makes a reddish stone color. Yellow-ochre stirred in makes yellow wash, but chrome goes further, and makes a color generally esteemed prettier. In all these cases the darkness of the shades of course is determined by the quantity of coloring used. It is difficult to make rules, because tastes are different. It would be best to try experiments on a shingle and let it dry. We have been told that green must not be mixed with lime. The lime destroys the color, and the color has an effect on the whitewash, which makes it crack and peel. When walls have been badly smoked, and you wish to have them a clean white, it is well to squeeze indigo plentifully through a bag into the water you use, before it is stirred in the whole mixture. If a larger quantity than five gallons be wanted, the same proportion should be observed.

How to get a Horse out of a Fire.

The great difficulty of getting horses from a stable where surrounding buildings are in a state of conflagration, is well known.—The plan of covering their eyes with a blanket will not always succeed.

A gentleman whose horses have been in great peril from such a cause, having tried in vain to save them, hit upon the expedient of having them harnessed as though going to their usual work, when, to his astonishment, they were led from the stable without difficulty.

The Chemical Barometer.

Take a long narrow bottle, such as an old-fashioned Eau-de-Cologne bottle, and put into it two and a half drachms of camphor, and eleven drachms of spirits of wine; when the camphor is dissolved, which it will readily do by slight agitation, add the following mixture: Take water, nine drachms; nitrate of potash (saltpetre) thirty-eight grains; and muriate of ammonia (sal ammoniac) thirty-eight grains. Dissolve these salts in the water prior to mixing with the camphorated spirit; then shake the whole well together. Cork the bottle well, and wax the top, but afterwards make a very small aperture in the cork with a red-hot needle. The bottle may then be hung up, or placed in any stationary position. By observing the different appearances which the materials assume, as the weather changes, it becomes an excellent prognosticator of a coming storm or of a sunny sky.

Leech Barometer.

Take an eight ounce phial, and put in it three gills of water, and place in it a healthy leech, changing the water in summer once a week, and in winter once in a fortnight, and it will most accurately prognosticate the weather. If the weather is to be fine, the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the glass and coiled together in a spiral form; if rain may be expected, it will creep up to the top of its lodgings and remain there till the weather is settled; if we are to have wind, it will move through its habitation with amazing swiftness, and seldom goes to rest till it begins to blow hard; if a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is to succeed, it will lodge for some days before almost continually out of the water, and discover great uneasiness in violent throes and convulsive-like motions; in frost as in clear summer-like weather it lies constantly at the bottom; and in snow as in rainy weather it pitches its dwelling in the very mouth of the phial. The top should be covered over with a piece of muslin.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

[The following recipes are vouched for by several who have tried them and proven their virtues. Many of them have been sold singly for more than the price of this book.—PUB.]

HORSES.

RING BONE AND SPAVIN.—2 oz. each of Spanish flies and Venice turpentine; 1 oz. each of aqua ammonia and euphorbium;  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. red precipitate;  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. corrosive sublimate;  $\frac{1}{2}$  lbs. lard. When thoroughly pulverized and mixed, heat carefully so as not to burn, and pour off free from sediment.

For ring-bone, rub in thoroughly, after removing hair, once in 48 hours. For spavin, once in 24 hours. Cleanse and press out the matter on each application.

POLL-EVIL.—Gum arabic  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz.; common potash  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz.; extract of belladonna  $\frac{1}{2}$  dr. Put the gum in just enough water to dissolve it. Pulverize the potash and mix with the dissolved gum, and then put in the extract of belladonna, and it will be ready for use. Use with a syringe after having cleansed with soap suds, and repeat once in two days till a cure is affected.

SCOTRS.—Powdered tormentil root, given in milk, from 3 to 5 times daily till cured.

GREASE-HEEL AND SCRATCHES.—Sweet oil 6 ozs.; borax 2 ozs.; sugar of lead 2 ozs. Wash off with dish water, and, after it is dry, apply the mixture twice a day.

CHOLIC IN HORSES.—To  $\frac{1}{2}$  pt. of warm water add 1 oz. landanum and 3 ozs. spirits of turpentine, and repeat the dose in about  $\frac{1}{2}$  of an hour, adding  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. powdered aloes, if not relieved.

BOTS.—Three doses. 1st. 2 qts. milk and 1 of molasses. 2d. 15 minutes after, 2 qts. warm sage tea. 3d. After the expiration of 30 minutes, sufficient lard to physic.—Never fails.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PILES—PERFECTLY CURED.—Take flour of sulphur 1 oz., rosin 3 ozs., pulverize and mix well together. (Color with carmine or cochineal, if you like.) Dose—What will lie on a five cent piece, night and morning, washing the parts freely in cold water once or twice a day. This is a remedy of great value.

The cure will be materially hastened by taking a table-spoon of sulphur in a half pint of milk, daily, until the cure is effected.

SURE CURE FOR CORNS, WARTS AND CHILBLAINS.—Take of nitric and muriatic acids, blue vitriol and salts of tartar, 1 oz. each. Add the blue vitriol, pulverized, to either of the acids; add the salts of tartar in the same way; when done foaming, add the other acid, and in a few days it will be ready for use. For chilblains and corns apply it very lightly with a swab, and repeat in a day or two until cured. For warts, once a week, until they disappear.

HOOF-AIL IN SHEEP.—Mix 2 ozs. each of butter of antimony and muriatic acid with 1 oz. of pulverized white vitriol, and apply once or twice a week to the bottom of the foot.

COMMON RHEUMATISM.—Kerosene oil 2 ozs.; neat-foot oil 1 oz.; oil of orzanum  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. Shake when used, and rub and heat in twice daily.

VERY FINE SOAP, QUICKLY AND CHEAPLY MADE.—Fourteen pounds of bar soap in a half boiler of hot water; cut up fine; add three pounds of sal-soda made fine; one ounce of pulverized rosin; stir it often till all is dissolved; just as you take it off the fire, put in two table-spoonfuls of spirits of turpentine and one of ammonia; pour it in a barrel, and fill up with cold soft water; let it stand three or four days before using. It is an excellent soap for washing clothes, extracting the dirt readily, and not fading colored articles.

WATER PROOF FOR LEATHER.—Take linseed oil 1 pint, yellow wax and white turpentine each 2 ozs. Burgundy pitch 1 oz., melt and color with lampblack.

TO KEEP CIDER SWEET.—Put into each barrel, immediately after making,  $\frac{1}{2}$  lb. ground mustard, 2 oz. salt and 2 oz. pulverized chalk. Stir them in a little cider, pour them into the barrel, and shake up well.

AGUE CURE.—Procure  $1\frac{1}{2}$  table-spoons of fresh mandrake root juice, (by pounding) and mix with the same quantity of molasses, and take in three equal doses, 2 hours a part, the whole to be taken 1 hour before the chill comes on. Take a swallow of some good bitters before meals, for a couple of weeks after the chills are broken, and the cure will be permanent.

CURE FOR SALT RHEUM OR SCURVY.—Take of the pokeweed, any time in summer; pound it; press out the juice; strain it into a pewter dish; set it in the sun till it becomes a salve—then put it into an earthen mug; add to it fresh water and bees' wax sufficient to make an ointment of common consistency; simmer the whole over a fire till thoroughly mixed. When cold, rub the part affected. The patient will almost immediately experience its good effects, and the most obstinate cases will be cured in three or four months. Tested.—The juice of the ripe berries may be prepared in the same way.

SUPERIOR PAINT—FOR BRICK HOUSES.—To lime whitewash, add for a fastener, sulphate of zinc, and shade with any color you choose, as yellow ochre, Venetian red, etc. It outlasts oil paint.

FELONS.—Stir 1 oz. of Venice turpentine with  $\frac{1}{2}$  tea-spoonful of water, till it looks like candied honey, and apply by spreading upon cloth and wrapping around the finger. If not too long delayed will cure in 6 hours.

A poke root poultice is also said to be a sure remedy.

WATER-PROOF BLACKING AND HARNESS POLISH.—Take two and a half ounces gum shellac and half a pint of alcohol, and set in a warm place until dissolved; then add two and a half ounces Venice turpentine to neutralize the alcohol; add a table-spoonful of lampblack. Apply with a fine sponge. It will give a good polish over oil or grease.

MOSQUITOS.—To get rid of these tormentors, take a few hot coals on a shovel, or a chafing dish, and burn upon them some brown sugar in your bed-rooms and parlors, and you effectually banish or destroy every mosquito for the night.

CHEAP OUTSIDE PAINT.—Take two parts (in bulk) of water lime ground fine, one part (in bulk) of white lead ground in oil. Mix them thoroughly, by adding best boiled linseed oil, enough to prepare it to pass through a paint mill, after which temper with oil till it can be applied with a common paint brush. Make any color to suit. It will last three times as long as lead paint, and cost not one-fourth as much. It is SUPERIOR.

CURE FOR A COUGH.—A strong decoction of the leaves of the pine, sweetened with loaf sugar. Take a wine-glass warm on going to bed, and half an hour before eating three times a day. The above is sold as a cough syrup, and is doing wonderful cures, and it is sold at a great profit to the manufacturers.

How to Judge a Horse.

A correspondent, contrary to old maxims, undertakes to judge the character of a horse by outward appearances, and offers the following suggestions, the result of his close observation and long experience:

If the color be light sorrell, or chestnut, his feet, legs and face white, these are marks of kindness. If he is broad and full between the eyes, he may be depended on as a horse of good sense, and capable of being trained to anything.

As respects such horses, the more kindly you treat them the better you will be treated in return. Nor will a horse of this description stand a whip, if well fed.

If you want a safe horse, avoid one that is dish-faced. He may be so far gentle as not to scare; but he will have too much go-ahead in him to be safe with everybody.

If you want a fool, but a horse of great bottom, get a deep bay, with not a white hair about him. If his face is a little dish-ed, so much the worse. Let no man ride such a horse that is not an adept in riding—they are always tricky and unsafe.

If you want one that will never give out, never buy a large, overgrown one.

A black horse cannot stand heat, nor a white one cold.

If you want a gentle horse, get one with more or less white about the head; the more the better. Many persons suppose the parti-colored horses belonging to the circuses, shows, &c., are selected for their oddity. But the selections thus made are on account of their great docility and gentleness.

Measurement of Hay in the Mow or Stack.—It is often desirable, where conveniences for weighing are not at hand, to purchase and sell hay by measurement. It is evident that no fixed rule will answer in all cases, as it would require more cubic feet at the top of a mow than at the bottom. The general rule adopted by those who have tested it, is that a cube, each side of which shall measure eight feet, of solid Timothy hay, as taken from mow or bottom of stack will weigh a ton. The rule may be varied for upper part of mow or stack according to pressure.

EXPLANATION.—Find the Year and observe the Letter above it; then look for the Month, and in a line with it find the Letter of the Year; above the Letter find the Day; and the figures on the left, in the same line, are the days of the same name in the month.

Leap Years have two letters; the first is used till the end of February, the second during the remainder of the year.

OTSEGO COUNTY.

THIS COUNTY was formed from Montgomery, February 16, 1791, and embraced the two original towns of Otsego and Cherry Valley. A part of Schoharie was taken off in 1795, and a part of Delaware in 1797. It lies upon the highlands at the head of Susquehanna River, south-east of the center of the State. It is centrally distant 66 miles from Albany and contains 1,038 square miles. The surface is a hilly upland, divided into several ridges, separated by deep, broad valleys. The declivities are generally gradual, and the highest summits are from 400 to 700 feet above the valleys, and 1,700 to 2,000 feet above tide. The ridges have a general north-east and south-west direction. A high and rocky upland extends into the south-east corner from Delaware County, terminating upon Schenevus Creek, in an abrupt and wall-like declivity, 300 to 500 feet high. The other ridges of the County have a nearly uniform elevation, and generally terminate in steep declivities upon the valleys of the streams.

The principal streams are Unadilla River, forming the west boundary; Wharton and Butternut Creeks, its principal tributaries; Susquehanna River, Otsego, Cherry Valley and Schenevus Creeks. Charlotte River forms a small portion of the south boundary. A large number of smaller streams are tributary to the above. A few small streams rise in the north-east corner and flow into the Mohawk. Otsego Lake, in the north-east part, is a fine sheet of water about eight miles long and one mile wide. It is 1,193 feet above tide and is surrounded by hills from 400 to 500 feet high. Its outlet forms the principal head branch of the Susquehanna. Schuyler Lake, situated a few miles north-west of Otsego, is about three and a half miles long. There are several other small ponds in the County.

The rocks in the north-east corner consist of the limestones of the Helderbergh division. The hills in the south part are composed of the shales of the Hamilton group and the shales and sandstones of the Portage and Chemung groups. The summits in the extreme south and south-east corner are crowned by the red sandstone and shales of the Catskill group. Most of the valuable quarries of the County are found in the limestone region of the north-east. The soil in the north-east is a good quality of gravelly and calcareous loam, but further south it is a clay and shaly loam upon the hills, and a gravelly loam and alluvium in the valleys. The uplands are best adapted to grazing; the river intervals are well adapted to the cultivation of grain. Stock raising and dairying furnish the principal employment of the people. Hops are extensively cultivated. Manufacturing is limited, though there is an abundance of water power.

The County Seat is located at Cooperstown, in the town of Otsego, at the foot of Otsego Lake. The first Court House was built in 1791; it was thirty feet square; the lower story was of hewn logs and used as a Jail; the upper story was a frame and used for the Courts. The Jury rooms were in a tavern occupied by the Jailor, and standing on the same lot at the south-east corner of Main and Pioneer Streets. In 1806-7 a new Court House was erected near the site of the present structure; it was of brick and the lower story was used as a Jail. This was burned December 17, 1840. The present structure was erected in 1841; it is of stone, 46 by 56 feet. The Jail and Sheriff's house are of stone and located a short distance west of the Court House. The Clerk's office is of brick, two stories high, and contains the Surrogate's office. It is located adjacent to the Court House.

The first County officers were William Cooper, First Judge; Jacob Morris, County Clerk; Richard B. Smith, Sheriff; and James Cannon, Surrogate.

The County Poor House is located upon a farm of 160 acres, in the town of Middlefield.

The Albany & Susquehanna Railroad extends along the valleys of the Susquehanna River and Schenevus Creek, through Worcester, Maryland, Milford, Oneonta, Otsego and Unadilla. The Cooperstown & Susquehanna Valley Railroad connects with the Albany & Susquehanna Railroad at Junction Station in the town of Milford, and extends along the Susquehanna Valley through Hartwick to Cooperstown. The Utica, Chenango & Susquehanna Valley R. R., connecting Utica with Richfield Springs, passes through Plainfield and Richfield. The Sharon & Cherry Valley R. R. extends from Cobleskill, on the A. & S. R. R., to Cherry Valley. It is proposed to connect these roads and it is also proposed to extend the Cooperstown road to some point on the Utica road. Another road is in contemplation from Oneonta to New Berlin, to connect with roads now in process of construction, making a direct line from New York to Syracuse.

There are ten weekly newspapers published in this County. The first paper published in the County, and the second in the State, west of Albany, was

The Otsego Herald or Western Advertiser, started at Cooperstown, April 3, 1795, by Elisha Phinney. Its motto was:

"Historic truth our Herald shall proclaim,
The law our guide, the public good our aim!"

Mr. Phinney continued its publication until his death in 1813. It was then published by his sons, H. & E. Phinney, until 1821, when it was discontinued.

The Impartial Observer was started at Cooperstown, October 22, 1808. It was owned by Judge Cooper and edited by Mr. Andrews. It soon after passed into the hands of John H. Prentiss, who changed the name to

The Cooperstown Federalist. As early as 1820 the name was changed to

THE FREEMAN'S JOURNAL. In 1849 it passed into the hands of Daniel Shaw and J. T. Titus. In 1851 Mr. Samuel M. Shaw, the present editor and proprietor, purchased the paper, enlarged and improved it, and has continued its publication to the present time.

The Otsego Republican was published at Cherry Valley in 1812 by Clark & Crandal.

The Switch was started March 11, 1809, at Cooperstown. It represented its editor's name as Anthony Switchem. It was short lived.

The Watch Tower was established at Cherry Valley in 1813. It was removed to Cooperstown in 1814, and published by Israel W. Clark until May 1817, when it passed into the hands of Edward B. Crandal, who continued its publication until 1831.

The Tocsin was commenced at Cooperstown in June 1829, by Dutton & Hewes. In 1831 the name was changed to

The Otsego Republican. It was published by Dutton & Hopkins about one year; by Hopkins, a year; by Hopkins & Clark, a year; by A. W. Clark, a year; and by Andrew M. Barber, four or five years. In 1840 it was issued by I. K. Williams & Co., and three years after it again passed into the hands of A. M. Barber, and was continued by him until his death in 1855. In October 1855 it was united with

The Otsego Democrat, which was commenced in 1847 by James I. Hendryx, by whom it was published until October 1855, when it was united with the Republican and the combined papers published as

THE REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRAT, by James I. Hendryx & Co., until 1856. It was published by Hendryx & J. B. Wood until May 1858, since which Mr. Hendryx has been the sole proprietor. Mr. Charles F. Hendryx, son of the proprietor, is now associated with his father as editor. It is a large paper, nine columns to the page, and a fitting representative of the enterprise of the publisher as well as of the flourishing village of Cooperstown.

