

The Philadelphia Inquirer New Jersey SECTION SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1966

Wenonah Rebuffs Great Society Rescue From Poverty

THE "Great Society" swung into this quiet Gloucester county community like that gallant knight on TV, ready to aid poverty with the shining lance of Federal money.

They planned the meeting before announcing a meeting at Wenonah Methodist Church on Oct. 28—sponsored by the Woodbury Area Economic Opportunity Center "for the purpose of setting up a Local Community Action Committee."

"Well, there were not enough facts presented," Sacca said as he served customers in his shop. "We have our own assistance board and very few cases."

Mayor Anthony J. Sacca, a grocery store owner, looks over his borough of Wenonah. The community has refused to take part in a poverty program.

Anger Moves Mountains Citizen Volunteers Celebrate Victory in Route 90 Battle

Warfare among Burlington County citizens a few days before the election is threatened by the election hopes of Democratic Freeholder Fred R. Ballard.

Camden Officials Ready Battle Against Teacher Pay Rises

Camden may wage an all-out fight to prevent its teachers from getting another pay raise. A source close to Mayor Alfred B. Furex on Saturday said the city probably would urge voters to reject the school budget in February if it includes large salary increases.

Tax Relief Sought by Opponents

The pay hike teachers are demanding would make it impossible for the city to balance its budget after an appeal from the school board and a passed the second time, providing raises totaling $100,000.

'Nation of Picketers' Usurps Union Role

The homebrews legion of grocery stores makes it clear we are a nation of demonstrators. The women picket when they don't like prices and the teachers picket when they don't like their wages.

Democrat's Ad Rekindles Feud In Burlington

Warfare among Burlington County citizens a few days before the election is threatened by the election hopes of Democratic Freeholder Fred R. Ballard.

No Cemetery for Vietnam Vets

President Johnson told our address in Vietnam who have not been slaughtered yet. "I assure you I will never let you down." The President has already let the veterans down by closing the National Cemetery at Beverly to the brave men who were killed in action in a useless war 12,000 miles away.

Racing Defeat Urged To Prevent Havoc in Cherry Hill Traffic

The points will be running the track in New Jersey. The Democrats and the New Jersey State Club have their way at the polls Tuesday.

Cherish Slogans But No Facts

The current trend among candidates toward catchy slogans unsubstantiated by any facts or qualifications lowers even further the caliber of elections.

Study Repudiated Aides Fight Change on Long Beach

The three commissioners of a Long Beach township would not accept a study they were not set up to do. The township board will vote on Tuesday.

Election Analysis At a Glance

FREE is a crucial act. A Justice of Township's Board - Falls over at 7 P. M. close R.P. REGISTERED VOTERS - 120,225. There is no Republican Democratic break down. SENATE - Republican Warren W. Wilson '65. HOUSE - Republican Warren W. Wilson '65. REPRESENTATIVES - Current group: 11 Democrats, 4 Republicans. SENATE - 1967 - 11 Democrats, 4 Republicans. HOUSE - 1967 - 11 Democrats, 4 Republicans.

Piarulli Name Is Hurdle for Hunt, Too

Sen. John E. Hunt, a Republican running for Congress from the 1st district, "so the independent vote is extremely important."

'Mike' Helps Solve Pronunciation Issue

MIKE PIARULLI has a problem. People just can't pronounce his name. Even the people who manage to say it have trouble remembering it.

Senator Sets Sights On Independent Vote

But this is the year when party lines are going by the boards and the voters—including many registered Democrats—are going to vote for a Congress that's not run by the President.

Surfing Contest Begins Nov. 25

The Greater Wildwood Surfing Club will hold its annual surfing contest on the Thanksgiving weekend beginning Nov. 25.