Potatoes "Wants and For Sale"

The Morris Chronicle.

E. E. CARPENTER,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Wednesday, Nov. 20, 1912.

Particularly of Local Interest.

Phillips & Nichols will close their older mill on Friday of this week.

Mrs. Roxy Alger of Oneonta is visiting her sister, Mrs. Edna Sanderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Harris expect to spend the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Shaul, in Oneonta.

Chas. A. Light has sold 100 acres off his farm (the Factory Farm) to his son-in-law, Perry Barton. Possession given January 1st.

We hear that Porter Backus and Andy Daniels, two of our young farmers, expect to take the Cornell winter course in Agriculture this year.

From the New Berlin Gazette: Born to Howard Kneeland and wife, Nov. 13th, a daughter, who has been named Elizabeth Anna. Congratulations.

Miss Willetha Lewis went to Boston last week, where she has a position with a publishing firm she was connected with in the South for a year or two.

Miss Steele has taken rooms at the Gardner House for the winter. She spent last winter in California; but her preference is Morris both summer and winter.

Adelbert Davis has moved back to his farm in Pittsfield, at least for the winter, from his son John's in New Lisbon, where Mr. and Mrs. Davis have been since last spring.

Miss Mary Wood returned last Thursday from a three weeks' visit with her aunt, Mrs. Lydia Haight, in Walton, her friends in Sidney, and with Mrs. Tracey at Guilford.

Miss Lela Hinman, principal of the West Oneonta school, was a caller on a few of her Morris friends Saturday. She came for the day with Mrs. Perkins, who visited at Horton Smith's.

In compliance with the law the Town Board has issued the Town Accounts as audited Nov. 7th, in a little folder and you can get one of Mr. Sutherland, the town clerk, at the Bank.

Mrs. Lina Potter's Morris friends are sorry she has decided to again spend the winter away from Morris. She went to Binghamton last Saturday for an indefinite stay. Her address is as last winter at 94 Oak street.

Henry Culver, who was nearly smashed to death by a silage cutter tipping over on to him several weeks ago, was able to come to Morris last week and spend a couple of days with his sister, Mrs. D. C. Wanser. He is recovering very slowly.

The position of Republican postmasters is a trifle shaky now. We will have to wait and see whether changes will be found necessary in those offices under the civil service. No doubt but Democrats enough can be found to fill all these offices.

A couple of members of the U. S. Geological Survey department were in this vicinity last week making corrections in the elevations of this quadrangle as previously and at different times made by surveyors under Messrs. Cooke and Cummin.

Treasurer Shaw has had a safe put in the County Treasurer's office at Cooperstown. Heretofore the valuable papers and cash on hand of the County Treasurer's office have been kept in a tin box. It was high time a safe was purchased for that office.

The $50,000,000 which the State was voted to bond for at the last election has already been apportioned among the counties. Otsego's share for new State roads is figured at $979,503. Hope Morris and Laurens will get a part of it and build that proposed road through West Laurens to Oneonta.

Rev. F. G. Leonard, pastor of the Morris Universalist church, occupied the pulpit of the Gilbertville Presbyterian church Sunday evening, Nov. 9th, at a union service. His topic was "God and His Universe." The Journal says: "Many kind words of appreciation are heard for Mr. Leonard's discourse."

Owing to his continued ill health Clayton Apin has been obliged to give up his farm below the village, which is for sale and he and his family have moved to A. N. Crutten's, Mrs. Apin's father. Universal sympathy is extended Mr. Apin, who is afflicted with locomotor ataxia, and he is a young man, too.

Dr. F. E. Tower, president of the State Law and Order League, gave two addresses in Morris last Sunday. The doctor is arousing public sentiment that will back up our county officials in their enforcement of law, especially the excise law. Every law-abiding citizen ought to cast his influence for the judge and district attorney in the prosecution of law breakers.

The property bought last spring by John Harris on Water street has undergone so many repairs and improvements that the place is not recognized as the same one he bought. The house having been transformed into a pleasant residence he is now at work on the barn which he is enlarging and changing into a fine barn and stable. Forty-two years ago that place was the home of the Carpenter family, while their new home was being built, (the house occupied by O. Raley and family). Our Water street neighbors then were James Little, George Hall, William Palmatier, John B. Holdridge, Chas. H. Martin, et al., and Joseph Mott. All now passed away but the Holdridges who live in Oneonta.