The Otsego Ezaminer was commenced at Cooperstown in 1855 by Robert Shankland. B. W. Burditt soon after became the proprietor and continued its publication until 1857.

The Cherry Valley Gazette was started in October 1818, by William McLean, who continued its publication until 1832. It then passed into the hands of Charles McLean, who continued it until January 1, 1847, when A. S. Bottsford became the proprietor and continued it until 1851. Charles McLean again became the proprietor and, in 1853, sold to John B. King, who published it one year under the name of

The American Banner, when he sold to A. S. Bottsford, who changed the name back to

THE CHERRY VALLEY GAZETTE, under which title it has been published at intervals, by various parties; to the present time. It is now published by William A. Smith.

THE SAW BUCK is a monthly, published at Cherry Valley by John Fea.

The Otsego Farmer was published at Cherry Valley in 1841.

The Otsego County Courier was commenced at the village of Louisville, in the town of Morris, by Wm. H. S. Wynans, in 1845.

The Village Advertiser was commenced at the same place in 1851. It was a quarterly publication, conducted, in 1855, by A. S. Avery.

THE ONEONTA HERALD was commenced Feb. 9, 1853, at Oneonta Village, by L. P. Carpenter. In 1868 G. W. Reynolds became the publisher and continued it until 1870, when it passed into the hands of C. S. Carpenter, the present publisher.

THE OTSEGO DEMOCRAT was started July 31, 1868, by G. A. Dodge, at Oneonta, as

The Susquehanna Independent. It was published under this title until June 5, 1869, when the name was changed to

Home and Abroad. April 9, 1870, it received its present name. It is a large eight page sheet and published by G. A. Dodge.

The Unadilla Times was started in June 1856 by John Brown. It soon passed into the hands of E. S. Watson and subsequently to George B. Fellows. G. E. Beadle was the publisher for a time. In June 1869, G. A. Dodge purchased the paper and issued

HOME AND ABROAD, which is still continued.

The Unadilla Advertiser was published for a time.

THE SCHENEVUS MONITOR was started in September 1864, by J. J. Multer, as an independent paper. It soon after espoused the cause of the Democracy and is still published by him. J. J. & J. L. Multer are the editors.

The Otego Literary Record was started in 1868. It is now called THE OTEGO RECORD and is published by E. H. Orwen.

The Otego Chronicle was started in 1866, at Morris, by Wm. A. Smith. In 1869 it passed into the hands L. P. Carpenter, who changed the name to

THE MORRIS CHRONICLE, and still continues to issue it under this title.

THE RICHFIELD SPRINGS MERCURY was started in July 1865. It is now published by C. Ackerman & Son.

The principal land Patents included in Otsego County were the following; one of 26,000 acres to Sir William Johnson and others, granted May 8, 1770; Banyar's Patent of 4,000 acres, granted April 14, 1753; Belvidere Patent, 100,000 acres, to George Croghan and others, partly in Schoharie County; Cherry Valley Patent, 7,000 acres, to John Lindsey and others; Croghan's Patent, 18,000 acres; Edmeston's Patents of 10,000 acres to Robert and William Edmeston; Franklin Patent, 9,000 acres, to Walter Franklin and others; Hartwick's Patent, 21,500 acres; Lispenard's Patent, 9,000 acres; Middlefield Patent, 29,000 acres, to Godfrey Miller and others; Nettlefield Patent, 13,000 acres, to Richard Laudon and others; Oothoudt's Patent, 13,600 acres; Otsego Patents, one of 69,000 acres to Charles Read and others, and one of 100,000 acres to George Croghan and 99 others; Schuyler's Patent of 43,000 acres; Springfield Patent of 17,000 acres; Upton's Patent of 20,000 acres; and Young's Patent of 20,000 acres, partly in Schoharie.

The first settlement of this County was made at Cherry Valley in 1740 by John Lindsay, who, in connection with Jacob Roseboom, Lendert Gansevoort and Sybrant Van Schaick, had in 1738 received a patent of 8000 acres, lying in the north-east corner of Otsego County and embracing a part of the village and town of Cherry Valley.

Mr. Lindsay subsequently obtained an assignment from the other three patentees, to himself and Governor Clark, made a survey of the patent in 1739, divided it into lots, and the next year made a settlement which he called Lindsay's Bush. He was a Scotch gentleman of some wealth and distinction, and the resemblance that this region bore to some portion of his native land, doubtless had some influence in making this selection. It abounded in game and was a favorite hunting ground of the Mohawk Indians, whose friendship Mr. Lindsay and the other early settlers found it important to cultivate. The first winter after the settlement, the snow fell to a great depth and all communication with the settlements upon the Mohawk was cut off. Sufficient preparation for such a winter had not been made, provisions were nearly exhausted and death by starvation awaited the whole settlement. At this critical time an Indian arrived on snow shoes and, on learning the condition of affairs, rendered them relief by going to the settlements and returning with provisions upon his back. This was continued at intervals until spring, and thus the lives of the first settlers were saved.

In New York, Mr. Lindsay became acquainted with Rev. Samuel Dunlap, upon whom he prevailed to visit his patent, offering him several hundred acres on condition that he would settle upon it and use his influence to induce his friends to accompany him. He was an Irishman by birth, but had been educated in Edinburgh and had spent several years in traveling through the American Colonies. Through his influence several families from Londonderry, N. H., were induced to settle at Cherry Valley in 1741. Among these were David Ramsay, William Galt, James Campbell, William Dickson, with their families, in all numbering about thirty persons. They had migrated from the north of Ireland several years previous, some of them having come originally from Scotland, being designated as Scotch-Irish.

For several years the most friendly relations existed between the Indians and settlers, but at length, through the intrigues of the French, the Indians in many instances came to look upon the settlers as intruders rather than friends. A war colony was sent out and established at Oquago in Broome County. It was composed chiefly of Mohawks who remained attached to the English, paid their annual visits to Sir William Johnson and received presents from the English Government. Those who had violated the laws were not permitted to share with the others. A few of this class concerted a plan for destroying the settlement at Cherry Valley while the inhabitants were at church on the Sabbath, but being discovered, the settlers were on their guard, and the Indians withdrew and gave up the plan. Subsequently, owing to the danger arising from the defection of many of the western tribes and the threatenings of those in league with the French, a body of eight hundred Rangers was ordered to be raised for the defense of Tryon County, of which Otsego formed a part, and one company, under the command of Capt. McKean, was stationed at Cherry Valley. During the continuance of the French War the inhabitants were often called upon to repel the invasions of the French and Indians. During these troublesome times, small settlements had been established at various points in the County, in the present towns of Springfield, Richfield, Middlefield, Laurens and Otego. Rev. William Johnstone had established a colony on the east side of the Susquehanna, a short distance below the forks of the Unadilla. Previous to the Revolution, the territory now embraced in Otsego County formed a part of Canajoharie District, one of the five sub-divisions into which Tryon County was divided. Sir William Johnson had held almost unlimited sway over the Indians and exerted a vast influence over the white population of the County. He died just before active hostilities broke out, and his legal authority was transferred to his son, Sir John Johnson, and to his sons-in-law, Col. Guy Johnson and Col. Daniel Claus, all of whom espoused with great ardor the cause of the mother country. This operated unfavorably upon the patriots of Tryon County, as the influence of the Johnsons was such as to unite most of the Indians against the Colonists.

At a Court held in Johnstown in the spring of 1775, a declaration was drawn up and circulated by the loyalists of Tryon County, in which they avowed their opposition to the measures adopted by the Congress that had held its session the preceding year. Though this declaration was opposed, it was signed by nearly all of the Grand Jury and the Magistrates. The excitement increased, meetings were called in almost all the districts and precincts, and committees appointed to take into consideration the terrible state of affairs in the country. At Cherry Valley a meeting was called, the little church was filled with inhabitants of every age. "Parents took their children with them, that they might early breathe the air of freedom, and that their first lisplings might be in favor of the liberties of their Country. Thomas Spencer, a resident of the place, and an Indian interpreter, addressed the meeting in a strain of rude though impassioned eloquence. The noblest efforts of a Henry or an Otis never wrought more sensibly upon the feelings of the respective congresses which they addressed, than did the harangue of this unlettered patriot upon that little assembly." The following is the article of association subscribed to by the patriots in various parts of the County:

Whereas the Grand Jury of this County and a number of Magistrates have signed a declaration declaring their disapprobation of the opposition made by the colonies to the oppressive and arbitrary acts of Parliament, the purport of which is evidently to entail slavery on America; and as the said declaration may, in some measure, be looked upon as the sense of the County in general, if the same be passed over in silence, we the subscribers, freeholders and the inhabitants of the said County, inspired with a sincere love for our Country, and deeply interested in the common cause, do solemnly declare our fixed attachment and entire approbation of the proceedings of the grand Continental Congress held at Philadelphia last fall, and that we will strictly adhere to, and repose our confidence in the wisdom and integrity of the present Continental Congress; and that we will support the same to the utmost of our power, and that we will religiously and inviolably observe the regulations of that august body."

A meeting of the Committee of the County, chosen from the various districts, assembled June 2, 1775, among whose names we find that of Samuel Campbell of Cherry Valley. A correspondence was carried on between the Committee and the Johnsons as well as with Congress, and the people generally espoused the cause of the Colonies. In June 1777 Joseph Brant went to Unadilla with a party of seventy or eighty Indians and sent for the officers of the militia company and Rev. Mr. Johnstone. Brant informed them that the Indians were in want of provisions, and would take them by force if not by the consent of the citizens. The inhabitants let them have provisions, and after remaining two days they returned, taking with them cattle, sheep &c. The inhabitants friendly to the country immediately removed their families and effects to places of greater safety.

In July General Herkimer marched to Unadilla with 350 militia, and was met by Brant at the head of 130 warriors. To the question whether he would remain at peace if certain complaints which he made against the Colonies were rectified, Brant replied that the Indians were in concert with the King as their fathers and grandfathers had been; that the King's belts were lodged with them and they would not falsify their pledge. He declared that Gen. Herkimer and the rest had joined the Boston people against the King, but that he would subdue them. After making this declaration, Col. Cox said to Brant that if such was his determination, the matter was ended. Brant then turned to his men and, after a few words, they ran to their camp with a shout and, seizing their guns, raised the war-whoop, at the same time discharging several guns. Gen. Herkimer then assured Brant that the object of his interview was one of peace and urged him to prevent hostilities. A word from Brant hushed the storm that was raging in the breasts of his followers, but the interview was postponed until the next day. Previous to the meeting the next day, Gen. Herkimer selected four of his trusty soldiers and instructed them to be in readiness to shoot, at a given signal, Brant and three other chiefs, if the interview did not terminate peacefully. Fortunately the parties separated peacefully, Gen. Herkimer presenting to Brant several head of cattle which had just arrived, having been detained by obstructions in the outlet of Otsego Lake, down which they were transported. This is supposed to be the last interview that was held with any of the Six Nations, except the Oneidas, with a view to prevent their engaging in the war.

The Indians had for years been accustomed to receive their clothing and other necessaries from the English Government, and as they had received little from the Colonists, they joined the party offering the best prospect for pay. Oquago was a place of rendezvous for the Indians, from which place they had paths along the valleys of the main streams flowing into the eastern branch of the Susquehanna, thence to the Mohawk. One of these passes was through Cherry Valley. Every movement of the Indians about Oquago excited the liveliest apprehension on the part of the inhabitants, and when orders were given to remove Captain McKean's Company of Rangers, the following letter was written to the Committee by Rev. Mr. Dunlap, in behalf of the inhabitants. It was dated June 3, 1776:

"Sirs:—We the inhabitants of Cherry Valley, being assembled yesterday at a public town meeting, and among other things taking the present critical situation of affairs into consideration, I ok upon ourselves and the neighborhood around us, Springfield and Newtown-Martin, as a frontier, lying very open and unguarded, and very much exposed to the enemy, in case an Indian war should break out, or any party of the enemy should take it into their heads to come down upon us; and that it would be absolutely necessary to have a party of men stationed here among us, in order to keep a sharp look-out and to scout all around our frontiers; lest at any time we be taken by surprise. And therefore have appointed me to write to you to lay this matter warmly before the committee and earnestly to impress them with the absolute necessity of the thing, and to beg of them, that if Captain McKean and his company be removed from this place, that they would be pleased to send some others in his stead; that we may not lie together: naked and exposed to the assaults of the enemy."

The Committee being unable to comply with this request, several of the inhabitants drew up and signed the following petition to the Provincial Congress of New York:

"The humble petition of the inhabitants of Cherry Valley, Newtown-Martin and Springfield, in the County of Tryon, humbly sheweth:

"That we, the aforesaid inhabitants, from the most authentic intelligence we have received from our missionaries and Indian friends, learn that we are in imminent danger of being cut off by the savages, our enemies whom we understand are bribed by Sir John Johnson and Col. Butler to execute the same. Know also honorable gentlemen, that the spirit of our inhabitants has been such for the American cause, that out of the small and scattered bounds of Cherry Valley and Newton-Martin, no less than thirty-three have turned out for immediate service and good of their country, and thereby left us in a defenseless condition.

"We therefore, your humble petitioners, humbly pray you would forthwith take this, our deplorable condition, under your immediate consideration, and meditate some speedy relief for us, before it be too late; especially, as the inhabitants of the Old English and Unadilla, are daily flying into our settlement, so that we shall immediately, in all appearance, become an open, defenseless and unguarded frontier, and very much exposed to the insults of the enemy, especially scalping parties; and are at present without either ammunition or men any way sufficient to defend ourselves; and unless you, gentlemen, that can help us, will help us, by sending ammunition to the inhabitants, and a sufficient number of men, such as you may think proper, to guard our frontiers, we must expect to fall victims to the rage and fury of our merciless enemies. And therefore, must once more beg you may take this our deplorable circumstances under your consideration, and send us immediate relief, and your petitioners shall ever pray."

The petition was signed by Samuel Dunlap, Samuel Campbell, James Scott, Robert Wells, James Richey, James Moore and Samuel Clyde. Their request was now granted and a company of Rangers under Capt. Winn was ordered here. A company composed of those over sixty years of age or exempt from military duty, was formed in Cherry Valley to protect themselves and their families. In 1777 the house of Col. Samuel Campbell was fortified, a rude embankment of logs and earth inclosing the house and two large barns. Here the inhabitants assembled, bringing with them their most valuable effects. The doors and window shutters were made bullet-proof, and two small block houses were erected in the enclosure. No person was allowed to enter or leave the settlement without permission from the military authorities. Here they remained most of the summer, and in the fall returned to their habitations.

In the spring of 1778, Gen. LaFayette gave directions that a fort should be built at Cherry Valley, and the order was carried out, the inhabitants, during its erection, returning to the quarters occupied the previous summer.

In May, Brant came up from Oquago with a party of Indians for the purpose of making a raid on Cherry Valley. He posted them about a mile distant and, looking down upon the village and its little fortification through the intervening trees, and seeing troops parading on the green, decided to defer the attack. The soldiers which had so alarmed him, were boys with wooden guns.

The danger to which the inhabitants were exposed was so great, that they banded together and went about upon the different farms, some standing guard while others were at work.

In June of this year it was reported that Brant was fortifying at Unadilla and collecting large numbers of Indians and Tories around him. A reward was offered to any person who would gain satisfactory information relative to his plans. Captain McKean volunteered to go if five others would accompany him. The company was soon made up and the party started on their expedition. They arrived the first night at the house of a Quaker named Sleeper, in the town of Laurens. Sleeper informed them that Brant had been there the day before with fifty men, and would return there that night. He advised them to leave, as they would be killed or taken if Brant returned. McKean, seeing that the house was well built, and of logs, said: "Your house, friend Sleeper, shall be my fort to-night; I have with me five good marksmen, and I am not myself deficient in that qualification of a soldier." Sleeper remonstrated, as he wished to remain neutral, and would be involved in difficulty, and in all probability his property and life sacrificed. McKean finally withdrew to an unoccupied house a mile or two distant. He returned by way of the Susquehanna River, having taken two prisoners. He was pursued by the Indians and narrowly escaped being taken. On his return to Cherry Valley he found Capt. Ballard with a detachment of one hundred men belonging to Col. Alden's regiment of Continentals. The Colonel himself arrived in a few days. Stockades were placed around the church, and here Col. Alden took up his quarters.

On the 6th of November he received information that a large body of Indians under Col. Butler, were meditating an attack upon Cherry Valley. On receiving this information, the inhabitants requested permission to remove into the Fort or at least deposit their most valuable effects there; but Col. Alden, thinking the alarm needless, refused, saying he would keep out scouts who would apprise them in time to secure themselves in case of attack. The scout sent down the Susquehanna, kindled a fire on the night of the 9th, and all lay down to sleep. Just before daylight they were all made prisoners.

On the night of the 10th, the enemy encamped about a mile south-west of the Fort and, on the morning of the 11th, moved to the attack of the settlement. The officers of the garrison were stationed in private houses, and the forces of the enemy were so disposed that a party should surround every house in which an officer was lodged, nearly at the same time, while the main body would attack the Fort. Several inches of snow fell during the night, and in the morning it turned to rain, the air being thick and hazy. The assurances of Col. Alden had quieted the fears of the inhabitants and all were resting in fancied security as the savages came down upon them. Col. A. was one of the first victims. He and Lieut. Col. Stacia, with a small guard, lodged at the house of Mr. Robert Wells. At the first alarm Col. A. escaped from the house and fled towards the Fort, but was tomahawked and scalped. Stacia was taken prisoner and the guard were all killed or captured. The family of Mr. Wells were all massacred except one son who was in Schenectady at the time. Another party surrounded the house of Rev. Mr. Dunlap, whose wife was immediately killed. He was a feeble old man and released after a few days. A Mr. Mitchell was in the field and escaped, but his wife and four children were killed, and his house plundered and burnt. The party which surrounded the house of Col. Campbell, took Mrs. Campbell and four children prisoners. Col. C. was absent from home and returned in time to see his property destroyed, but did not learn the fate of his family. Many were killed, a few escaped and the remainder were taken prisoners. Thirty-two of the inhabitants, chiefly women and children, were killed, and sixteen Continental soldiers. The houses and barns, many of which were filled with grain, were burned, and thirty or forty prisoners were taken. The enemy with their prisoners and their booty encamped the first night about two miles south of the Fort. The night was cold and rainy and the prisoners suffered greatly. On the morning of the second day, the prisoners were collected together and it was decided to send back the women and children. Mrs. Campbell and her four children and Mrs. Moore and her children were retained because their husbands had been active partisans. They passed down the Susquehanna to Tioga Point, thence up the Chemung, across the Seneca Lake and down the east border of the lake to Kanadeseago, a village of the Senecas. The next day after the massacre, the mangled remains of those who had been murdered were buried, and those who had escaped to the woods came in. This was one of the most cold-blooded massacres of which history gives any account. The inhabitants abandoned the settlement, and the next summer the Fort was abandoned, the soldiers joining the troops of General James Clinton.

An expedition was fitted out under the command of General Sullivan, to march into the Indian country, destroy their settlements and lay waste their country. Gen. Sullivan's army assembled at Wyoming, on the Susquehanna, and on the 31st of July commenced their march for the Indian settlements. The stores and artillery, were conveyed up the river in 156 boats.

At Tioga Point, Sullivan encamped to await the arrival of Gen. James Clinton, who had been ordered to join him by way of Canajoharie and Otsego Lake. For this purpose General Clinton opened a road from Canajoharie to Otsego Lake, and transported his boats thither in wagons. Passing down the lake to its outlet, he constructed a dam at this point, raising the water to such an extent that when the dam was removed, the increase of water in the outlet would bear his boats safely through. Gen. Clinton with his force joined the main army at Tioga, August 22, when the whole force proceeded up the river, laying waste the Indian towns, destroying their crops and taking from them their means of living. It is said that the Indians along the Susquehanna, witnessing the unusual rise of the water and seeing the troops descend in boats, were greatly alarmed and attributed the unusual rise of the water to some supernatural agency. While Gen. Clinton's forces were encamped on the present site of Cooperstown, two deserters were shot. It is said that 203 boats were required to transport the troops down the river.

The Otsego County Agricultural Society.—The first meeting in this County to organize an Agricultural Society, was held Jan. 1st, 1817. The first officers were: Jacob Morris, President; John H. Prentiss, Recording Secretary; James Cooper, Corresponding Secretary. The first Fair was held on the 14th of October, 1817, in the Presbyterian church. An address was delivered by Gen. Jacob Morris, and the premiums were declared by Elkanah Watson. A letter from Governor Clinton was also read. In 1841 the Society was organized under the act of the Legislature appropriating $8,000 among the different counties of the State for the encouragement of agriculture. The Fairs were held at Cooperstown annually until 1852, when it was held at Morris. In 1855 the Society was again re-organized, the first officers being Francis M. Rotch, of Morris, President; Alfred Clark, of Springfield, Vice-President; Jerome B. Wood, of Cooperstown, Secretary; G. Pomeroy Reese, of Cooperstown, Treasurer. A lot of land containing about eight acres was leased and fitted up for Fairs. The first Fair was held under this organization upon the new grounds in 1856. The success of this enterprise was so great that the Society proceeded to erect new buildings and make other additions as circumstances seemed to require. In 1861 their grounds were enlarged by leasing an adjoining lot, thereby nearly doubling its size. In 1871 a new lot containing twenty-seven acres, and situated a short distance from the village, was purchased, fenced, and will be in good order before the next annual Fair.

This County took an important part in the suppression of the great Rebellion. Cherry Valley, the oldest town in the County, was the first to respond to the call for men, after the fall of Sumter. A company was soon raised and their services tendered, but owing to what was known at Albany as skeleton regiments, their services were not accepted. After remaining in barracks for some time the Company was disbanded. Egbert Olcott and C. J. Campbell, the Lieutenants of the Company, afterwards enlisted as privates in the Forty-fourth Regiment, and by successive promotions became Colonels, the former of the One Hundred and Twenty-First, and the latter of the Twenty-Third United States colored troops, and Brevet Brig. General. During the summer of 1861, large numbers of young men in the County enlisted in various organizations. A recruiting station was established at Cherry Valley and three companies were raised for the Seventy-Sixth N. Y. V., and one Company of Berdan's Sharpshooters, most of the men being from that vicinity. Up to the time of the establishment of the senatorial or military districts, about one thousand men had been raised in the County. The 121st and 152d Regiments were largely raised in this County, nearly 1,500 men being furnished. About 2,500 men were raised before the first draft, most of whom were natives of the County. All the orders for drafts were cheerfully responded to and many of the soldiers sealed their devotion to their country with their blood

GAZETTEER OF TOWNS.

BURLINGTON was formed from Otsego, April 10, 1792. Pittsfield was taken off in 1797, and Edmeston in 1808. It is an interior town, lying north-west of the center of the County. The surface is a hilly upland, divided by three general ridges extending north and south. These ridges are about 400 feet above the valleys and are arable to their summits. The principal streams are Butternut Creek, flowing south through the center, and Wharton Creek, flowing south-west through the west part. The soil upon the hills is a slaty loam, in many places underlaid by hardpan; in the valleys it is a gravelly loam.

Burlington, (p. v.) known as Burlington Green, near the center of the town, contains two churches, a hotel, a store, a grist mill, two blacksmith shops, a shoe shop, a cheese factory and about 100 inhabitants.

Burlington Flats, (p. v.) north-west of the center, on Wharton Creek, contains two churches a hotel, three stores, a grist mill, a saw mill, a tannery, a wagon shop, two shoe shops, two blacksmith shops, three milliner shops, a cheese factory, 33 dwellings and 129 inhabitants.

West Burlington, (p. v.) on Wharton Creek, in the west part of the town, contains two churches, a hotel, two stores, a blacksmith shop, a cheese factory, 15 dwellings and about 100 inhabitants.

The first settlement was commenced near West Burlington, in 1790, by Robert Garrat and Ebenezer Benjamin Harrington. Paul Gardner settled in 1792, and Benjamin Card, Miles Potter, Caleb Gardner, Alexander Parker, Ira Johnson, John Johnson, Lemuel Hubbell and Samuel Hubbard, settled about the same time in the vicinity of Burlington Flats. The first school was taught by Joseph Wright at Burlington Green. Paris Briggs and Willard Church kept the first inns, and Walbridge & Co. the first store, at Burlington Flats. Augustus and Adolphus Walbridge erected the first mill, at the same place.

The First Baptist Church of Burlington, the first religious society in the town, was organized in 1793 by James Southworth, the first pastor. The number of members at the organization was 30. The first house of worship was erected in 1804; the present house in 1839, with a seating capacity of 200. The present pastor is Rev. H. Steelman; the number of members is 37; the value of Church property is $3,000.

The Second Baptist Church, located at West Burlington, was organized May 16, 1794, by a Council composed of members from Springfield, Unadilla and the First Church of Burlington. The number of members was 59 and the first pastor was Rev. Ashbel Hosmer. The first house of worship was erected in 1803; the present house in 1841, with a seating capacity of 300. The present pastor is Rev. E. G. Flint; the number of members is 16 and the value of Church property is $4,000. When the Church was first organized, five brethren were chosen as leaders, and the services of Elder Wm. Firman were secured to administer the ordinances once in four weeks. Elder Hosmer arrived about this time from Tolland, Connecticut, and subsequently became the pastor of the Church and continued until 1797, when he removed to Burlington Flats. The first leading brethren were Martin Luther, Joseph Vaughn, Paul Gardner and James Roberts. The Council which organized the Church consisted of Elder Wm Firman and Wm. Hill, of Springfield; Rev. James Southworth and Wm. Goff, of the First Church, Burlington; Solomon Hatch and Increase Thurston, of Unadilla; and Josiah Mattison, Jonathan Pettit, Stephen Taylor, David Sweet, Reuben Ellis and Abraham Bowditch, transient brethren.

Christ Church, (Episcopal,) at West Burlington, was organized in 1841 under the direction of Rev. J. V. Hughes, who served the parish at intervals for several years. His successors were E. N. Goddard and Joel Davis. For a time the Corporation owned a fourth interest in the Union Church at Burlington Flats, but sold it for $250 which amounted to about $1,000 in 1866. Bishop Onderdonk visited the parish once and confirmed several, and Bishop Potter visited it in 1858 for the same purpose. In March 1865 West Burlington was made a station of a circuit mission, and the next year the missionary became resident here with only Garattsville as additional care. Sept. 22, 1868, the corner stone of the Moss Memorial Church was laid by the Rt. Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, Bishop of Montana, Idaho and Utah, assisted by Rev. J. V. Hughes, missionary in charge; Rev. D. Hillhouse Buell, Cooperstown, and Rev. N. S. Rulison, Morris. In Sept. 1871, the Church was admitted into union with the Diocesan Convention. Services are held every alternate Sunday, in the morning and afternoon. The present number of communicants is 33; the pastor is Rev. E. H. Saunders, and the value of the Church property is about $4,200. Their house of worship will seat 250.

The Free Communion Baptist Church, at Burlington Flats, was organized March 9, 1825, by Revs. Hunt, Esterbrooks, Benjamin Roland, Phipps Lake, and Messrs. Hudson, Millican and Fitch, and consisted of 16 members. Rev. Wm. Hunt was the first pastor. The Church edifice was erected in 1829 at a cost of $1,100 and will seat 200. The present number of members is 30. The present pastor is Rev. S. S. Cady, and the present value of Church property is $2,000.

The Friends Meeting House, at Burlington, was organized in 1804 by Richard Emerson, Peleg Gifford and others. The first house of worship was erected in 1804; the present one, which will seat 200, in 1827. The original cost of the house of worship was $400; the present value of Church property is about $300. The present number of members is 13 or 14.

The population of the town in 1870 was 1,476, and its area 26,755 acres, with an assessed value of $358,675.

The number of school districts is 13, employing 13 teachers. The number of children of school age is 562; the number attending school, 452; the average attendance, 218; the value of school houses and sites, $5,770.

BUTTERNUTS was formed from Unadilla, February 5, 1796. Morris was taken off in 1849, and a part of Unadilla was annexed in 1857. It lies upon the west border of the County, south-west of the center. The surface is a hilly upland, divided by several ridges extending north and south. Unadilla River, forming its west boundary, is bordered by a narrow flat, from which the highlands arise in a series of steep bluffs to a height of 500 to 600 feet. Butternut Creek flows south-west through a deep valley near the center of the town. A large number of smaller streams, tributaries to these, flow in deep valleys among the hills, dividing the ridges and giving to the region a peculiar broken appearance. The hills are arable to their summits and the soil is a good quality of red shale and sandy and gravelly loam.

Butternuts, (p. v.) known also as Gilbertsville, is situated near the center of the town and contains four churches, viz., Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and Episcopal; an academy, two sash and blind shops, three carriage shops, a marble shop, a flouring mill, two hotels, a number of stores and mechanic shops, and about 500 inhabitants. The village contains some fine residences and is surrounded by a fine farming region.

The Gilbertsville Academy is a substantial stone structure, occupying a prominent site in the village. The course of study pursued, embraces the branches usually taught in first-class academies.

Brookside Cemetery occupies a fine site and is being improved in a manner creditable to the taste of the managers.

The settlements were commenced about 1790, at Gilbertsville, by Gordon and Wyatt Chamberlin, and Abijah Gilbert. John Marsh, Joseph Cox and Daniel Eastwood, were among the first settlers in the west part of the town, and William Masson and Dr. John Burgess, in the south part. The first child born was William Shaw, and he is supposed to be the first one who died. The first marriage was that of Joseph Cox and Betsey Gilbert. The first school was taught by Levi Hallibert, at the house of Joseph Cox. Abijah Gilbert kept the first inn, and William Masson the first store, near Gilbertsville. The first mill was erected by Joseph Shaw and Abijah Gilbert.

The first town meeting was held in 1796, at which Hezekiah Dayton was chosen Town Clerk, and Lewis Franchot, Supervisor. In the Records of the town we find the following letter which explains itself:

"Butternuts, 15th June 1796.

Among those licensed to sell "strong liquor" in 1797, was Edward Thorp. He died a few years since after voting seventy-one consecutive years.

In 1800 the town voted to raise $50 for the support of the poor. In 1805 Sturgis Bradley, Aaron Aspenwall and John Marsh, were each licensed "to keep a public Inn or Tavern." In 1815 Azariah Metcalf, Oliver Judd, S. Elsworth, Isaac Hayes and Silas Crippen, each received 213 votes for member of Assembly, and Francis Henry, John C. Morris, Charles Mason, Billings Brown and William Campbell, each received 150 votes for the same office. Paschal Franchot, Alanson Moore and Richard D. Shepard, were the Inspectors of Election.

The following record indicates the existence of an institution from which our whole country is now free :

"Manumission of Joseph Jackson, Grace his wife and Jane & Flora.

" We the Overseers of the poor for the town of Butternuts in the county of Otsego and State of New York, do hereby certify that Joseph Jackson, Grace his wife and Jane and Flora their infant children, all people of color, and late the slaves of Jacob Morris of this town, and which the said Jacob Morris is now about to manumit, appear to us to be under the age of forty-five years. The said Joseph Jackson & Grace appear to us of sufficient ability to provide for themselves and are able and willing to maintain and provide for their said female children Jane & Flora.

" Given under our hand at Butternuts, this thirteenth day of April 1822.

" WM JACKSON
" JARED LILLIE."

The following is another similar record :

"Stephen, slave of Jacob Morris of the town aforesaid appears to be under fifty years of age and of sufficient ability to provide for himself.

" Dated this tenth day of Nov. 1802.

" PASCHAL FRANCHOT, one of the overseers of the Poor.
" WM. MASSON, Poor Master."

The election returns in 1800 for member of Congress, show that Thomas Morris received 112 votes, and Wm. Stewart three votes. For Governor, Stephen Van Rensselaer received 69, and George Clinton 65 votes.

The Methodist Church of Butternuts was organized in 1831 by Wm. S. Bowdish, the first pastor, with ten members. The first house of worship was erected in 1832; the present house in 1862. It will seat 450. The present membership is 154; the pastor is Rev. A. M. Colgrove, and the value of Church property is $7,000.

The First Presbyterian Church of Butternuts was organized in 1795, with about twenty members. The first pastor was Rev. Isaac Garvin; the first house of worship was erected in 1795; the present house in 1832. The present membership is 225; the present value of Church property is $7,000. The Church edifice will seat about 450. Rev. Mr. Moore is the pastor.

The population of the town in 1870 was 2,176, and its area 32,961 acres, with an assessed value of $530,891.

The number of school districts is 19, employing 16 teachers. The number of children of school age is 628; the number attending school, 445; the average attendance, 227; the value of school houses and sites, $6,810.

CHERRY VALLEY was formed from Canajoharie, (Montgomery Co.,) February 16, 1791. Middlefield, Springfield and Worcester, were taken off in 1797, and Roseboom in 1854. It is the north-east-corner town in the County. The surface is a hilly and mountainous upland, some portion of which is too rough and rocky for cultivation. Mount Independence is a rocky eminence, situated south-east of the center, and is about 1,000 feet above the valleys and 2,000 above tide. It is the highest summit in the County. A range of highlands extends along the north-west boundary. The central and south parts of the town are drained by the head branches of the Susquehanna, and the north part by tributaries of the Mohawk. The soil upon the uplands is a slaty and gravelly loam, and in the valleys a fine quality of calcareous loam.