NOTICE TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

A notice received by the Chronicle last week has "set the screws" to us in a way that we cannot escape. By a sworn statement we are compelled to go over our subscription list and state the number of our subscribers who are in arrears more than one year. On these we must pay one cent a week to the postoffice department if we continue sending them the paper. Of course this is impossible and after Dec. 1st the paper now being sent to such subscribers will be stopped.

We call this action of the Postoffice Department an unwarranted and despicable invasion of private rights—but it is one of the many other instances of too much government that we have to submit to.

Will our subscribers who are in arrears and to whom we shall send statements as fast as possible help us in carrying out the Department's demands not to lose by it?

E. E. CARPENTER.

ACCEPTS STATE POSITION.

Burr Tillson of this town, who at his graduation from Cornell became head farmer on Col. Sanger's estates at Sangerfield, and went from there to a large stock farm near Boston which he has managed the past two years, has accepted the position of State Agent for Clinton county with headquarters at Plattsburg. His duties will be advisory with the farmers of that county, and his services will be at their disposal for advice, counsel and conference in connection with all lines of farm work and stock raising and breeding. It is a comparatively new position, and one which the Government has tried out in different parts of the State and obtained excellent results. A farmer with a run-down farm thus gets the advice and actual help for a year or longer of an expert in the kind of practical knowledge he wants.

Mr. Tillson is in Washington for a few days this week and will go to Plattsburg to assume his new duties next week.

NEW STATE ROADS.

Supervisor Backus is looking after the State road interests for Morris. Supervisors Hand of Laurens, Kilkenny of Oneonta and Backus of Morris have petitions already in for a road from Morris village to Oneonta city limits, and Mr. Backus puts in a separate one to run a road through the village of Morris to connect the Morris-Gilbertville road with the Morris-Oneonta road.

MASONIC.

Messrs. Merton Porter, F. H. Isbell, B. D. Phillips, A. I. Winn, Lee Starr and Chester Backus represented Tiederrah lodge at Oneonta lodge last night, the occasion being Past Master's night and the visit of the District Deputy Grand Master. A banquet was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star after lodge.

The A. M. S. will hold a social at the High School building this Friday evening. All are cordially invited. A play will be given and supper will be served.

N. Melnick, the well-known seller of ladies ready-to-wear garments, has some interesting figures in his ad. on 2d page, from his New Berlin store.

Potter Bros. have their complete stock of fall and winter goods now in. It is attractive and desirable.

William Chubbill raised a 17-pound turkey this year.

COUNTY NEWS AND NOTES.

Shepard & Mead of Oxford, have 1,000 white Leghorn Pullets.

Over 2,500 hunter's licenses have been issued in Otsego county this year.

Dr. Nichols of Worcester while hunting in the Maine woods shot a bull moose.

It is understood that the Beech-Nut Packing Co. of Canajoharie is planning to erect a branch plant at Toddsville. Since Sept. 15 the daily shipments of sauer kraut from Phelps, Ontario county, have averaged seven car loads.

A pond was recently drained at Cherry Valley and from it were taken 30 bushels of carp. Some of the fish weighed 40 pounds each.

Next Monday Rev. F. O. Belden and Harlow Parsons will begin a series of evangelist meetings in the Baptist church at Oneonta.

Former County Clerk W. Scott Root has been elected vice-president of the Cooperstown National Bank, in place of the late Dr. Siver.

Earl Frite and Frank Burnside of Oneonta have gone to Bath to enter the aviation school there and learn to manipulate flying machines.

The country's crop of turkeys is said to be very short this fall. There are a good many in Otsego county and they will bring big prices.

During the five weeks ending Nov. 9th Goodell & Howe shipped forty-four carloads of potatoes from the Worcester station, a total of 28,600 bushels.

Charles Brightman has sold his farm at West Laurens of 75 acres to Carl Petersen of Chadsfort, Pa., who takes possession January 1st. Consideration $1,800.