The Te-ka-ha-ra-wa Falls are upon a small creek of the same name in the north part of the town. The water flows over a limestone precipice 160 feet high, and down through a narrow ravine, thickly wooded on each side. Near the lower end of this ravine are several sulphur springs, unsurpassed in their medicinal qualities by any in the State. Pebbles, leaves and other substances, exposed to the action of the water, very soon become coated with sulphur. In the north-east corner are several salt springs from which salt was manufactured to a very limited extent at an early day. Bath-houses and other improvements have been made at the Sulphur Springs; and the picturesque scenery presents unusual attractions to summer tourists.

Cherry Valley, (p. v.) situated at the head of Cherry Valley Creek, near the center of the town, contains three churches, viz., Presbyterian, Methodist and Episcopal; a bank, a newspaper printing office, three hotels, seven stores, a melodeon factory, a sash and blind factory, a saw mill, a grist mill, a cheese factory and about 1,200 inhabitants.

The Cherry Valley Academy, which sustained so high a reputation for more than half a century, has been converted into a hotel. This village is the present terminus of the Sharon and Cherry Valley Railroad, which connects with the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad at Cobleskill. It is proposed to extend this road to Richfield Springs, thus opening direct communication with the New York Central at Utica. This village is becoming a resort for summer visitors; its streets are finely shaded, and the vicinity affords many fine drives amid scenery unsurpassed in beauty. The celebrated Sulphur Springs are only three miles distant. A monument erected to the memory of the soldiers who fell in their country's service, occupies a prominent site in the village. It is about twenty feet high, surmounted by a spread eagle. It contains the names of those to whose memory it was erected, and cost about $2,000.

Salt Springville, named from the salt springs in this vicinity, is a hamlet in the north-west part of the County, and contains a Methodist church, a hotel, a store, a grist mill, a saw mill, a blacksmith shop, a wagon shop, a cooper shop, a cheese factory and a school house.

The Cherry Valley Foundry of E. & J. Judd was first started as a brass foundry, in 1805, by Oliver Judd. The present proprietors have been running the foundry more than fifty years, turning out about fifty tons of light castings annually, and employing about half a dozen hands.

Center Valley, (p.v.) in the south-east part of the town, partly in Roseboom, contains two churches, viz., Methodist and Lutheran; a store, a blacksmith shop, a saw mill, a shoe shop, a cheese factory and about 100 inhabitants.

The Caloric Mill of James Rick, in the village of Cherry Valley, was started in 1871, for grinding feed. It is run by a caloric engine of three-horse power, and has a capacity for grinding 150 bushels per day.

The first settlement of this town was made by John Lindsay in 1740, at a place which he called Lindsay's Bush. The same farm has for many years been occupied by Mr. Joseph Phelon. In 1744 Mr. John Wells purchased this farm. In 1741 a colony of about thirty persons from Londonderry, New Hampshire, settled in the town. Among these were David Ramsay, Wm. Galt, James Campbell and William Dixon. They had previously emigrated from the north of Ireland and came to Cherry Valley under the advice of Rev. Samuel Dunlap, whom Mr. Lindsay had persuaded to take up his abode here. The place received its name from the abundance of wild cherry trees growing in the valley, and for many years it embraced a large extent of country, south and west.

Rev. Mr. Dunlap was an Irishman by birth, educated in Edinburgh, and had left Ireland under an engagement of marriage with a young lady of that country. The engagement was conditional; if he did not return in seven years, she was at liberty to annul the contract. The time had nearly expired and she had heard nothing from him for some time. Another offered his hand, was accepted and the day appointed for the marriage. Mr. Dunlap arrived the day previous, was married and returned immediately to Cherry Valley with his bride, and entered upon the duties of pastor of the Church. In addition to this he opened a school for the instruction of boys who came from the settlements on the Mohawk, from Schenectady and Albany. This was the first grammar school in the State, west of Albany.

Mr. Dixon and Mr. Galt purchased farms in the south part of the Patent; Mr. Ramsay in the west part, and Mr. James Campbell purchased the farm now owned and occupied by his great-grandson, Hon. W. W. Campbell. Mr. Dunlap purchased the farm now occupied by Mr. Cox.

The settlement increased slowly, so that in 1752 there were only eight families in the settlement. In 1765 it had increased to forty families, and ten years after, at the commencement of the Revolution, the number did not probably exceed sixty families.

Most of the early settlers were members of the Christian Church, and they sought to inculcate the principles of an intelligent Christianity, believing that virtue and knowledge are the two great pillars of republican institutions. They were very strict in the observance of the Sabbath. They united their efforts with those of other patriots, when the Revolution broke out, and their Committee met with the Committee of Tryon County to devise means for the defense of their homes and their principles. The following letter gives an idea of the strictness with which the Sabbath was observed even in times of war:

"Cherry Valley, June 9th, 1775.

"Sirs,

"We received yours of yesterday, relative to the meeting of the Committee on Sunday, which surprised us not a little, inasmuch as it seems not to be on any alarming exigency; which, if it was, we should readily attend. But as that does not appear to us to be the case, we think it is very improper; for unless the necessity of the Committee sitting super-exceed the duties to be performed in attending the public worship of God, we think it ought to be put off till another day; and therefore we conclude not to give our attendance at this time, unless you adjourn the sitting of the Committee till Monday morning; and in that case, we will give our attendance as early as you please. But otherwise, we do not allow ourselves to be cut short of attending on the public worship, except the case be so necessitous as to exceed sacrifice. We conclude with wishing success to the common cause, and subscribe ourselves the free-born sons of liberty.

"JOHN MOORE.

"SAMUEL CLYDE.

"SAMUEL CAMPBELL.

"If you proceed to sit on the Sabbath, please to read this letter to the Committee, which we think will sufficiently assign our reasons for not attending."

This letter was sent to the County Committee.

Owing to the exposed position of Cherry Valley, in consequence of its lying in one of the routes of the Indians from the Susquehanna to the Mohawk, and the fact that nearly all of its inhabitants were ardent patriots, a company of Rangers were stationed there, under the command of Capt. Robert McKean, in 1776. Capt. McKean's company was soon after ordered away and another company, under Capt. Winn, was ordered there. Those exempt from military duty also formed a company for mutual protection. The next year the house of Col. Samuel Campbell was fortified by throwing up a rude embankment of logs and earth. In the spring of 1778 a fort was erected on the site of the Cemetery in the village. About two miles north of the village, near the road leading to the Mohawk, is the rock, behind which Brant was concealed when he shot Lieutenant Wormwood. It is still known as "Brant's Rock."

The destruction of the settlement and the massacre of the inhabitants on the 11th of November 1778, has already been noticed in another place. The acts of cruelty perpetrated by the Tories surpassed those of the Indians. A Tory boasted that he killed Mr. Robert Wells while at prayer. Mr. Wells was a son of Mr. John Wells, whose name has already been mentioned among the first settlers. Miss Jane Wells, who was distinguished for her amiable disposition and her acts of Christian benevolence, fled from the house to a pile of wood where she attempted to conceal herself. An Indian followed her and, deliberately wiping his bloody knife on his leggings, placed it in the sheath, and in spite of her entreaties and those of a Tory who had been a servant in the house of Mr. Wells, murdered her with his tomahawk. The party which surrounded the house of Col. Campbell, took Mrs. C. and four children prisoners. The wife of Col. Clyde, with her children, fled to the woods and, during that day and the following night, she lay with her children, one of whom was an infant, gathered around her and concealed under a large log. She could hear the yells of the savages as they prosecuted their bloody work, some of whom passed very near, and one so near that his gun trailed upon the log which concealed her. The next day a party from the Fort brought her in. Her oldest daughter, about ten years of age, became separated from her mother and concealed herself alone. Notwithstanding the exposure, all survived. About thirty or forty prisoners were taken. They encamped the first night about two miles south of the Fort. On the morning of the second day the women and children were sent back. Mrs. Campbell and her four children, and Mrs. Moore and her children were retained, as their husbands were active partisans. Mrs. Cannon, the mother of Mrs. Campbell, was killed the first day, being unable to travel on account of her age. Mrs. Campbell was driven along by the same Indian who had killed her mother, threatening her with the same fate, if she should be unable to proceed on the journey. She carried in her arms a child about eighteen months old. They arrived at the Indian castle near Geneva about the last of November. Here all their children were taken from them and given to different Indian families. Mrs. Campbell was given to a family, to fill the place made vacant by death of one of its members. The family was composed of females, with the exception of one aged warrior. Mrs. C. made herself useful by instructing them in the arts of civilized life and making clothing for neighboring families, for which they returned corn and venison. She was under no restraint and her situation was as comfortable as could be in such a place. The next spring an arrangement was entered into, in accordance with which Mrs. C. was to be exchanged for Mrs. Butler, wife of Col. John Butler, who had remained in Tryon County after hostilities broke out. She was taken to Fort Niagara, where she arrived in June 1779, and a year after, with her children, was sent to Montreal, where she met Mrs. Butler and children, for whom she and her children had been exchanged. At Montreal they were detained several months and then sent to Crown Point and thence to Albany, where Mrs. Campbell was joined by her husband. They did not return to Cherry Valley until the spring of 1784.

At the close of the war, many of the surviving inhabitants of Cherry Valley returned to their former homes, houses were erected and the land that had been suffered to go to waste was again brought under cultivation.

On the 5th of April, 1785, a public meeting of the "ancient inhabitants of Cherry Valley" was held in the "meeting house yard," for the purpose of reorganizing a Presbyterian Church. Col. Samuel Clyde, John Campbell, Jr., and James Wilson, were chosen Trustees. James Cannon was appointed Clerk of the Board. The names of the electors were as follows: Robert Shankland, William Thompson, Samuel Ferguson, James Moore, Jr., John Campbell, Jr. Hugh Mitchell, William Gault, James Cannon, Samuel Campbell, Jr., Samuel Clyde, Samuel Campbell, William Dickson, James Dickson, Daniel McCollum, John McKillip, Israel Wilson, Luther Rich, James Wilson, Thomas Whitaker, Benjamin Dickson and John Dunlap. Measures were soon after taken to build a church edifice, but it was not completed till some years after. Hon. W. W. Campbell, in his "Centennial Address," in 1840, speaks as follows of the meeting referred to:

"The meeting of the inhabitants of Cherry Valley on the 5th of April, 1785, is deserving of particular attention. The remnant of the ancient inhabitants, as they styled themselves, had returned to their former homes. They had returned, they say, from exile. The long and bloody war through which they had passed, had thinned their ranks and whitened the heads, and furrowed the cheeks of the survivors. They had once more a home, but it was again a forest home. The wild beast had made his lair amid the ruins of their former dwellings. The briar, the thistle and the sapling grew rank upon their garden spots. In the autumn of 1784 a few log huts had been built, but in the spring of 1785, when this meeting was called, there was no building in the settlement where the inhabitants could assemble together. They met, therefore, like their fathers, under the open heavens. The place where they gathered was hallowed ground. It had been set apart for the burial of their dead.

The graves of their kindred and friends were round about them. It was the place which had been consecrated by their patriotism, for there stood their little fort. On that same spot the inhabitants assembled together and organized anew, on the 5th of April 1785, that Presbyterian society which has continued to this day." The first settled pastor was Rev. Dr. Eliphalet Nott, for more than sixty years President of Union College.

An academy was established here in 1796, the first one west of Schenectady. Rev. Solomon Spaulding, the reputed author of the "Book of Mormon," was the first Principal. He was succeeded by Rev. Dr. Nott. The institution maintained a high reputation for more than sixty years, but has recently been converted into a hotel and boarding house.

Col. Samuel Campbell, the last survivor of the first settlers, died in 1824, at the age of 86. His wife died in 1836, at the age of 93. During the summer of 1784, Gen. Washington, Gov. George Clinton and several officers of the New York line, visited Cherry Valley, and were the guests of Col. and Mrs. Campbell, in the log house which they had just erected.

On the 4th of July, 1840, the centennial anniversary of the settlement of Cherry Valley was celebrated. A very large audience assembled to engage in the festivities of the occasion and listen to addresses by Hon. W. W. Campbell, Dr. Nott, Gov. Wm. H. Seward and others.

Among the distinguished men of this State, who were residents of Cherry Valley were John Mills, Esq., Hon. W. W. Campbell, author of "Annals of Tryon Co." and Judge of the Supreme Court; Rev. Eliphalet Nott, late President of Union College; Jabez D. Hammond, Esq., author of "Political History of New York;" Hon. Levi Beardsley, author of "Reminiscences of Otsego;" Alvin Stewart, Esq., James C. Morse, Esq. and others. Hon. W. W. Campbell, after several years residence in New York City, has returned to his native town, and the farm upon which his great-grandfather settled, and here he is enjoying the otium cum dignitate of an honorable and useful life.

On the 15th of December, 1860, the sixtieth anniversary of the wedding of James S. Campbell was celebrated at the old homestead. His eight children, after a separation of twenty-eight years, assembled at the place of their birth, and with the family circle unbroken, celebrated the diamond wedding of their parents. Among the speakers on this occasion were Hon. L. C. Turner, of Cooperstown, whose remarks were of some historical interest. He said:

"It is very seldom that a husband and wife celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding—scarcely ever has such an anniversary been observed at the same old homestead, where the party have spent sixty continuous years of wedded life; and never before, I apprehend, were their eight children present and participating—being all the children born unto the venerable wedded pair—present and participating in celebrating their parents' sixtieth wedding anniversary, and at the old homestead where they were all born and bred! Yes, at this old homestead, where Washington was a guest sixty-seven years ago—the same old homestead that is historically associated with the stirring events of the revolutionary days, and with the conflagrations, imprisonments, barbarities and massacres of Brant and his tory and savage allies, eighty-two years ago—the same old homestead of 200 acres, that is prominently distinguishable as never having been sold or demised—passing from father to son by gift, during the lifetime of the father, and the other children voluntarily and gratuitously releasing their prospective interest therein to the son—the same old homestead that has never been incumbered by mortgage, judgement or other lien, during the one hundred and twenty years it has been in the possession of the family! These are some of the reasons for saying, that this anniversary celebration is, personally and locally, distinguishable from any and all others of like kind, of which I have any knowledge."

When the tocsin of war was sounded in April 1861, the citizens of Cherry Valley rallied with a zeal worthy of their Revolutionary ancestors, and during the war, one hundred and twenty men were sent out of an agricultural population of 2,552. Eighty of these were from the village corporation. When peace was restored, the surviving citizens erected, in a conspicuous place in the village, a monument to the memory of the fallen. It is about twenty feet high, surmounted by a spread eagle, and cost about $2,000. The following are the names and inscriptions upon the monument, though not in the same order:

"Erected by the citizens of Cherry Valley in memory of their Patriot Dead, 1868."

"Second Bull Run, Petersburg, Gettysburgh, Wilderness, Fredericksburg, Winchester, Antietam, Cold Harbor."

"These are the names of the men of Cherry Valley who died that their Country might live."

The surface is hilly and broken by the narrow valleys of several small streams. The hills generally have gradual slopes and rounded summits, and are elevated from 250 to 300 feet above the valleys. The town is drained south by Oak and Parker Creeks, flowing into the Schenevus. The soil is a sandy and gravelly loam.

Decatur, (p. v.) in the south-west part of the town, contains a church, a hotel, a store, a grist mill, a saw mill, two blacksmith shops, a wagon shop and about 100 inhabitants.

The first settlements of this town were commenced about 1790, by Jacob Kinney, who was originally from New Milford, Connecticut. He located near the village of Decatur. Jacob Brown, John and Calvin Seward, and Oliver McIntyre, settled soon after. A man named Sloan, from Columbia County, settled near the village in 1797. Mr. Sloan opened the first tavern and the first store, north of the village. John Champion erected the first grist mill, and James Stewart, the first carding and fulling mill, about 1810. The first school was taught by Samuel Thurber in 1798. The first death is supposed to have been that of Mr. King, about 1797.

The First M. E. Church of Decatur was the first religious society organized in the town. It was organized about 1800 by Rev. John Cattin, the first pastor. A tract of 10,000 acres lying in this town, was granted to him for his services, and Percifer Carr, a soldier who had served under him, was one of the first settlers. On the death of Col. Edmeston, the lands fell to heirs and minor children residing in England, from whom no safe title could be obtained for many years. This greatly retarded the settlement of the town. During the Revolutionary War the hired man of Mr. Carr was killed while at his work; his buildings were burned, his property destroyed and himself and family taken prisoners by the British and Indians, and detained until the close of the war. Abel DeForest and Gideon DeForest were among the early settlers on the Unadilla. The first settlement of this town was made by Joseph Mayall, about a mile north-east of the village, in 1774. John Sleeper, a Quaker, from New Jersey, settled shortly after. Richard Smith and William Ferguson and his two sons, James and Thomas, settled within two years from the first settlement. Eastwood Allen and Samuel Gardner settled about the same time, having purchased one thousand acres about a mile south of the village.

Mr. Mayall was an Englishman by birth, but his sympathies were with the Colonies. After the close of the Revolution, while Mayall was engaged in hunting, he was accosted by three men who requested him to pilot them to the fording place on the Susquehanna. He did so, and the men then took his gun from him, and having taken off the lock, returned it, informing him, at the same time, that he must accompany them to Canada. He remonstrated, saying that peace had been declared and they had no right to take him prisoner. Finding all argument unavailing, he concluded to go with them and await an opportunity to escape. While crossing a branch of the Susquehanna, one of the party passed to the opposite side, another stationed himself in the middle of the stream, while the third was to accompany Mayall. Taking advantage of this, Mayall struck his companion over the head with his gun felling him to the ground, then quickly seizing his gun, discharged it at the one standing in the stream, wounding him. The third fired at Mayall and missed him, then fled. Mayall returned to Cherry Valley, bringing the guns of the two men and his own, which he deposited with Mr. Campbell. The barrel of Mayall's gun was bent almost to a semi-circle by the blow.

Just before the memorable massacre at Cherry Valley, Capt. Robert McKean and five others were on a scout and came to the house of Mr. Sleeper, who informed them that Brant had been at his house the day before with about fifty men, and was expected to return that night; and advised McKean and his party to leave, as they would surely be killed or taken prisoners in case Brant returned. McKean proposed to remain and make Sleeper's house his fortress, as it was a substantial log one; but as Sleeper wished to remain neutral and avoid all cause of complaint on the part of the enemy, McKean withdrew and took possession of a vacant house, a mile or two distant.

The day previous to the massacre of Cherry Valley, Mr. Sleeper started to return to New Jersey, leaving his family. At Cherry Valley some of his friends tried to induce him to remain, but being impressed to go on, he went to Bowman's Creek, seven miles distant, and thus escaped the destruction that fell upon that settlement. The next day a party of Indians passed through Laurens, robbing the family of Mr. Sleeper of all their personal property and destroying the buildings, allowing the family to escape with the clothes on their backs. Mr. Sleeper returned in 1784 with his family, rebuilt the mills which had been burned by the Indians and Tories, and again enjoyed the blessings of peace. He had been sent here to commence a settlement, preparatory to the arrival of a colony of Friends from England.

Erastus Crafts kept the first inn, about 1812; Erastus and Ezra Dean, the first store, and Daniel Johnson built the first factory.

Mr. Isaac Powell, the father of Erastus D. Powell, came to this town in 1800, with his father, who purchased the farm upon which Joseph Mayall settled, and which has ever since been in the possession of the family. Mr. P. is now 93 years of age and enjoys to a good degree the use of his mental and physical powers.

Smith Hall, now owned by Isaac G. Briggs, was commenced in 1775, by Richard Smith, one of the first settlers, and was the first framed building erected in the town. William Ferguson settled in 1774, where his grandson William now resides, about a mile and a half south of the village.

During the late Rebellion, Laurens sent out a noble band of patriots, twenty-five of whom sealed their devotion to their country with their lives. Of these, eight belonged to the 121st Regiment, viz., Samuel G. Snediker, killed at Spottsylvania, May 10, 1864; Richard Bennett, killed June 3, 1864, at Cold Harbor; James C. Gardner, killed May 10, 1864, at Spottsylvania; William Gardner, killed May 3, 1861, at Salem Church; James F. Hall, died of fever, December 23, 1862, near White Oak Church; Robinson F. Fox, killed May 3, 1863, near Fredericksburgh; Samuel A. Fenton, killed May 3, 1863, at Salem Church; Samuel A. Babcock, killed on skirmish line, near Winchester, Va., August 26, 1864. The five following were members of the 152d Regiment, viz., Galen H. Lull and Francis Ripley, died in Andersonville Prison in 1864; James Hubbard, killed on picket in 1864; Augustus Steere, died of sun stroke, May 4, 1864; Jacob H. Christman, died in New York City, May 13, 1863. The following four were members of the 2d New York Heavy Artillery, viz., James Haynes, died May 11, 1865; B. Erastus Brightman, wounded in battle at Deep Bottom, and died in November 1864; Henry Ackley, died from a wound, July 1864; Daniel Gile Smith, died at Alexandria, Va., June 17, 1864. Harvey Straight, accidentally killed by a member of his own company, in the second battle of Bull Run. He was a member of Co. E, 101st Regiment. Wm. Seward Hubbard and ——— Wright, of the 76th Regiment, killed; Willis Hillsinger, 43d Infantry, killed May 3, 1863, at Fredericksburgh, and John Herring, of the same, was killed in May 1864 in the battle of the Wilderness; Benjamin B. Comstock, Co. A, 12th Wisconsin, died July 16, 1862, in Tennessee. A son of Almon Y. Johnson was killed, and a son of Almanzo Green died of measles. Alonzo Jenks, Co. C, 61st Infantry, was killed at Fair Oaks, May 31, 1862.

MARYLAND was formed from Worcester, March 25, 1808. It lies on the south line of the County, east of the center. The surface is a hilly upland, broken by the deep ravines of the streams. The principal stream is Schenevus Creek, which flows south-westerly through the south part of the County, receiving in its course several tributaries from the north and south. South Hill is a steep unbroken ridge, 350 to 500 feet above the valleys, and extends along the south bank of the creek, through the town. From its summit the surface spreads out into a rocky and broken upland, extending to the south border. The soil is chiefly a sandy loam and is best adapted to grazing. Grains of various kinds, hops and fruits, are raised extensively. There is a sulphur spring in the town. Lead was found by the Indians and one or two white men, but the place has never been made public. Traces of zinc and copper have been detected, and iron ore of various kinds is found. A specimen of magnetic ore, found near Crumhorn Lake, contained ninety per cent of iron.

In 1790, Israel, Eliphas and Phineas Spencer, and Elisha Chamberlin, from Columbia County, settled near Maryland Station. Nathaniel Rose, Eli Rose and Samuel Hotchkin, all from Columbia County, settled near the same place soon after. About 1791, Daniel Seaver, Josiah Chase, Edward Godard and Nathaniel Hazen, settled near the present site of Schenevus. About 1793, Col. J. Houghton, Caleb Byington, Wilder, Ezekiel and John Rice, and Jotham Houghton, settled near Chaseville, and Joseph Howe settled on Elk Creek. In 1794, Thomas and John Thompson, and J. Morehouse, from Columbia County, settled about a mile west of Maryland Station, near what has been called the "foot of Crumhorn."

The "Spencer Mills," erected by Israel Spencer, about 1794, were the first erected in the town. Jotham Houghton had an interest in the saw mill. Settlements were made in the east part of the town soon after. Phineas Spencer was the first stone mason, carpenter and joiner, cabinet and chair maker in town, and for many years made all coffins used for many miles around. He made plows also until cast iron plows came into use. The first tavern was kept by Josiah Chase at Schenevus; the first clothing mill was erected by Stephen G. Virgil. The first death was that of John Rice, who was killed by the fall of a tree near the present site of the Schenevus Depot. He was buried where the Schenevus Cemetery now is. The first marriage was that of Samuel Hotchkin and Polly Spencer, in January 1804. They were the parents of Ashley Hotchkin, Esq., of Schenevus. It is believed that Miss Spencer taught the first school, in 1802. The first post office was kept at the center of the town, and for several years Jared M. Chamberlin was the post master. The first building burned in the town was the blacksmith shop of Allen Ainsworth, and the first dwelling house destroyed by lightning was that of William Bowdish, about 1821. The first town officers were Edward Godard, Supervisor; John Chase, Town Clerk; D. Houghton, Justice of the Peace; J. Houghton and Heman Chamberlin, Commissioners of Highways.

The town embraces portions of several different tracts, among which are the "Crumhorn Mountain Tract" and Spencer's, Franklin's and Fitch's Patents. The first settlers, Eliphas and Israel Spencer, settled on Franklin's Patent, and Phineas Spencer on "States Land." Nathaniel Rose opened a tavern near Maryland Station, about 1806, and his brother Eli opened another near the same place. The remains of the first settlers and many of their descendants lie in the cemetery at this place.

The following incident shows the veneration of the early settlers for the dead. Samuel Chase's first wife, a step daughter of Phineas Spencer, after her death, was borne on a bier (team conveyance being considered sacrilegious,) seven miles, on a sweltering day, and deposited in this cemetery. One of the bearers is still living and over 91 years old.

Among the humorous incidents handed down from an early day is one that occurred at the raising of Israel Spencer's mill in 1793. One of the workmen, not overstocked with wisdom or the love of work, complained of thirst and kept up a continual cry for water. Phineas Spencer, a powerful man and ready for any emergency, seized the fellow by the nape of the neck and plunged him into the pond where the water was ten feet deep, with the sharp exclamation, "Get some water and be d—d."

A tavern was opened by Amos Spencer in 1802, about four miles west of Maryland village. Jerahamed Houghton started a distillery and a store at Chaseville about 1798. He also started a potash factory about the same time.

Philip Crippen, one of the oldest settlers of Maryland, is still living. He was the first white male child born in the town of Worcester, which included in its limits the present towns of Worcester, Westford, Maryland and Decatur. He is eighty-five years old, and retains to a remarkable degree his mental and physical powers. He never eats any fish or meat of any kind, and never uses tobacco or spirituous liquors. He is seldom sick and is as sprightly as a man of forty.

About two miles north of Clarksville is a rock, called Niskayuna, where various Indian tribes from the south were accustomed to meet the Mohawks in council. The rock was covered with hieroglyphics, but, from its scaly nature, they are now obliterated. The Indians encamped at this place on their retreat from Cherry Valley in November 1778.

The first settlement of the town was made about 1755, by immigrants originally from Ireland and Scotland. Among those who settled prior to the Revolutionary War, were Wm. Cook, Daniel, Benjamin and Reuben McCollum, Samuel and Andrew Wilson, Andrew Cochran, Andrew Cameron and a man named Hall, all of whom settled in the north part of the town. Among those who settled at a later date were Benjamin Gilbert in 1780; Reuben Beals, in the south part in 1786; William Campton, Bernard Temple, Stephen and Thomas Pratt, Whitney Juvil, Moses Rich and — Rice, all of whom were from Massachusetts, and settled in 1787. William Temple, Daniel Moore and — Dunham, from New England, settled in the south part of the town soon after. Hannah Hubbell taught the first school, about 1790. Alexander McCollum and Andrew Cameron kept the first inns, and Benjamin Johnson the first store, in 1790. Mr. McCollum built the first saw mill, before the war, and Moses Rich the first grist mill, in 1795.

John M. Bowers came from New York City in 1802, and set in Cooperstown, where he remained until 1805, when he removed across the river into Middlefield. He was one of the largest landholders in the County, owning 18,000 acres of the "Bowers Tract" and 5,000 acres of the "Kettletas Tract." He died in 1846 at the age of 74 years. Mrs. M. M. S. Bowers, his widow, still resides at Lake Lands, a beautiful rural residence near Cooperstown. She is 93 years of age but retains her mental faculties to a remarkable degree. She was the daughter of Mrs. Martha Wilson, of Revolutionary memory, and the granddaughter of Col. Charles Stewart, Commissary General of the army during the Revolution.

Mr. Orren Sibley came into this town in 1832 and settled at what was known as "Bear's Swamp," about four miles from Cooperstown. The place was a wilderness, and he built two miles of road to open communication with the public highway. Here he started a tannery and a saw mill. The latter has a capacity for cutting 10,000 feet per day.

Eddy, of Cazenovia, was born in this town and had his first Church membership with this Church, of which he has also been the pastor. Hon. Levi Stewart, a former Judge of this County, was for a long time a leading member of this Church, and died in 1868. The present value of Church property is $10,000.

The Portlandville M. E. Church erected their first house of worship in 1848. The present house, which will seat 300, was erected in 1866 at a cost of $1,800. The present value of Church property is $5,000. The present number of members is 70, and the present pastor, Rev. W. G. Queal.

The population of the town in 1870 was 2,301, and its area, 28,402 acres, with an assessed value of $469,520.

The number of school districts is 14, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 633; the number attending school, 523; the average attendance, 221; the value of school houses and sites is $8,318.

MORRIS, named after Gen. Jacob Morris, was formed from Butternuts, April 6, 1849. It lies upon the west border of the County, south of the center. The surface is a hilly upland, divided into two principal ridges by Butternut Creek, which flows south-west through the town, near the center. The west ridge terminates in a series of steep bluffs bordering on Unadilla River, which forms the west boundary of the town. The soil upon the uplands is composed of clay, gravel and disintegrated slate, and in the valleys it is a gravelly loam.

Morris, (p. v.) known also as "Louisville," on Butternut Creek, a little east of the center of the town, contains four churches, viz., Episcopal, Baptist, Methodist and Universalist; 3 hotels, 4 dry goods stores, 2 drug stores, a hardware store, jewelry store, 3 tailor shops, several mechanic shops and about 700 inhabitants. A short distance from the village are several manufactories, the most important of which are the Cotton Mills of W. F. & R. Leonard.

Maple Grove, (p. v.) near the south-east corner, is a hamlet, containing a blacksmith shop and about a dozen houses.

Elm Grove, about a mile and a half north-east of Morris, is a hamlet, containing a chair factory and about a dozen houses.

The citizens of this town have formed a Soldier's Monument Association, and are about to erect a monument in the Cemetery at Morris, in honor of those who went from this town and died in the service of their country during the late Rebellion. The following names are to be inscribed upon the monument: 121st Regiment, N. Y. V., Henry Tracy, killed at Salem Church, May 3d, 1863; Samuel Fenton, killed at Fredericksburg, May 3d, 1863; Edwin W. The settlement of this town was commenced a short time previous to the Revolution. In 1772 Ebenezer Knapp and Increase Thurstin came from Dutchess County to the valley of Butternut Creek, 14 miles from its mouth, remained a few months making preliminary arrangements for a settlement, and returned home for the winter. In June 1773, they returned with their families. Mr. Knapp settled in the north-east part of the town, on the farm now owned by G. A. Yates, and built a cabin, about two and a half miles above Morris village. Mr. Thurstin settled a short distance from him, in the town of New Lisbon. Benjamin Lull, with his five sons, Benjamin, Jr., Joseph, Caleb, Nathan and William, and Jonathan Moore, from Dutchess County, came at the same time. Andre Renouard settled at Elm Grove, and Louis and Paschal Franchot, originally from France, settled near the village of Morris, in 1790. Quite a large family of Lulls settled near the north-east border of the town and in New Lisbon. Andrew Cathcart and Jacob Morris were among the early settlers. Ichabod Palmer and Elnathan Noble settled in 1778. The settlement was broken up during the war, some of the inhabitants being taken prisoners and others returning to their former homes. Previous to the massacre at Cherry Valley, some of the women and children of the Butternut settlement, passed through that place and were in hearing of the guns when the attack was made. In 1783 and the following years many of the settlers returned. Mr. Joseph Lull settled where D. Whitcomb now lives, near the school house in District No. 2. The first marriage was that of Joseph Lull and Martha Knapp in 1776, by a justice. The first inn was kept by Sturgess Bradley, and the first store by Louis and Paschal Franchot, at Morris village. The firm was known, after the death of Louis, as Franchot & Van Rensselaer, until 1814. Louis De Villier erected the first grist mill on Aldrich Creek, at a place called Elm Grove. The first cotton and woolen factory was carried on by a company, viz., A. G. Washburn, agent, Paschal Franchot, Volkert P. Van Rensselaer, John C. Morris, Benajah Davis, Captain Dan Smith, Luther Skidmore and others. The first deed granted in town was given to Benjamin Lull, Sen., in 1769, by Richard Wells. The first death was that of Mrs. Elizabeth Lull, wife of Benjamin Lull, Jr., and daughter of Ebenezer Knapp.

Joseph Lull was nineteen years of age when he married, and his wife, Martha Knapp, a little short of fourteen. She became the mother of sixteen children, eight sons and eight daughters. Soon after her marriage, and during the autumn months, accompanied with her sister and three children, one two years, one sixteen and one six months old, she went to Cherry Valley, a distance of thirty miles, on horseback. They followed a path leading through an unbroken forest guided only by marked trees. They rode alternately, thus relieving each other of their burden, and finally reached their place of destination. Added to the many hardships in this way suffered, was the want often of provisions. The cruelty and treachery of the Indian savage caused them to make this journey. It was with painful eye they beheld, as they departed, their rude dwellings enveloped in flames, and the spoiling of the fruits of their own self-denying toil; and when in after years they to their homes returned, it was with no cheering emotions they discerned the remaining marks of the red man's ruthless hand. In 1778, by reason of the war, Mr. and Mrs. Lull were driven to Dutchess Co. and there remained about six years. Mrs. Lull carried two children in her lap, on horseback, a distance of one hundred and sixty miles. She died in 1851, and had at her death ninety-nine grandchildren.