William Huggins of Roscoe who bought eggs and poultry and paid for them in worthless checks has been sentenced to 18 months in the Federal Prison at Atlanta, Ga.

The mumps have been depleting attendance in the Edmeston and New Berlin schools. Last week twenty pupils were absent from one room in the New Berlin school.

The Freeman's Journal says that a man applying for citizenship papers at Cooperstown was asked to name the President of the United States, and he named "Jim Byard."

H. M. Sackett of New Berlin has bought of Fred Whitmore the Arnold bungalow for $3,050—about one-half the price for which the whole manor property was bid off at the recent auction.

George E. Hawley, a prominent and long-time resident and business man of South New Berlin, died Nov. 8th. He was a veteran of the Civil War and had an acquaintance extending beyond his home town. His wife survives him.

A Men's Club has been organized at South New Berlin, with a view to a better moral and christian status in the community. Following are the officers: Rev. L. E. Wheeler, president; T. B. Parker, vice-president; E. W. Hovey, secretary and treasurer.

Chauncey W. Hopkins, for seventy-two years a resident of Edmeston, and for over fifty years a leading business man of that village, died Nov. 8th, following an illness of five months. He was a deacon in the Baptist church, had served 26 years as Sunday school superintendent, was vice-president of the Edmeston Bank, and head of the hardware firm of C. W. Hopkins, Son & Co.

Scrimping and saving money for years, Mrs. E. D. Bentley, of Catskill accumulated $789.95, her bank being a discarded parlor stove in which she hid her fund from her husband. She was pleased to surprise him some day by placing $1,000 in his hand as a birthday gift to apply on the purchase of a house and small farm. But while she was absent on a visit the weather became chilly and Bentley dragged on the stove, set it up and started a roaring fire in it to take the chill off the "best" room. Now Mrs. Bentley has a nucleus of another fortune in the shape of a few silver and copper coins fused in a solid mass.

A DANISH INVASION.

One of our town-of-Laurens subscribers was in our office the other day, and in conversation with him we were surprised to hear of the number of Danes who had recently bought farms in that town. Several years ago John Huller, a Dane, bought the Erastus Hillsinger farm on the hill back of Brewster's Mills, and largely through him six other Danes, young and vigorous men, have bought farms as follows: One the Kelsey farm near Butts' Corners, one another farm of Mr. Kelsey on the old road back of the Brewster Mills, one the Jesse Ferguson farm below West Laurens, one the Charles Brightman farm at West Laurens, one the Walter Bunn farm on top of the hill west of Laurens village, and one the Frank Rous farm adjoining John Huller.

Mr. Huller reports ten or twelve more Danes on the way, who will quite likely within the coming year settle some where in the same vicinity.

We are told that these people are thrifty, hard working, common-sense young men, take hold of farming with a vim and give promise of making desirable citizens and successful farmers. Some of them have been in the West and some in the South, but in both places find land prices too high for them, and so they are settling in York State where good farm lands are held by the owners at $20 to $25 per acre.

OUR STATE ROAD.

All of the men employed on the State road through this valley were laid off Saturday, and work stopped for the season. Even the two patrolmen were taken off. From all that we can learn the so called "re-surfacing" which has been under way for several weeks is not a success. It may have some merit, but in the main it is another experiment that will be of no permanent benefit to the road. We are told that the original plan for the work called for trap rock, but this being hard to get the plan was modified and gravel substituted. We understand that the work is to be completed next season and that different material will be used.—Journal.

ANNUAL PARISH GUILD SUPPER.

The annual Parish Guild supper will be held in the Parish House on Thursday evening of this week. Supper served from 5:30 until all are served. Price 30 cents. Everybody invited.

The Examiner, a leading newspaper of the Baptist denomination, has passed into new hands and is to become more than ever before a necessity to its readers. The new editor is Dr. Curtis Lee Laws, the eminent Brooklyn pastor, who will be associated with Revs. Thomas J. Villers and Charles F. Ralston, while Homer D. Brookins, an experienced newspaper man, is the office editor. The friends of the paper look for great advancement in its usefulness. Every Baptist family should be a subscriber.