The following anecdote is related by Mr. Ezra Lull, son of Caleb Lull, and grandson of Benj. Lull, Sen., now a resident of the town. The year Cherry Valley was burned, a party of men had gathered together one evening for a husking. Seven of them, and several of them Mr. Benj. Lull's sons, were taken prisoners by fourteen Oneida Indians, who had been friendly to the Colonists, and they were taken to Fort Stanwix, (now Rome.) and reported there as Tories, ready to join the enemy. This was done merely to obtain liquor from the Continental commander of the Fort. While on their way to the jail, at Albany, they met a Continental Captain by the name of Winn, who knew them to be among the neutrals, as some were styled who had taken an oath to be neutral, and he obtained their release.

General Jacob Morris, who during the Revolution was on the staff of Major Gen. Charles Lee, settled in the south part of the town, near the site of the "Morris Memorial Chapel." About a mile north of this Chapel is a marble monument, upon one side of which is the following inscription, which needs no explanation:

"Sacred to the memory of Miss Hannah Cooper, Daughter of the Honble William Cooper and Elizabeth his wife. In the bloom of Youth, in perfect health, and surrounded with her Virtues; On the 10th day of September 1800 she was instantly translated from this World. Thrown from her horse on the spot on which this monument is erected. Sensible, gentle, amiable. In life beloved, in death lamented by all who knew her. Unconscious of her own perfections, she was a stranger to all ambition but that of doing good. By her death, the tender joys of an affectionate father, the fond expectations of a delighted mother, in an instant were blasted. Passenger Stop! and for a moment reflect that neither accomplishments of Person, nor great improvements of mind, nor yet greater goodness of heart can arrest the hand of Death. But she was prepared for that immortality in which she believed and of which she was worthy.

"To departed worth and excellence, this monument is erected, this tribute of affection is inscribed by a friend, this 1st day of January 1801."

Miss Cooper was a sister of J. Fenimore Cooper.

On the 5th of October 1871, Harry Fortune, a colored man, supposed to be 120 years old, died. He had been known for 65 years by some of the citizens of this town and was an old man at the first acquaintance. He was able to work some until within the last few years, and in 1870 voted the Republican ticket.

The Episcopal Church was organized about 1793. A house of worship was erected in 1801 and was known as Harmony Church. It was located on what is known as the "Church Burying Ground," and is supposed to have been the first Episcopal Church erected in the County. Rev. Daniel Nash was the first pastor. The present Church edifice was erected in 1818 under the direction of Jacob Morris, Paschal Franchot, Volkert P. Van Rensselaer, Martin Noble and Benjamin Davis. It is a stone structure, will seat 500, and cost $5,500. The name was then changed to Zion Church, which it still retains. In 1839 a parsonage was erected at a cost of $1,200. In 1867 Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, rector of this Church, was elected Bishop of Montana, Utah and Idaho, and resigned the rectorship, May 1, 1867. The present rector is Rev. Thomas H. Cullen. The present number of members is 219. The present value of Church property is $20,000.

The Universalist Church was organized in 1843, by N. Stevenson and John W. Whitcomb, with 27 members. The first pastor was David Pickering. Their house of worship was erected in 1842; it will seat 300 and cost $1,200. The present membership is 51; the pastor is Rev. W. H. Harrington, and the value of the Church property is $5,000.

The Baptist Church of Morris was organized in Sept. 1793 with ten members, five male and five female. Their first services were held in private houses, in barns, in groves and in school houses after they were built. Rev. John Lawton was the first settled pastor. In 1798, when he was settled, the society "voted to raise for his support, one hundred dollars per annum, twenty to be paid in money and the balance in necessaries of life." In 1817 a house of worship was erected near the town line, in the north-east part. Uri Jackson, David Thurstin and Joseph Lull, were the Trustees. In 1841 a house was erected in the village; it was 36 by 40 feet and cost $800. Deacon Joseph Lull and his wife, Martha, were members of its organization to their death. Deacon Lull died in 1840, and Mrs. Lull in 1851. The present house of worship, which will seat 375, was erected in 1870 at a cost of $16,000. The present number of members is 142. The present pastor is Rev. Chas. Ayer. The present value of Church property is $18,000. The original members were in part the first settlers of Butternut Valley, and set up a prayer meeting here in 1773, when there were but two families on the ground, which has been continued till now, except as interrupted by the Revolutionary War.

All Saints, Morris Memorial Chapel, located about three miles below Morris village, is a beautiful stone structure, erected by the descendants of General Jacob Morris, one of the most distinguished of the early settlers and one of the first communicants of the Episcopal Church. It was erected in 1866, near the Morris family burying ground. It cost originally $5,000 and will seat 200. From a sermon of Rev. N. S. Rulison, former rector of Zion Parish, we extract the following notice of Morris Memorial Chapel: "The idea of this Chapel originated with two members of our Church, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Morris. The expense of the work is borne by all the descendants of Gen. Jacob Morris, once one of the most distinguished citizens of this town. The objects had in view in building the Chapel, were to preserve and make sacred the Morris family burial ground, near which it stands, and to afford religious instruction to the families living near it." The Chapel is deeded in trust to the Vestry of Zion Church.

The population of the town in 1870 was 2,253, and its area, 24,057 acres, with an assessed value of $386,763.

There are 13 school districts, employing 14 teachers. The number of children of school age is 683; the number attending school, 579; the average attendance, 310; the value of school houses and sites is $8,550.

NEW LISBON was formed from Pittsfield, April 7, 1806, as Lisbon. Its name was changed April 6, 1808. It is an interior town, lying west of the center of the County. The surface is a hilly upland, divided into several ridges by the deep ravines of the streams. The highest summits are from 300 to 500 feet above the valleys. The principal streams are Butternut Creek, flowing south through the west part, and the west branch of the Otego Creek, through the east part. Gilbert's Lake is a small sheet of water on the south border. The soil upon the uplands is a clay and slaty loam, and in the valleys a gravelly loam.

Stetsonville, in the south-west part, near the line of Pittsfield, contains a wagon shop, blacksmith shop, two cooper shops and about 35 inhabitants.

The first settlement was made in 1773, in the south-west corner of the town, by Increase Thurstin and Benjamin Lull and his sons. Several of the sons settled in this town and some of them in Morris. Among the other early settlers were S. W. Park, Moses Thurston, Hughey Marks, O. Park, William Pierce, John Johnson, William and John Garratt, and — Brook, all of whom settled in the vicinity of Garrattsville. Elnathan Nobles was among the first settlers at Noblesville, which took its name from him. Joseph Baldwin and John L. Stetson were the first settlers at Stetsonville. In 1778 the first settlers were driven off by the Indians and Tories, their buildings burned and their crops destroyed. After the close of the war, the former settlers returned. A haystack belonging to the Thurstins had been set on fire and burned over on the outside. On the return of the owners in 1783, they found the middle of the stack had been preserved in good order. Sally Thurstin was the first child born in town. The first school was taught by James McCollum; the first inn was kept by Charles Eldredge, in the south part of the town. William Garratt kept the first store, at Garrattsville. Louis DeVillier erected the first grist mill.

The first religious society organized was the Baptist, at New Lisbon Center, in 1804, by Elder S. Gregory. A Congregational Church was formed the same year by Rev. William Stone.

The M. E. Church of Garrattsville, was organized in 1840. Rev. M. French was the first pastor. The house of worship, which will seat 250, was erected in 1841, at a cost of $1,050, and repaired in 1870. The present value of Church property is $3,000. The present number of members is 25, and the present pastor, Rev. Wm. M. Hiller.

ONEONTA was formed from Unadilla, February 5, 1796, as Otego. Its name was changed April 17, 1830. It is the central town on the south border of the County. The surface is a hilly upland, broken by the deep valley of the Susquehanna, which flows south-west through the south part. Otego and Oneonta Creeks flow into the Susquehanna from the north, and Charlotte River from the south. A range of hills 500 feet high extends along the south-east bank of the Susquehanna. The surface in the center and north part is hilly, broken by narrow and irregular valleys. The summits are from 150 to 300 feet above the valleys. The soil is a gravel, clay and slate, on the uplands, and gravelly loam and alluvium along the valley of the river.

Oneonta, (p. v.) situated in the south part of the town, is one of the principal stations on the A. & S. R. R., and contains five churches, three hotels, two newspaper printing offices, a large number of stores, several manufactories, among which are three foundries, a machine shop and agricultural works, sash and blind factory, a spoke factory, a saw mill, a grist mill, a manufactory of machines for cutting heading, two carriage shops, various other manufactories and a population of 1,383. The village is increasing rapidly in business and population, about 100 houses having been erected during the last season.

The Oneonta Agricultural Works of Ford Brothers, located near the railroad station, were started in 1866 by E. R. Ford and Henry Howe. They manufacture agricultural implements of various kinds and employ about twenty hands. The Works have been carried on by Ford Brothers since 1869.

West Oneonta (p. v.) contains a church, a hotel, a store, several mechanic shops and about twenty dwellings.

Emons, in the east part, on the railroad, is a hamlet.

Oneonta Plains, about two miles west of Oneonta, is a small village.

The Indians had a camping ground on the flat, between the village and the river, and there was an old Indian orchard and a cemetery in the south-west part of the town, the former on the south side of the river, and the latter on the north.

Henry Scramblin and a man named Youngs, settled in the town previous to the Revolution. Aaron Brink, Frederick Brown and — McDonald, were among the early settlers at Oneonta village. OTEGO was formed from Franklin (Delaware Co.) and Unadilla, April 12, 1822, as Huntsville. A part of Milford was annexed and its name changed April 17, 1830. It lies on the south border of the County, west of the center.

The town is of uneven surface, the hills being in uneven ranges, nearly or quite parallel with the brooks which empty into the Susquehanna River. The range on the southerly side and along the valley of the river, is unbroken. The soil is a clay and sandy loam.

The Susquehanna River runs through the southerly side of the town for a distance of about seven miles. The brooks emptying into the river are four, Mill Creek, east and west branches of Ottawa Creek, Flax Creek and Center Brook, extending back from the river in a northerly and north-westerly direction, from five to eight miles.

These brooks pass through handsome valleys, with hill-sides well cleared and cultivated, the lands from the brooks to the tops of the hills being fertile and peculiarly adapted to grass growing and stock raising, growing also good crops of corn, oats, and the other grains cultivated in the region. These hills are generally easily accessible for the purposes of cultivation and use. The lands of this town are mostly devoted to dairying and stock raising.

Otego, (p. v.) is attractively situated on the Susquehanna River, in the south part of the town, and is an important station on the Albany & Susquehanna Rail Road. It contains 7 stores, 2 hotels, 5 churches, (Presb., Bap., M. E., Old School Bap. and Epis.) a sash and blind factory, several mechanic shops and about 600 inhabitants.

Otsdawa, (p. v.) on the creek of that name, in the north part, contains a church, (Free Will Baptist,) store, saw and grist mills, a wagon shop, harness shop, blacksmith shop, and about 100 inhabitants.

Settlements began in this town, along the Susquehanna, soon after the Revolution. The names of some of the first settlers are Peter Schramling, John Winn, John Vanderweriker, John Christian, Conrad Overhiser, Barnet Overhiser, John Hess and John Brimmer. John Youmans and others of Dutch extraction, from the counties of Albany, Schoharie, and along the Mohawk Valley. The residue of the first settlers were mostly from the New England States. Asabel Packard, — Shepard, Philo Goodrich, Wm. French, Elijah Ferry &c., were from Massachusetts. Rowland Carr, Thurston Brown and Jonathan Weaver, were from Rhode Island. Anson Judson, Daniel Weller, Abram Blakely, Solomon Squires, Mareness Goodrich, Ransom Hunt and others, were from Vermont and Connecticut. Michael Birdsall and brothers, were from Dutchess County. Phineas and John Cook were from Connecticut. The Bundys were among the first settlers in town. Peter Bundy moved here from Montgomery Co. in 1780. He had eight sons and five daughters who settled in this town.

There was much jealousy and ill feeling, and often feuds, between the Dutch settlers and those designated as the Yankees, and they were very nearly equally divided in numbers for many years. Disputes and often fighting occurred. At last the fighting feature of the trouble was nearly disposed of for all time to come by a battle on Saw Mill Hill, after a saw mill raising, between "Old John French" and David Schramling, the latter a Tory of the Revolution and an active partizan of the Indians, in whose depredations and murders he was a wandering participator during the greater part of the war. French was the winner. They were the champions by arrangement.

The Indian chieftain Brant's encampment was still standing, with its poles, crotches and covering, within the limits of the present village of Otego, when the first settlers came in. This encampment was made one of his resting places on his way to the Cherry Valley massacre.

Very much of the business of the early settlers was that of manufacturing pine lumber, which they "rafted" down the Susquehanna River to the Chesapeake Bay. It was a stirring and always a perilous business, this "rafting" upon a rapid and tortuous river for about 350 miles, on its floods or "freshets."

The Baptist Church of Otego was organized in 1816, by Rev. D. Robertson, the first pastor, with 32 members. The first house of worship was erected in 1829, and repaired in 1855. The present membership is 52, and the value of Church property is $3,500.

The Christian Church of Otsdawa was organized in 1830 by Rev. Joshua Hayward, the first pastor, with 13 members. Their house of worship was erected in 1836, at a cost of $1,300 and with a seating capacity of 400. The present membership is 92; the pastor is Rev. Wm. Case, and the value of the Church property is $2,000.

The Second Christian Church, located in the north-west part of the town, was organized in 1870, by Rev. Wm. Case, the present pastor, with 19 members. Their house of worship was erected the same year, at a cost of $1,800, and capable of seating 250. The present membership is 28.

The First Methodist Church of Otego was organized with about 40 or 50 members, and a house of worship was erected in 1848 or '49, at a cost of $1,400 and with a seating capacity of 300. The first pastor was Rev. A. Queal; the present pastor is Rev. J. W. Merwin. The present membership is 130, and the value of the Church property is $8,000.

Immanuel Church of Otego was organized in 1834 by Rev. J. Messinger with 10 members. The first pastor was Rev. J. Hughes. The first house of worship was erected in 1835; the present house in 1866. It will seat 250 and cost $2,250.

The present membership is 60, and the value of Church property is $7,000.

The population of the town in 1870 was 2,052, and its area, 26,905 acres, with an assessed value of $421,151.

The number of school districts is 18, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 582; the number attending school, 520; the average attendance, 270; the value of school houses and sites, $7,050.

*OTSEGO was formed as a part of Montgomery County, March 7, 1788, and originally included the greater part of Otsego County. Burlington, Richmond and Unadilla were taken off in 1792, Hartwick in 1802, and Laurens in 1810. It is an interior town, lying upon the west bank of Otsego Lake, north of the center of the County. The surface is a hilly upland, lying between Otsego and Schuyler Lakes, and descending abruptly towards each. The summits are from 300 to 500 feet above the water. The uplands are divided into two ridges by Fly Creek, which flows south through the center. Oak Creek, the outlet of Schuyler Lake, flows south through the west part. The soil is a clay, sandy and gravelly loam.

Cooperstown, (p. v.) beautifully situated at the foot of Otsego Lake, was incorporated April 3, 1807, by the name of Otsego. The name was changed to Cooperstown, June 12, 1812. It contains the County buildings, six churches, viz., Presbyterian, Episcopal, Baptist, Methodist, Universalist and Roman Catholic, three banks, six hotels, two first-class weekly newspapers, a union school, a saw mill, a grist mill, a sash and blind factory, a planing mill, a large number of stores, mechanic shops &c., and about 2,200 inhabitants. The sidewalks are well flagged, the streets are finely shaded with trees and lighted with gas. It is the present terminus of the Cooperstown & Susquehanna Valley Railroad, connecting with the A. & S. R. R. at Junction Station.

Lake Wood Cemetery, though not in this town, is an appendage of Cooperstown and as such may properly be described here. The association under whose control it is, was organized in 1856 with the following Board of Trustees: Samuel Nelson, Levi C. Turner, Frederick A. Lee, Ellery Cory, Theodore Keese, Joshua H. Story, John R. Worthington; Henry J. Bowers and Horace Lathrop, Jr. F. A. Lee was subsequently chosen President; Theodore Keese, Vice-President; Jerome B. Wood, Secretary; Dorr Russell, Treasurer. The Cemetery is located near the shore of the lake, about half a mile from the village, and contains twenty-four acres, the original cost of which was fifty dollars an acre. It is tastefully laid out and contains some fine monuments, among which the most prominent is that of J. Fenimore Cooper, erected by his literary friends and admirers. It is of Italian marble, resting on a granite base six feet square. The shaft, including the base, die and cap, from which it rises, is about 25 feet in height and is surmounted by a richly carved Corinthian capital. The four sides of the die are beautifully sculptured in bold relief; the front with the name of J. Fenimore Cooper, surrounded by a wreath of palm and oak branches, the latter with acorns, one falling and another fallen; the north side with appropriate naval devices, viz., the anchor, oars crossed, commander's sword and spy glass; the south side with Indian emblems, such as bow and arrows, and quiver, lance with scalp-locks attached, tomahawk and necklace of bears' claws. On the east side are literary emblems, books and manuscript, with the student's lamp just extinguished, an ink stand, the pen from which has just been seized and borne aloft by an eagle. On its capital stands the statuette of Leather Stocking, four and a half feet high, representing him in the act of loading his rifle and gazing intently in the direction of the game, while the dog by his side, looks anxiously into his master's face, waiting for permission to bound away. The monument stands near the entrance to the Cemetery, and overlooks the lake, village and surrounding country. It cost about $3,500.

* Otsego was the original name of the Lake, from which the town and County were afterwards named. In the Indian language the place is said to signify a place of friendly greeting. At the foot of the lake was a place of general rendezvous for the Indians, and where traders were accustomed to meet them.

The Union School of Cooperstown occupies a fine brick edifice which was erected in 1868-9 at a cost of about $20,000. The lot upon which it is located contains one and one-seventh acres. Six teachers are employed and the average attendance of pupils is about 300. J. G. Wright, A. M., is the principal.

Fly Creek, (p. v.) situated about three miles west of Cooperstown, contains three churches, a hotel, a store, a foundry and machine shop, a manufactory of horse-powers, three blacksmith shops, two wagon shops, a shoe shop, two millinery establishments, 67 dwellings and about 325 inhabitants. The Sons of Temperance and the Good Templars have organizations here, as well as the Grand Army of the Republic.

The Otsego Agricultural Works, at this place, were started in 1840 as the "Badger Horse-Power Works." In August 1871 Mr. George H. Gross purchased the Works and changed the name as indicated above. He manufactures threshers and cleaners, horse-powers, churns, circular saws and fanning mills. The works are driven by steam power and give employment to 8 or 10 hands.

The Fly Creek Valley Cheese Factory, about half a mile north-east of the village, has a capacity for making 600 pounds daily. H. E. Taylor is the proprietor.

Oakville, (p. v.) situated on Oak Creek, about a mile north-west of Fly Creek, contains a hotel, a store, a cotton factory, a blacksmith shop, a saw mill, a grist mill, a carding mill, about 30 dwellings and 200 inhabitants.

The Otsego Iron Works, at Fly Creek, were started in 1812 and have been in successful operation ever since. Mr. Shepard, the present proprietor, became a partner in the business in 1869 and is now the sole proprietor. The works cover an area of two acres.

Toddsville (p. v.) is chiefly in the town of Hartwick.

The Otsego Paper Works at this place are owned by R. & I. Worthington, bankers, of Cooperstown. They were established about seventy years ago, give employment to eighteen hands and have a capacity for making 2,000 pounds of printing paper daily.

Hope Factory, about a mile south of Toddsville, on Oaks Creek, is a hamlet, containing sixteen houses, a cotton mill, a grist mill, a store, a school house and about 100 inhabitants. The grist mill contains four runs of stones, with a capacity for grinding 150 bushels per day.

The Hope Cotton Mills, in the south part of the town, owned by R. Steere, employ about seventy-five hands, make about 2,000 yards of print goods per week, using from 2,500 to 3,000 pounds of raw material.

The Cheese Factory of J. P. Kenney, in the west part of the town, has a capacity for making 600 pounds daily, using the milk of 250 cows.

Otsego Hill Cheese Factory, owned by Mr. Babbit, is about the same size.

Three Mile Point is a point of land jutting into the lake from the west shore, about three miles from Cooperstown. It is a place of resort for pleasure parties during the summer. It was originally the property of Judge Cooper and was willed to his descendants in common until 1850, after which it was to be the sole property of his youngest descendant bearing the name of William Cooper. The hotel of A. W. Thayer, near this place, affords all necessary accommodations.

Wild Rose Point is another place of resort near the one just mentioned.

The settlement of this town was commenced about 1785, though some slight improvements had previously been made and abandoned. In 1786 a permanent settlement was commenced at the village of Cooperstown by William Cooper, who had come into possession of a large tract of land in the vicinity. Among the first settlers were William Jarvis, William Ellison, Israel Guild, John Howard, Elisha Phinney, John Miller, Wm. Abbot and a widow named Johnson. The first framed house was erected on the site of the village, by Mrs. Johnson. Wm. Abbott settled on a farm about half a mile south of the village. Mr. Cooper, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the spring of 1787. They reached the head of the lake in a chaise, and came to the foot of the lake in a canoe. Mrs. Cooper did not remain, and she disliked the passage by boat so much that the chaise was brought down in two canoes. A bridge across the outlet was constructed of logs, and a road had been cut through the forest along the shore of the lake, but it was so difficult to pass, that when the chaise left the settlement, two men with ropes accompanied it to keep it from upsetting. In 1788 a village plat was laid out, including six streets extending in an east and west direction, and three crossing them at right angles. In 1788 Mr. Cooper erected a house on Main Street, opposite the head of Fair Street. It was of two stories, with two wings, and on some old maps is designated as the "Manor House." Here he was accustomed to entertain his visitors in a manner becoming his position. He did not bring his family to reside permanently until 1790. The first store was established in the winter of 1789-90, by Mr. Cooper, Mr. R. R. Smith having it in charge. At this time there were seven framed houses, three framed barns and thirty-five inhabitants in the village. This enumeration is supposed to have been made previous to the arrival of Mr. Cooper's family in October 1790, as that numbered in all, including children and servants, fifteen. The next year the first lawyers arrived and located in the village, one of whom was Abraham Ten Broeck, of New Jersey, and the other, Jacob G. Fonda, of Schenectady. The first physician was named Powers, and Dr. Fuller arrived in June 1791, and remained in practice for nearly fifty years. Dr. Powers was accused of mixing tartar emetic with the drink provided for the guests of a ball at the Red Lion Hotel. He was tried, convicted, put in the stocks and then banished. The first child born in the village was Nathan, son of John Howard, and the first death that of a son of Joseph Griffin, Oct. 11, 1792. The first child born on the Patent was William Cooper Jarvis, of Fly Creek. He was born in 1787 and received fifty acres of land from the proprietor after whom he was named. The first school was taught by Joshua Dewey. William Ellison kept the first inn, in 1786. James Averill was an early settler. In 1792 he exchanged his farm with Mr. Howard for a tannery, and afterwards became identified with that branch of business. Oliver Cary was the second school teacher in the town. In 1795 a plan was started for the erection of an academy, and about $1,500 were subscribed for that purpose. The building was raised September 18, 1795, by one hundred men selected for the purpose and superintended by E. Robbins. It was 65 by 32 feet, and two stories high, the upper story being all in one room. On the 28th of February, 1795, Mr. Elihu Phinney, from Connecticut, arrived in Cooperstown with the materials for printing a newspaper, and on the 3d of April appeared the first number of the Otsego Herald or Western Advertiser. It was the second paper in the State, published west of Albany. On the 9th of July of this year, a man named Porteus was flogged at the whipping post for stealing some pieces of ribbon. In 1799 the residence of Judge Cooper, known as 'Otsego Hall,' and subsequently occupied by J. Fenimore Cooper, was completed. For many years this was the finest private residence in the County. A new street has recently been laid out through the grounds.

Some idea of the facilities for traveling at this early day may be formed from the following incident: In 1795, Judge Cooper, with his wife and two children, left Cooperstown in his carriage, drawn by four horses. They dined at Middlefield Center and reached Cherry Valley a little before sunset. Leaving Cherry Valley early the next morning, they reached Canajoharie the same evening, and in two days from this time arrived in Albany, making the journey from Cooperstown in four days.

A post-office was established in this town in 1794 and the mail was received weekly. Joseph Griffin was the first postmaster. The place continued to increase in population, and in 1812 it contained 133 houses, 57 barns and 686 inhabitants. In 1809 a cotton factory was erected on Fly Creek, and manufacturing of various kinds was established in the village and in other parts of the town, causing an increase of population.

As already stated, the first inn was kept by William Ellison, near the outlet. The first one of any note was the "Red Lion," kept by Joseph Griffin. It stood on the corner of Main and Pioneer Streets.

"The second public house of any consequence, was the Blue Anchor, kept by William Cook on the corner diagonally opposite to the Red Lion; this house was in much request for many years among all the genteeler portion of the travelers. Its host was a man of singular humor, great heartiness of character and perfect integrity. He had been the steward of an English East Indiaman and enjoyed an enviable reputation in the village for his skill in mixing punch and flip. On holidays, a stranger would have been apt to mistake him for one of the magnates of the land, as he invariably appeared in a drab coat of the style of 1776 with buttons as large as dollars, breeches, striped stockings, buckles that covered half his foot, and a cocked hat large enough to extinguish him. The landlord of the Blue Anchor was a general favorite, his laugh and his pious oaths having become historical."—Chronicles of Cooperstown.

A large number of distinguished men have had their residence in the village of Cooperstown since its settlement. Among these were J. Fenimore Cooper, Gen. John A. Dix, Hon. Samuel Nelson, Hon. E. B. Morehouse, Hon. Schuyler Griffin and many others.

Hon. Elisha Phinney, the publisher of the first newspaper in the County and the proprietor of the first book store, came to Cooperstown in 1795, and continued to conduct the paper which he started until 1813. He was the father of H. & E. Phinney, who succeeded him in business and became extensive publishers as well as booksellers. In 1820 a stereotype foundry was established at which was cast a set of plates for a quarto family bible, from which 200,000 copies were manufactured. The business was carried on in Cooperstown until 1849, when the destruction of their establishment by fire caused their removal to Buffalo, where H. F. & E. Phinney, Jr., were members of the firm of Phinney & Co. Mr. H. F. Phinney was for several years a member of the firm of Ivison & Phinney, of New York City. He is now the largest real estate owner in Cooperstown and one of the most enterprising and public spirited of its citizens.

In 1813 an elephant was exhibited in Cooperstown. It was heralded by the following notice, which is in strong contrast with the flaming show bills and numerous menageries which exhibited in the village during the last season:

"Perhaps the present generation may never have an opportunity of seeing an elephant again, as this is the only one in the United States, and this is, perhaps the last visit to this place."

Cooperstown has suffered at various times from fires. The greatest conflagration was that of April 10, 1862, when about one-third of the business portion of the village was destroyed. On this occasion fifty-seven buildings were destroyed, valued at $48,850; the amount of insurance was $16,800. The loss of other property than buildings was estimated at $53,175, which was insured for $3,300. Another fire occurred the same year, destroying property to the amount of $10,000, with an insurance of $4,000.

The first religious society organized in the town was The Presbyterian Church of Cooperstown. In July 1795, a camp meeting was held in this vicinity by members of all denominations, and in August of the same year a call was issued for the formation of a Presbyterian Church. Before the society was organized, Rev. Mr. Mosely was employed to preach for six months. The legal society was organized Dec. 29, 1798, but the spiritual organization did not take place until June 16, 1800. Rev. Isaac Lewis was the first settled pastor. The services were held in the academy. The first house of worship was erected in 1807.

The Presbyterian Church, located at Fly Creek, was organized March 20, 1828, with twenty-one members. Rev. Samuel Manning was the first pastor. Their house of worship was erected in 1840 at a cost of $1,600, and capable of seating 200. The present membership is 40; the value of the Church property is $3,000, and the pastor is Rev. C. K. McHarg.

Christ Church (Episcopal) of Cooperstown was organized Jan. 1, 1811, by Rev. Daniel Nash, the first rector. The first services held in this town according to the rites of the Episcopal Church were at the funeral of Miss Hannah Cooper, who was killed by being thrown from a horse on the 10th day of September, 1800. The services were conducted by Rev. Daniel Nash, who was then a missionary in the County, and afterwards known as "Father Nash." Their Church edifice was erected in 1810. It has been enlarged and improved and is still occupied, having a seating capacity of 460. The number of communicants is 175; the present rector is Rev. D. Hillhouse Buel; the value of the Church property is $25,000.

The Methodist Church of Cooperstown was organized about 1816, and a house of worship was erected the next year. Their house of worship will seat 400 and is valued at $8,000. The number of members is 86; the pastor is Rev. H. M. Crydenwise. They have recently erected a parsonage which, with the lot, is worth about $3,000.

The Methodist Church at Fly Creek was organized about 1816 with seven members. Rev. Ralph Lanning was the first pastor. Their house of worship was erected in 1837 and has a capacity to seat 500. a cost of $3,000 and having a capacity to seat 275. The first pastor was Rev. Lewis Raymond. The present membership is 85; the pastor is Rev. Charles C. Smith, and the value of the Church property is $9,000.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church was organized about 1851, by Rev. Father Gilbride. The first house of worship was erected about 1855; the present house in 1867. It cost about $12,000 and will seat 300. The present membership is about 300; the pastor is Rev. M. C. Dewitt, and the value of the Church property is $25,000.

The First Universalist Church, (Christ Church) located at Fly Creek, was organized in 1805 and is the oldest Universalist Church in the State. The Church edifice was erected in 1820 and rebuilt in 1861. It will seat 250 and is valued at $5,000. There is a Parish Library connected with the society. The present membership is 40; the pastor is Rev. C. L. Wait. Services are held at 2 o'clock every Sunday afternoon.

The Second Universalist Church, (Church of the Messiah,) located at Cooperstown, was organized in 1831 by Rev. Jacob Potter, the first pastor. Their house of worship was erected in 1833 and remodeled in 1860. It cost $3,000 and will seat 300. The present membership is 40; the pastor is Rev. C. L. Wait, and the value of the Church property is $8,000.

The Thanksgiving Hospital, Cooperstown, was planned in April 1865, as a Thankoffering to Almighty God from the Christian people of Otsego, for the restoration of Peace and the preservation of the Union after the civil war. The necessary fund was raised and a suitable building was purchased and remodeled in 1867. On Thanksgiving day of the same year, the Hospital was solemnly dedicated by religious services. The institution was regularly incorporated in September 1868. The house and lot are valued at $5,000. The house can receive, if necessary, eighteen patients, though especially prepared for fifteen. The number of patients during the year 1871 was 35, many being severe chronic cases, remaining through the year. It is the expectation of the Trustees that a new building with thirty beds will be erected ere long in a favorable position. This institution is entirely free from debt. Many more applications are received than can be accommodated in the present building. The Trustees are E. Phinney, Horace Lathrop, M. D., Mrs. Harriet W. Way, Miss Susan Fenimore Cooper and F. G. Lee. The physicians are Dr. W. F. Bassett and Dr. M. L. Bassett.

PITTSFIELD was formed from Burlington, March 24, 1797. New Lisbon was taken off in 1806. It is situated on the west line of the County, near the center. The surface is a hilly upland, terminating in abrupt declivities upon Unadilla River, which forms the west boundary. Wharton Creek flows across the north-west corner, and several small tributaries of Butternut Creek flow through the south part. The soil generally is a slaty and gravelly loam.

Pittsfield, (p. v.) locally known as "Pecktown," in the north part, contains a hotel, a store, a blacksmith shop, a carpenter shop, a saw mill, 14 dwelling houses and about 60 inhabitants.

Hoboken is a hamlet in the north-west part and contains a store, a cotton factory and several dwelling houses.

The first settlements were made in the valley of the Unadilla, about 1793, by Jacob Lull, Aaron Nobles, Hubbard Goodrich and Mathew Bennett. Seth Harrington and Benjamin Eddy settled in the east part of the town soon after the settlements on the Unadilla. The first school was taught by Benjamin Pendleton, at Richfield village. Mathew Bennett kept the first inn, in 1797, and Henry Randall, still residing in the town, the first store, in 1810. Benjamin Atwell built the first mill, and the Arkwright Manufacturing Company the first cotton factory, both of which were on the Unadilla.

The first religious organization in the town was the Baptist, in the south-east part. There are only two Church edifices in town, both union churches; one east of the center, built in 1849, and now occupied by the Methodists, which is the only religious organization in town; and the other in the south-west part, built about 1857.

The population of the town in 1870 was 1,468, and its area, 22,696 acres, with an assessed value of $268,088.

There are 12 school districts, employing 11 teachers. The number of children of school age is 485; the number attending school, 285; the average attendance, 182; the value of school houses and sites, $3,525.

PLAINFIELD was formed from Richfield, March 25, 1799. It is the north-west corner town of the County. The surface is a broken and hilly upland. Unadilla River forms the west boundary and is bordered by steep bluffs, rising to the height of 400 to 600 feet. The soil is a clayey and sandy loam.

Leonardsville, (p. v.) on the west border, chiefly in Madison Co., contains a foundry and blacksmith shop in this town.

The first settlement of this town was made at and near Plainfield Center, in 1793, by Ruggles Spooner, Elias Wright and John Kilbourne. Samuel Williams settled on the Unadilla, in the north part, and Benjamin and Abel Clark at the Forks, about the same time. The first school was taught at Spooner's Corners by James Robinson in 1797-8. William Lincoln kept the first inn, at Lloydville, and Luce & Woodward the first store. Caleb Brown built the first mill, in 1805, on the Unadilla.

The Baptist Church at Unadilla Forks was organized June 5, 1817, by a council composed of delegates as follows: from the First Baptist Church of Winfield, Jonathan Palmer, Jr.; from the Church in Edmeston, Elder Stephen Taylor, Nathan Wright, Chauncy Hopkins, Roger Southerland and Stephen W. RICHFIELD was formed from Otsego, April 10, 1792. Exeter and Plainfield were taken off in 1799. It is the extreme northern town of the County. The surface is rolling and moderately hilly, with a mean elevation of 150 to 200 feet above Schuyler Lake. Nine Hill, on the west side of the head of the lake, rises to a height of 300 to 400 feet. Schuyler Lake, in the south-east corner, occupies a deep valley and receives several small streams from the north and west. The soil is of a diversified character, consisting of gravel, slate, clay, and sandy loam, well cultivated and productive. Cheese is largely manufactured in the town.

The village derives its name from the celebrated mineral springs, which are noted for their medicinal properties and are visited by a large number of invalids annually. The place is also a resort for summer tourists and is becoming one of the most frequented in the State. A railroad connects it with Utica, and it is proposed to extend it to Cherry Valley.

The Cheese Factory of H. C. Brockway, at Monticello, turned out about 20,000 pounds during the last season.

Brighton Corners is a hamlet in the north part and contains about 20 houses.

The settlement of the town was commenced before the Revolution, but it was broken up during the war. The first settlers after the war were John Kimball, Richard and William Pray, John Beardsley, Joseph Coats and Seth Allen, who came in about 1787. William Tunnicliff, Daniel Hawks, John Hatch, Ebenezer Eaton and Joseph Rockwell, settled near Richfield Springs in 1789; and Obadiah Beardsley and Obadiah Beardsley, Jr., settled near Schuyler Lake in 1790.

From "Reminiscences of Otsego," by Hon. Levi Beardsley, we have gathered some interesting incidents connected with the early history of this town. Judge Beardsley was about four years old in 1790, when his grandfather, father and two brothers removed from Hoosick. They started with a cart and one or two wagons drawn by oxen and horses, and drove a few cattle, sheep and hogs. Judge B. and a sister two years old, were stowed away among the furniture, and the mother with a sick infant was left behind. They crossed the Mohawk near Fonda and went to Canajoharie, thence by the old Continental Road towards Springfield. At night they stopped at the house of Conradt Seeber. They were out of bread and could get none at Seeber's or of his neighbors, but were compelled to make a meal of potatoes. The next day they went three miles with teams, and then left some of the wagons, as the roads were very bad. The Judge says; "My father put a saddle on one of the horses and on another packed a bed and bedding, on which the [servant] girl was to ride. I was placed on the horse behind him, on a pillow tied to the saddle, with a strap under my arms buckled around his waist to prevent me from falling off, and carrying my sister before him we proceeded on our journey, the girl riding the other horse on top of the bed and bedding, and a yearling colt tagging after." They proceeded to the foot of Schuyler's Lake, where they had hired the "Herkimer Farm," on which was a small clearing before the war, and two log huts. After planting corn, Mr. Beardsley returned for his wife, who came on horseback, on a man's saddle, and carried the child, Mr. B. walking beside them. During the summer they cut a road to their own land in Richfield and put up two log huts, a short distance apart, and covered them with poles and bark. The floors were of logs split and hewn, and the chimneys were of sticks and mud.

In 1791 William Tunicliff built a saw mill near Richfield Springs, and the next year a grist mill, near the same place. Judge Peck was the millwright.

It was no uncommon thing for ladies to walk two or three miles for an afternoon visit, returning in time for milking. Married and unmarried ladies were often seen walking with shoes and stockings in their hands, to avoid getting them soiled with mud, and putting them on just before entering the house. Carding and quilting bees were common. Spinning bees were meetings when they brought in the yarn spun from wool previously distributed. Wrestling, running, leaping &c., were the athletic sports indulged in by the men.

The first marriage in the town was that of Ebenezer Russell and Mrs. Moore, a sister of Judge Beardsley's mother. "Judge Cooper of Cooperstown was sent for, being the nearest magistrate, and came eighteen miles principally through the woods, to perform the ceremony. The neighbors were invited, the old pine table was in the middle of the room, on which I recollect was placed a large wooden bowl filled with fried cakes, (nut cakes or doughnuts as the country people call them.) There might have been something else to constitute the marriage feast, but I do not recollect anything except a black junk bottle filled with rum, some maple sugar and water. The Judge was in his long riding boots, covered with mud up to his knees; his horse was fed that he might be off when the ceremony was over. The parties presented themselves and were soon made man and wife as his 'Honor' officially announced. He then gave the bride a good hearty kiss, or rather a smack, remarking that he always claimed that as his fee; took a drink of rum, drank health, prosperity and long life to those married, ate a cake or two, declined staying even for supper, said he must be on his way home, and should go to the foot of the lake that night, refused any fee for his services, mounted his horse and was off; and thus was the first marriage celebrated."—Reminiscences of Otsego.

The first death was that of this same bride. The first birth was that of Joseph Beardsley. The first school house was built of logs and covered with bark, with a floor of logs, split and hewed. Oiled paper supplied the place of glass, and a large fireplace daubed with mud, and a stick chimney, supplied the heating apparatus when cold weather arrived. The arrangements for recess were novel. Only one scholar was to go out at a time, and to avoid the inconvenience of asking, a hole was bored in a log in which was placed a peg. Any scholar was permitted to go quietly out, removing the peg at the same time, and on returning, replace it, when another was allowed the same privilege.

The Presbyterian Church of Richfield Springs, was organized in 1803. Their house of worship was erected about 1825. It will seat 250 and cost about $2,500. The present membership is 50; the value of the Church property is about $10,000; the pastor is Rev. F. H. Seeley.

The First Universalist Church of Richfield Springs was organized in May 1835 by Rev. Job Potter, the first pastor, with 30 members. Their first house of worship was erected in 1834; the present house in 1871, with a seating capacity of 300. The society now numbers 100 members; the value of Church property is $18,000; the pastor is Rev. S. R. Ward.

St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church was organized in 1851 by Father Gilbride, the first pastor, with 15 members. The present house of worship was erected in 1870, with a seating capacity of 250. The membership is about 75; the value of the Church property is about $5,000; the pastor is Rev. M. C. Devitt.

The population of the town in 1870 was 1,831, and its area, 20,126 acres, with an assessed value of $432,400.

The number of school districts is 12, employing 11 teachers. The number of children of school age is 629; the number attending school, 417; the average attendance, 226; the value of school houses and sites is $9,360.

ROSEBOOM, named in honor of Abram Roseboom, one of the early settlers, was formed from Cherry Valley, Nov. 23, 1854. It lies on the east border of the County, north of the center. The surface is a hilly upland, broken by the valleys of several streams. The hills are generally rounded, and their summits elevated from 300 to 350 feet above the valleys. The soil is a gravelly loam.

SPRINGFIELD was formed from Cherry Valley, March 3, 1797. It lies upon the north line of the County, east of the center. The surface is a rolling and moderately hilly upland, the hills generally rising about 200 feet above the valleys. Mount Wellington, east of the head of Otsego Lake, in the south part of the town, is about 400 feet high. Summit Lake, in the north part, lies so near the watershed that in high water it discharges its water both north and south. The streams are small brooks. In the north part is a deep sink, called the "The Chyle," into which a considerable stream of water runs and flows through a subterranean passage for some distance, and again comes to the surface. The sink is tunnel-shaped, about 240 feet in circumference and 15 feet deep. After heavy rains it is sometimes filled with water, which often moves around rapidly while being discharged through the orifice below. The soil is a black and yellow loam, resting upon limestone and slate. Hops are extensively raised in the town.

Springfield Center, (p. v.) situated about a mile from the head of Otsego Lake, contains 2 churches, 3 stores, 2 hotels, a wagon shop, 2 blacksmith shops, a grist mill, millinery shop, telegraph office, cooper shop, harness shop, shoe shop, machine shop, a physician and 225 inhabitants.

East Springfield, (p. v.) in the east part, on East Springfield Creek, contains a church, store, hotel, blacksmith and wagon shop, cabinet shop, shoe shop, millinery shop, a cheese factory,

Springfield, (p. v.) near the center, contains 2 churches, a store, blacksmith shop, cooper shop and 200 inhabitants.

In the summer of 1779, Col. William Butler was ordered to join the forces of General Clinton, and while at Springfield, assisting to open a wagon road from Canajoharie to the head of the Otsego Lake, for the transportation of boats, David Elerson, whose fame as a scout was widely extended, came near losing his life. He had obtained permission to go about a mile from camp, to a deserted house, and gather some mustard greens. While engaged in this, he was surprised by about a dozen Indians who were advancing cautiously to capture him. He seized his rifle, which was standing against the house, several tomakawks being hurled at him at the same instant. The enemy cut off his flight to his friends, and in running in an opposite direction, he had to pass over a small clearing, the edge of which was covered with fallen trees, greatly obstructing his passage. Here the Indians discharged their rifles at him, but to no effect. After running for some time, and thinking he had escaped his pursuers, an Indian suddenly appeared before him. He raised his rifle to fire, just as the Indian sprang behind a tree, and a ball from the opposite direction entered his own body, making a severe wound just above the hip. He renewed his flight, and descending a hill into a valley, through which flowed a small stream, he became greatly exhausted. A draught of cool water revived him so that he reached the opposite hill with comparative ease. He had proceeded but a short distance when an Indian appeared in pursuit. A shot from his trusty rifle laid the savage in the dust. Scarcely had he reloaded his gun, when several others appeared in sight. As they gathered around their fallen comrade and began their death yell, Elerson darted off into the forest. Finding a large hollow tree, he crawled into it and heard no more of the Indians. The next morning he crawled out, and finding that it rained, and not knowing what direction to take, returned to his shelter. Here he remained three nights and two days without food. He then came out, cold, stiff and hungry, and directing his course by the sun he came out near Brown's Mills, in Cobleskill, about three miles from his place of concealment and about twenty-five from the place where he was first surprised. Here he fell among friends where he was kindly treated and removed to the Middle Fort, where he remained until his recovery.

The first settlements of this town were made in 1762 by John Kelly, Richard Ferguson and James Young, from Ireland, at East Springfield; and Gustavus Klumph and Jacob Tygart, at the head of Otsego Lake. Most of these were driven off during the war. Mr. Tygart had two sons, John and Jacob, who were taken prisoners and carried to Canada during the war. Soon after the war, Elisha Dodge, Col. Herrick and Aaron Bigelow, from Connecticut, and Eli Parsons, Eliakim Sheldon and Isaac White, from Massachusetts, settled near the center of the town. Benjamin Rathbone, from Connecticut, settled in the east part in 1788. The first inn was kept by Eli Parsons, at East Springfield, and the first store by Thomas and Stacy Horner. Garrat Staats erected the first grist mill and saw mill, before the war.

The first church organized was the Baptist; Rev. Mr. Fairman was the first preacher.

The Universalist Church, at Springfield Center, was organized, with 15 members, in 1854, by O. Shipman, John Losee, D. Franklin and others. Rev. Mr. Sage was the first pastor. The house of worship, which will seat 350, was erected in 1857 at a cost of $3,500. The present number of members is 5.

UNADILLA was formed from Otsego, April 10, 1792. Milford, under the name of Suffrage, was taken off in 1796, and Oneonta, under the name of Otego, was taken off the same year. A part of Otego was taken off in 1822, and a part of Butternuts in 1857. It lies at the junction of Unadilla and Susquehanna Rivers, in the south-west part of the County. The surface is a rolling and hilly upland, the highest summits being from 400 to 500 feet above the valleys. The principal streams are Unadilla River, which forms the west boundary, Susquehanna River, the east, and Sandy Hill Creek. The soil on the river bottoms is an alluvial loam, and on the uplands a slaty and gravelly loam.

Unadilla, (p. v.) incorporated April 2, 1827, and situated on the Susquehanna River, in the south part of the town, is a station on the Albany & Susquehanna Railroad, and contains four churches, two banks, a newspaper printing office, a union school, four hotels, two wagon shops, a cabinet shop, a saw mill, a grist mill, a paper mill, a spoke factory, a foundry and machine shop, a planing mill, several other manufactories, a large number of stores and about 1,200 inhabitants. The principal street is about a mile and a half in length, bordered by fine shade trees and good flagstone sidewalks.

Unadilla Center, (p. o.) in the north part, is a hamlet.

Sandy Hill, situated about a mile and a half from Wells Bridge, contains two churches and about a dozen dwellings.

Settlements were made along the valley of the Susquehanna River, previous to the Revolution, but we have no means of determining the precise date. A conference took place in this town, in 1777, between General Herkimer and Capt. Joseph Brant, which is described elsewhere. Among the early settlers were Daniel Bissel, Abijah Beach and Solomon Martin, at Unadilla; Peter Rogers and men named Bates and Morefield, at Unadilla Center, and Abel DeForest and Willis Buckley, in the east part of the town. Solomon Martin kept the first store, in 1800, and Sampson Conger built the first grist mill.

From the town records, to which we had access through the kindness of the Town Clerk, we have made some extracts. In 1796 the town meeting was held at the house of Daniel Bissel, at which the following officers were elected, viz., David Baits, Supervisor; Guidon Huntington, Town Clerk; Jonathan Spencer, William Hanna and Timothy Birdsall, Assessors; Nathan Tupper, Collector; Enos Yales and William Potter, Overseers of the Poor; David Francis, Enos Yales and Samuel Merriman, Commissioners of Highways; Nathan Tupper and Seth Scott, Constables; David Francis, Solomon Martin and Thomas Wilbur, School Commissioners. The same year we find the following record:

"Voted by majority, that Hogs which shall have on yokes that are eight inches long above the neck, and four below, shall be allowed to run as free commoners."

"A Return of a highway laid out through the Town of Unadilla—Beginning at Abner Griffith's, on the River and running north to the Sandhill Creek, where the Patent line crosses, then crossing the Creek, thence northerly through lot No. 119, until it runs 25 rods on the lot of Elisha Lathrop, then turning east unto the east line of lot No. 118, thence along said line and the east line of lots No. 117 and 116, thence by a line of marked trees to the north line of the Town. Also a road beginning near Samuel Merriman's house and running along the Patent line to the Indian Creek, then crossing the same, then on said Creek until it comes near Thomas Wilbur to Cranson's Road — Subject to straitning or altering where found necessary.

Among the ear marks recorded, is the following:

"Stephen Wilber's Mark. A swallows tail in the left ear with a half penny before it."

The tax was £74 6 shillings. In 1799, Solomon Martin was appointed "Sealer of Weights and Measures," and the town voted to provide him with a standard of weights and measures. The Town Clerk was allowed five dollars for his services during the previous year. In 1800 the town voted to build two pounds, one to stand "not to exceed half a mile from Hubbel's Mill, so called, and the other, within half a mile of Yale's Ferry, so called." A commission was appointed to superintend the erection of the pounds, under the following instructions:

"Voted, That the 2 Pounds shall be built of logs rolled up in form or manner of a House and shall both be completed by the first day of July next, and the expense of both Pounds shall not exceed 30 dollars."

In 1804 the town meeting was held at the school house near Daniel Bissel's. In 1808, "Voted That hogs run free with yokes and rings." As this was not regarded sufficiently definite, the following was adopted:

"Voted, That hogs running on the commons shall be yoaked with yokes, Eight Inches above the neck, four Inches below the neck and four Inches each side the neck—also that the rings above mentioned shall be put into the hogs noses."

Notwithstanding this "yoaking," the next year they were not allowed to run on the commons, under a penalty of twelve and a half cents for each offense.

The first church organization in the town was St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, organized in 1809, with seven members. The first wardens were Josiah Thatcher and Abijah H. Beach. The vestrymen were Israel Hayes, William Smith, Stephen Benton,

Are each Forty Column Papers, Published Weekly.

Each newspaper has a publication office in connection with a well-appointed Job Printing Establishment, in the places respectively named, and the offices are all located on the line of the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad—the oldest settled and richest agricultural district in the Empire State. These papers have a combined circulation of 4,000 copies, nearly equally divided, and distributed throughout the counties of Otsego, Delaware, Chenango and Broome. Their circulation is separate and distinct—no duplicate names appearing upon the respective lists. Most of the reading matter is the same each week in the three editions. Advertisements are not only nicely displayed and plainly printed, but are always found in a conspicuous place, on a page with some classified, interesting department of reading matter.

*As it is not convenient to give the decimal expressing the exact rate per cent., when the remaining fraction is less than one-half, we have made use of the + sign to indicate that the true rate per cent. is greater than that expressed, and when the remaining fraction is greater than one-half, one has been added to the integer, and the — sign used to indicate that the true rate per cent. is less than the number by which it is expressed.
